TWINS, TRIPLETS BLOOM AT MARIGOLD

They grow 'em healthy, happy, and in quantity out Marigold way, as Joe Ross, principal of new school, proves with display of twos and threes. Adding to the general joy and confusion of teachers, are twins Joap and Nony Hilborne, nine; triplets Michael, Ricky and Webbie, six; twins Mathew and Leonard Mannix, also six. Parents tell them apart—can you? (Times Photo by Bill Halkett.)

'Stop Your Pushing' Ike Warns China

DIEFENBAKER 'ENCOURAGED'

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said of President Eisenhower's Far East statement he takes "encouragement from the fact that direct talks between the United States and Communist representatives are expected to begin soon in Warsaw."

"I earnestly hope that the Chinese Communists will respond to the president's suggestion for peaceful settlement, for it would be catastrophic if they would frustrate them by further aggressive action."

Air Drop Considered For Quemoy

TAIPEI (AP)—Nationalist Chinese commanders today wrote off as ineffective American-escorted convoys to besieged Quemoy.

The continued success of Communist China's mainland artillery in driving away the Nationalist supply ships before they could unload raised the possibility of air drops to the off-shore islands.

Speculation also arose that the Nationalists would make air attacks on the Red siege guns 12 or 15 miles away from Quemoy.

The biggest barrage so far of the war in the Formosa Strait — 57,746 Communist shells in 5 1/2 hours — Thursday forced two Nationalist supply ships off Quemoy beach before they could unload more than a small part of their cargo. Reporters on the scene reported at least 40 Nationalist soldiers were wounded.

Thirteen ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet which had escorted the convoy from the Pescadore islands remained three to 12 miles off the beach, in line with U.S. policy not to incur the risk of a shooting duel with the Communists.

RCAF Pilot Killed

WINNIPEG (CP) — Sqdn. Leader Joseph Guerin, 30, of the RCAF station at Macdonald, Man., was killed today when his Sabre jet crashed while landing at the base.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday night told Communist China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight.

Immediate congressional reaction to his White House address was strongly favorable. Nationalist China, which the United States has sworn to defend, was certain to applaud. But it remained to be seen whether China and Russia—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand-in-hand"—would accept his warning.

Peiping Thursday unleashed the heaviest artillery barrage yet on the blockaded offshore island of Quemoy. Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a rally of 100,000 cheering Russians at

No Fighting 'Just for Quemoy'

But the issue, he said, is not the defence of the tiny islands. He pledged: "No American boy will ever be asked by me to fight just for Quemoy."

The issue, he said, is: "Shall we take the position that, submitting to threat, it is better to surrender pieces of free territory in the hope that this will satisfy the appetite of the aggressor and we shall have peace?"

Contending the answer is no, the president said the free world must fight if necessary for that principle.

The democracies tried appeasement at Munich and failed to prevent—in fact brought on—the Second World War, he said, and "I never want to see that history repeated."

Negotiation 'Far Better Way'

The final third was conciliatory, a plea for Communist agreement to "a far better way than resort to force to settle these differences . . . the way of negotiation."

In rejecting "appeasement" and proposing negotiation Eisenhower went farther than State Secretary Dulles has in previous statements on both counts.

U.K. Backs U.S. Stand

LONDON (CP) — President Eisenhower's Far East statement won generally favorable reaction throughout the world today, and Russia, while reiterating its contention that the American policy is one of "military blackmail," was comparatively mild in its comments.

Britain said it supports Eisenhower's "no appeasement" declaration but stressed that it has given no promise to go to war over the offshore Chinese island of Quemoy.

A Soviet comment said the American president was obviously trying to calm public opinion at home, which was "deeply worried over the military provocation" against Red China.

Eisenhower met some unfavorable reaction at home from Democrat Wayne Morse (Ore.) who said Chiang Kai-shek is dragging the United States into war.

Britain's statement amounted to an expression of unreserved moral support for the American position while leaving itself the right to decide whether to go to the aid of the U.S. in the event of fighting with Red China.

The foreign office spokesman told correspondents here that Britain supported Eisenhower's view that no use of force should be made to alter the status of Quemoy and its neighbor Matsu.

MRS. ANN MERAW . . . heartbreaking secret

SPECIAL GOAL

Swim Feat To Bring Son Back

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Ann Meraw had a special goal in her epic conquest of Okanagan Lake this summer.

No athletic determination drove the 39-year-old Vancouver woman to complete the arduous, 55-mile swim.

Her boy, 17-year-old Billy Meraw, vanished May 6. He has never been reported again.

"We hoped publicity from the swim would bring him to contact us—if he could," Mrs. Meraw said today.

"That was our one big hope. But we heard nothing."

"I had tried to keep the thought from my mind. But now I'm sure that something must have happened to him."

Neither the Meraws nor Billy's friends believe the tall, wavy-haired youth simply ran away from home.

HOCKEY STAR FINED $1,000, NO JAIL TERM

VANCOUVER (CP) — National Hockey League star Murray (Bert) Olmstead was sentenced today to a $1,000 fine or three months in jail for assault causing bodily harm.

The fine was substituted by the court of appeal for the six-month sentence the 32-year-old hockey player was given by Magistrate N. J. Bartman when he was found guilty in police court of an attack June 28, on Ralph Rooney, a West Vancouver businessman.

Olmstead paid the fine immediately.

New Tory Plan To 'Marry' Party Factions

By PETE LOUDON, Times Political Reporter

VANCOUVER—A six-point reorganization scheme which would marry the provincial and federal divisions of the Progressive Conservative Party in B.C. was proposed here today.

But most delegates to the provincial convention had their minds only on the leadership race between incumbent Deane Finlayson and challenger Dr. D. F. Kidd.

Only 70-of an estimated 600 delegates turned out to hear organization chairman Alan F. Hackett outline the unification scheme.

The six points in the proposal are:

1. A single central office for both provincial and federal wings;
2. Automatic dual membership giving provincial card carriers membership in the federal association and vice versa;
3. A new division of ridings in local organizations;
4. A regular party newsletter;
5. Hiring of a professional public relations expert and possibly an organizer for the women's groups;
6. Inclusion of additional members from outlying districts on the provincial executive.

RETURN REBELS

The proposal is designed to return to the federal fold the rebel provincial ring which broke away years ago by cutting relations with former national leader George Drew.

Mr. Hackett said 30 new PC associations have been created in the province since April giving the party representation in all 42 provincial ridings now.

The session elected Mrs. R. Campbell, a Victoria delegate, as one of six vice-presidents of the B.C. Women's Progressive Conservative Association.

However, most delegates skipped the business session as campaigning between Finlayson and Kidd waxed strong. Delegates' bets still are evenly divided on who will be the next leader.

In all the excited fanfare accompanying the campaign, credentials officials are struggling with the mighty problem of ascertaining the qualifications of 550 of the 600 who turned out.

A total of 760 ballots, including proxies, are expected to be cast in the leadership election Saturday.

Food Monopoly Under Attack

TORONTO (CP)—A co-operative manager charged today that food handling in Canada is controlled by a few large monopolies.

C. M. Haapanen of the Consumers Cooperative Society Limited at Timmins, Ont., told the royal commission on price spread that "this concentrating of processing and distribution restricts competition."

Russian Guns Shell Jap Fishing Fleet

TOKYO (Reuters)—A small northern Japanese fishing fleet today radioed an urgent message for help after reporting it was being shelled and attacked by Soviet patrol vessels near Habomai Island, north of Japan.

Habomai Island was occupied by Soviet forces at the end of the Pacific war.

A radio report received in Tokyo this evening from Kishiro port, northern Japan, said three fishing vessels of the fleet had run aground near Suisho Island, a few miles off Habomai Island.

A coastguard spokesman in Tokyo said one of the vessels, the 30-ton Waksahio Maru, had sent a final message saying she was being boarded by Russian troops. The message asked for immediate aid.

Japanese patrol boats have left Kishiro port to investigate the attack.

WELCOME GIFT BY RACEHORSE

Sir Winston Churchill's horse, Welsh Abbot, led all the way today to win the big sprint of the Doncaster race course, the Portland Handicap.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM ALL OVER WORLD

Churchills Wed 50 Years

CAP D'AILE, France (Reuters)—Sir Winston and Lady Churchill today celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding.

The quiet celebration under Riviera sunshine was part of a vacation in this Mediterranean resort for the former prime minister and his wife Clementine.

First item on the program was going through hundreds of congratulatory letters and telegrams.

An extra secretary arrived here Thursday to handle the flood of messages pouring in to the Villa Caponcina, set in a tree-studded park by the sea.

Supreme Court's Order Unanimous

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ordered the Little Rock school board today to proceed "immediately" with racial integration of Central High School.

The unanimous decision put the next move squarely up to Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas.

He was given emergency powers by the state legislature to close any school ordered to integrate by a federal court.

Faubus said in Little Rock Thursday that he expected the high court to order immediate integration and that he "very likely" would try to use the new law to close down the school. But he did not say flatly that he would.

The court's decision was set forth in a three-paragraph order, limited strictly to legal aspects of the case.

It upheld the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in "setting aside a 2 1/2-year delay granted the school board by Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley on June 21."

Little Rock Girds For Crisis

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Top department of justice attorneys and a swarm of deputy U.S. marshals swung into action today to enforce the Supreme Court's decision that Central High School must admit negro students and to forestall any possible violence.

"That was not unexpected," Gov. Orval E. Faubus commented tersely when he heard the news.

He was in a meeting of the state elections commission, which he declined to stop. He said he will have no further comment until later this afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, head of the NAACP in Arkansas, was jubilant.

"It is our hope," he said, "that this decision will make it crystal clear to the Little Rock School Board that it can no longer deny children the right to a decent high school education because of race or color."

Snow, Frost, Heat Waves—Normal Here

The weather is "topic A" across the North American continent where Calgary racked up an all time 83 mark Thursday, snow fell on Labrador and northeastern Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick had frost, Saskatchewan looked for continuing autumn heat waves, and the New England States got a foretaste of winter with 24-degree temperatures.

But here in Victoria — of course — we are enjoying a normally mild September — of course.

Hardly worth mentioning are daytime temperatures in the high sixties, lots of sunshine varied with cream-puff clouds and occasional showers.

It's the same type of September which almost invariably comes to this part of the continent.

Forgery Suspect To Higher Court

Government cheque forgery suspect William Black, 32, of Vancouver, was committed for trial before a judge and jury at completion of a preliminary hearing in Saanich police court Thursday.

The sitting was the last of three which began Aug. 28 and included the hearing of 42 Crown witnesses and admission of 77 exhibits.

The accused made no statement at the hearing and called no witnesses.

LATE OCTOBER

Prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie said the trial would not likely begin before late October since the Fall Assizes beginning Oct. 9 already has a lengthy list, including a murder trial.

Black is charged with attempting to deal with a forged document, a government of Canada income tax refund cheque for $263.15, at the Saanich branch of the Bank of Montreal, 3450 Quadra, July 24.

He was arrested about 3.30 p.m. that day on the Malahat near Shawanigan Lake cut-off driving a car witnesses said was driven from near the bank after the cheque was presented.

Police said two men made a whirlwind tour of 18 Victoria area banks in about 3½ hours July 24, cashing $4,473.55 in phony government cheques and trying for a total $4,736.00 before banks were tipped off.

IDENTICAL

All cheques presented in the concentrated attack were identical, police said.

Among the pile of evidence presented were tiny fragments of cardboard lining material found in Black's Vancouver apartment with other material picked up in a bundled blanket below tidemark on the Fraser River.

There were 1,855 cheques entered as evidence found on the river bank, 499 of them made out to a value of $132,177.05, and the others in varying degrees of completion.

A credit reference card purporting to be from Western Acceptance Credit Corp. Ltd. was placed together from parts found in Black's apartment at 1821 Cypress and on the river bank.

FICTITIOUS

It was in the name of Richard Marshall, with an Oak Bay address, 2502 Brighton. There is no 2500 block on Brighton, and Mr. McKenzie said evidence would prove the address fictitious.

At the hearing's first session evidence was called to the effect that the cashed cheques and the cheque presented at the Saanich bank were in the name of Richard Marshall, 2502 Brighton.

Lynn Christie Thow, of Vernon, former teller at the Saanich Bank of Montreal, told the hearing he was at his desk at about 2.15 p.m. July 24 when a man of about 30 tried to cash a cheque at the teller's wicket.

RAN FAST

After about three minutes he walked out and Thow followed him to the door, the hearing was told. When the man was outside he began running fast, north on Quadra toward Cloverdale.

The accountant said the would-be cheque casher was headed toward a car parked in front of a meat store. It was a white 1957 Consul, with a bent licence plate, number 353-609. It had a leaking gas tank.

There was another man three-quarters out of the driver's seat who got in the car as the other man ran around and got in the passenger side of the front seat.

GOOD LOOK

Thow turned into a service station and watched from behind a gas pump, he said, and the car came past at a distance of 30-40 yards. He said he got a good look at the driver.

He pointed out Black in the court room as being the same man.

Police were called and meanwhile bank manager Melvin George Genge came up in his car and both men gave chase in it down Cloverdale towards Douglas.

At the first sitting the manager said his car followed at speeds around 90 miles an hour but did not catch up with the fleeing auto.

PICKED BLACK

About 3.30 p.m. that day the accountant said Det. Sgt. Joseph Armstrong of Saanich police picked him up and took him to Coldwood RCMP detachment where he picked Black from among four or five men.

He later identified the man.

Thow denied a suggestion by defence counsel James Proudfoot that Det. Sgt. Armstrong had pointed out Black to him.

Navy Denies Shelling B.C. Village

After a check Thursday, the RCN Pacific Command states it is convinced shells reported falling Tuesday at or near Roberts Creek could not have been from naval guns.

The sound of three shells, one a mile inland of the village which lies between Sechart and Gibson's Landing, the others not far offshore, was reported by residents.

Units of the Second Canadian Escort Squadron were carrying out firing exercises in Georgia Strait on Tuesday.

CAREFUL CHECK

An official statement from the RCN Pacific command issued Thursday states that a careful check of the charts and gunnery records covering the ships' movement on that day has been completed.

The statement continues: "HMCS ships Skeena and Athabaskan carried out a surface shoot in the designated firing area 'NF' in the Straits of Georgia from 9.30 to 11.30 Tuesday; HMCS Cayuga had detached from the division and did not take part in this shoot."

The two ships were in a position 257 degrees true bearing, 5.25 nautical miles from Roberts Creek. Throughout the exercise the ships were firing to the west, in a direction away from Roberts Creek. There is, therefore, no possibility that any shells fell in the area of Roberts Creek, ashore or in the water within well over five miles, during the morning.

In the afternoon, HMCS Cayuga had rejoined the group. The three ships were operating in a position 255 degrees true bearing, 7½ to 8 nautical miles from Roberts Creek. There is a possibility that, on the final run, between 2.50 and 2.52 p.m., a shell could have landed in the sea off Roberts Creek, still within the designated firing area and at a distance of not less than 2 nautical miles south-westwards of Roberts Creek.

CPR Denies Seattle Workers Facing Layoff

A CPR spokesman today denied reports that two-weeks notice had been given all company dock employees at Seattle, indicating cancellation of service.

He said no such notice had been given.

He added that winter schedules on the Victoria-Seattle-Vancouver run had not yet been drawn up.

The winter service usually starts with the change-back to Standard Time, this year on Sept. 27.

Island Ratepayers Hit Freight Boost

Vancouver Island Ratepayers Association today sent a telegram to the federal transport board in Ottawa protesting any increase in railway rates.

The telegram signed by George Bonner, president; Russell Rice, treasurer; and Herb Watson, secretary, reads:

"Dear Sirs:—Do not forget that the Canadian National Railways was built and an election won in 1905 for the sole purpose of competition with the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. Therefore any joint appeal by these railways for increased rates is beyond the power of the transport board to deal with."

Mr. Bonner recalled that the 1905 election was won by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Liberal party.

"On election day I travelled by dog sleigh from Melville to

Doukhobors Ignore Forms

NELSON (CP)—Sons of Freedom, Doukhobors are showing little indication they intend to sign the provincial and federal governments' forms which could lead to their migration to Russia. No forms have yet been turned in to the government agent at Nelson.

Despite discussions which sect leaders held with provincial government authorities at Victoria and the two-day meeting which they had with members of the Russian embassy at Ottawa, no signs have yet been forthcoming to show that the group really intends to migrate.

Drug Suspect Nabbed

MONTREAL (CP)—Two RCMP officers left Montreal by air today for Vancouver where a man wanted since 1955 on a charge of trafficking in narcotics is being held. Vancouver police said William James Lucky Caney, alias Billy Manor was arrested for failing to pay a $5 parking fine.

Grenfell, Sask., through a blinding blizzard to cast my vote." Mr. Bonner said, "I can therefore claim to know what this election was about."

force, and upon that point we strongly support the American position."

Asked whether Britain considers the use of American convoys to protect Nationalist Chinese ships as the use of force, the spokesman said: "I should have thought that force was when you made things go bang."

The spokesman, answering a further question, said "no guarantee of U.S. support in the event of an attack on Hong Kong had been 'sought or given'."

On Formosa, Nationalist Foreign Minister Huang Shao Ku, said he was "deeply impressed" by Eisenhower's "far-sighted declaration" the real issue facing the world is "premeditated aggression engineered by both Soviet Russians and Chinese Communists."

RED CHINA SILENT

No official reaction came immediately from Communist China but the party newspaper Peiping People's Daily said today the United States should ease the dangerous situation in the Formosa Straits with "deeds not words."

In Japan, the opposition Socialist party called for the withdrawal of Nationalist troops from Matsuo and Quemoy and objected to "military intervention" by the United States.

In Paris the ring-wing L'Aurore said that Eisenhower "deemed it necessary to address the American people because he felt perfectly well that United States policy in the 'strait crisis' gave rise to serious objections and contradictory debates."

fight for the offshore Nationalist islands—when he declared: "It is as certain as can be that the shooting which the Chinese Communists started on Aug. 23 has as its purpose not just the taking of the island of Quemoy. It is part of what is indeed an ambitious plan of armed conquest."

"This plan would liquidate all of the free world positions in the Western Pacific area and bring them under captive governments which would be hostile to the United States and to the free world."

"Thus the Chinese and Russian Communists would come to dominate at least the western half of the now friendly Pacific Ocean..."

"I must say to you very frankly and soberly, my friends, the United States cannot accept the result that the Communists seek. Neither can we show, now, a weakness of purpose—a timidity..."

But almost in the next breath Eisenhower emphasized he feels duty-bound "not to make absolute advance commitments, but to use my judgment according to the circumstances of the time."

NEGRO YOUTH HELD IN MURDER CASE

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 18-year-old Negro has been picked up in Fawnville, Va., for questioning in the killing of Dr. Melvin Nimer and his wife, Lou Jean, the New York World-Telegram and Sun reported today.

The couple's eight-year-old son, Melvin Dean, is under psychiatric examination after allegedly telling police that he killed his parents in their bed with a kitchen knife.

'Bard of Yukon, Robert Service Dies at Age 84

LANCIEUX, France (CP) — Robert W. Service, whose brisk and bawdy verse still speaks for the Yukon sourdoughs who moiled for gold more than half a century ago, died Thursday night at 84 in his villa on the coast of Brittany.

A heart attack was the apparent cause of death. Several weeks ago he became ill with what appeared to be the flu and confined to bed. His wife was with him when he died.

France was Service's home for a major part of his life—and he has expressed the wish to be buried in the area where he died—but his works have linked him permanently with the history of the Canadian northland.

For all his personal adventures, and he had many in his later years, in the Yukon he was a young, retiring bank employee who never took an active part in the territory's rough, lusty life.

CHRONICLED GOLD RUSH

But, more important, he became the chronicler of the gold rush days, winning the title of "Bard of the Yukon" with a series of books that included Bar-Room Ballads, Songs of Sourdough and his best-known novel, The Trail of '98.

Service was born in Preston, England, on Jan. 16, 1874, one of 10 children of Scottish parents. He gave up a bank job to sail steamer to Canada "for I was not satisfied with a hum-drum existence."

He was 20 when he set out for Canada. After working on a farm at Duncan, B.C., he moved to the United States and returned to Vancouver Island in 1901, taking a job in Victoria in the Canadian Bank of Commerce three years later. After a few months he was transferred to Kamloops, B.C., by the bank and in 1905 to another branch in Whitehorse.

He made his way to the Klondike gold fields and began contributing verse to the Dawson Star. In response to the editor's request, he wrote a poem with local atmosphere, starting after dinner one evening and finishing before 5 a.m. It was The Shooting of Dan McGrew.

He wasn't satisfied with it, however, and put the manuscript in a desk drawer. A month later he wrote The Cremation of Sam McGee.

FAME CAME QUICKLY

Some months after that he decided to send the verses to Toronto where they were published and became an almost immediate sensation.

It was from a bank ledger that Service got the name Sam McGee, a businessman who died in Beiseker, Alta., in 1940.

WAS NEWSPAPER MAN

In 1912, after bringing out his third book of verse, Rhymes of a Rolling Stone, he left for Europe where he worked for a few months as a war correspondent in the Balkans for the Toronto Star.

He married Germaine Bourgoin of Paris in 1913. During the First World War he was an ambulance driver for the American Red Cross and later an intelligence officer in the Canadian Army.

It was during an illness that he wrote Rhymes of a Red Cross Man, a collection of war poems that headed the non-fiction best-seller lists in 1917 and 1918.

Service, who estimated his books sold between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 copies, was living in Brittany in 1940 and escaped when the Germans bombed the town of Rennes, killing 4,000 people.

WROTE AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Later that year the Services visited Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and Vancouver before settling in Hollywood, where he wrote his autobiography, "Ploughman of the Moon".

After the war he returned to Monte Carlo, although he visited Canada again in 1946, where he saw his three brothers, Stanley, an Ottawa doctor; Alexander, a retired electrical engineer, and Peter, a second-hand bookshop proprietor, both in Vancouver.

Service was in Vancouver in 1948 to meet many old friends from the Yukon of 1898 who gathered for the 50th anniversary of the famous gold rush.

Service, whose villa is on a street named in his honor, once estimated his rollicking lines in "Dangerous Dan McGrew" brought him some $500,000.

In all, he wrote more than 1,000 verses "Don't call them poems," he would say; six novels and a two-volume autobiography.

POPE DEFENDS USE OF DRUGS, TRANQUILIZERS

VATICAN CITY (Reuters) — Pope Pius has told doctors that they may sometimes use narcotics in moderate doses to allay the pain of dying, although this may hasten death.

He also defended tranquilizers as a "precious help" for people under nervous tension as long as they were not used excessively to avoid emotional problems.

Addressing an international group of researchers attending a meeting in Rome the Pope said:

"If no religious or moral obligation is against narcotics and there is a serious reason for using them, they may even be given to the dying if they agree to it."

Chiang Dragging U.S. Into War Morse Charges

PORTLAND (AP) — Chiang Kai-shek is dragging the United States into a war with Red China, Senator Wayne Morse (Dem., Ore.) said here Thursday night.

If the war comes, Morse said, it will be because of Chiang's personal aspiration and not because of any threat to this nation's security.

Morse said the leader of Nationalist China is a dictator. "The United States is being dragged into a war through the back door by a dictator, a Chinese war lord who was driven off the mainland of China," Morse said.

Morse made the remarks in an address to 400 persons at a Democratic party rally here.

The senator's speech came after President Eisenhower said Thursday night that the United States must not appease Red China in the Formosa Strait.

Said Morse: "If we get into a war with China over Quemoy it will be on behalf of Chiang Kai-shek's personal aspirations and not because of any threat to American security."

Warning, Offer and Plea

IN HIS BROADCAST ADDRESS last night President Eisenhower brought the world up to date on his thinking in regard to Formosa and came the nearest so far to a definite commitment.

He has long held that if a Communist attack on Quemoy appeared to be the prelude to an attack on Formosa, then the United States would intervene to defend the former. Last night that "if" appeared to have been dispensed with. The President implied that any invasion of Quemoy would be countered with force since obviously, he said, this could only be interpreted as a first step in aggression against Formosa.

"Let us suppose that Communist China conquered Quemoy," Mr. Eisenhower said. "Would that be the end of the story? We know it would not be the end of the story."

He recalled Munich and other appeasements of Hitler, and pointed out that such action by the democracies had only postponed war, not avoided it.

Formosa was only another Red Chinese link in the aggressive chain of Korea and Vietnam—"aggression that poses a clear danger to the United States and the free world"—the President declared, and the United States will make "no retreat in the face of armed aggression."

No head of state could deliver a clearer warning that the United States will fight if Red China invades Quemoy. The President's words can be interpreted in no other way.

This was only part of the address, however. Both before and after his warning Mr. Eisenhower affirmed that his country will never resort to force while there is still a chance for negotiation.

This raised the question of the proposed talks between the U.S. and Peiping ambassadors in Warsaw, talks which apparently await the return of the latter to the Polish capital. The fact that Peiping itself is willing to confer is highly significant.

Obviously the President hopes that these negotiations will result in a settlement other than by armed conflict. Equally obviously he must have some alternative proposal to place before the Peiping representative. What such a compromise offer might be must await the meeting, but the inference to be drawn is that the Communist Chinese might acquire Quemoy in some manner other than by force, provided face was saved all round. The Quemoy group, after all, lies less than 10 miles off the mainland; Formosa is 100 miles away.

In such a peaceful settlement the United States would have the support of its Western allies. The latter, including Canada, have been very cool toward participation in any war to safeguard Quemoy and it was obvious that when he appealed for "unity" in the face of the current crisis Mr. Eisenhower was speaking not only to his countrymen but to his continental and overseas friends.

It must be admitted that the position of the United States is more difficult than that of Britain, France or Canada. The U.S. has long been committed to support of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. If Washington continues that support it faces the possibility of war with Red China—and Russia has said it will actively support its Communist ally.

But if it abandons the Nationalist Chinese leader in his almost impossible position, Washington will be branded throughout the Far East as an ally that cannot be depended on when the chips are down.

Such an American dilemma makes it easy for the Communists to launch threats, believing that the United States must be in a state of indecision and that the trans-Atlantic alliance would be faced with a sharp division on Far Eastern policy.

President Eisenhower's vigorous words last night were clearly designed to discourage any Communist beliefs on the first count. Whether they have increased the threat of future problems on the second count remains to be seen. The answer at this moment appears to lie in what transpires at Warsaw.

A Great Step Forward

FORMAL OPENING TOMORROW of the centennial wing of the Greater Victoria Art Gallery marks the beginning of an important new phase in the life of this institution and of the city. Both as an addition to the facilities of the Art Gallery and as the chief centennial project for this community, the building represents a widespread recognition of the need for such accommodation and a very worthy effort to meet that need.

Tomorrow's ceremony follows logically on the impetus given the art gallery movement in 1951 when Miss Sara Spencer made a generous gift of the Moss Street house and property now occupied by the organization. Previous to that the work had been carried on somewhat precariously in rented store premises.

The converted mansion served well, and will continue to do so, but increasing public interest in the gallery brought the need for more room. There was, too, the problem of fire protection for valuable exhibits. The major travelling shows of the National Gallery of Canada and international exhibits are sent only to fireproof galleries. The lack of such accommodation prevented Victoria from receiving these paintings and works of art.

It also made it impossible to show the large collection of Emily Carr's works, which now will be shared with the Vancouver Art Gallery. In addition the programs of potters, weavers, children's art classes and other activities were being hampered by cramped quarters.

Many of these problems have now been met by provision of the new wing—which itself is only the first step in a long-range plan for still wider facilities to meet the community's growing needs.

The public will find much of value in the gallery's work and will be well advised to accept the organization's invitation to the formal ceremonies tomorrow and the week-long "open house" to follow. Some 30,000 visits were recorded last year to painting exhibits, meetings, film showings, classes and other events. Many more are expected in the days to come, as Greater Victoria enters into full use of an institution in which all may take pride and from which all may derive benefit.

Basic Causes and Cures

AN AMERICAN UNIVERSITY professor says vandalism in schools is not due to delinquency but to boredom. He says he has been in schools where the juvenile delinquency rate was high, but vandalism—that is destruction of school property—was almost entirely absent.

He has arrived at the conclusion that children turn to destruction and defacement when they feel that the teachers do not take enough interest in them. Other reasons given are lack of recreational facilities, revenge against a teacher and the urge to win student admiration.

On this basis the remedy for such behavior on the part of school children appears obvious. But the teacher's interest in the pupil should be accompanied by greater parents' interest in the child—an interest extending not only to social participation in the child's activities but also to financial responsibility for the child's actions. With the latter link well established, vandalism would inevitably decline.

Much Ado About Zero

THE NORTHWEST DIGEST, A Quessnel publication devoting itself to the interests of the northerly part of the province, takes up the gauntlet for Dawson Creek in a somewhat confusing bout with the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

The Digest lights the fiery cross to rally the northland against George Warren's alleged attempt to steal from Dawson Creek its "Mile Zero." Dawson Creek has patented the sign as the starting point of the Alaska Highway.

In what must surely be the sincerest form of flattery, Mr. Warren desires a similar sign for Victoria, denoting the start of the Trans-Canada Highway.

We shudder, literally, to think of Victoria laying claim, to the zero particularly suitable for Dawson Creek. The capital is the city of sunshine and flowers. It also lays claim to being terminus of the Trans-Canada Highway. It has not, does not and will not lay claim to being the terminus of the Alaska Highway. The zeros associated with the latter are foreign to Victoria's nature.

With Dawson Creek the capital has no quarrel, certain that friendly and warm hearts beat under the wraps of its inhabitants.

Why quibble about zero, which is nothing—nothing at all?

Word to the Wise

THERE has long been a saying that if any person, no matter who, received a sudden message saying "Fly! All is discovered!" he would immediately pack and leave town.

The rather cynical point made is that everyone has a skeleton in his closet, everyone hides some fact in his life which, if known, would cause his ruin. The observation might also be interpreted as showing that to every man or woman a message can have special significance. For one individual a few muttered words might have no importance whatever; for another they might carry a world of meaning.

For instance, the famous message conveyed by David Copperfield, "Barkis is willin'," meant little to anybody but Peggotty. To her it had a great deal of meaning.

It is often intriguing how this principle of private significance works. A newcomer enters a crowded auditorium, for example, while the audience is waiting for the performance to begin. He catches the eye of a man in the throng and gives a slight nod. The man immediately rises and leaves the hall.

That nod meant something to him, nothing to anyone else. Was he called out to move his car, answer the phone, surrender himself to a policeman, have a quick drink in the cloakroom, pay the ten dollars he had borrowed last week, collect a five from the week before, rush to the hospital?

Only he and the nodder would know. Of all that throng, only the one man could interpret the nod and act on it. (Unless of course it was a case where the nod went astray and the two men discovered in the lobby that they had each made a mistake.)

Happy News

Such an esoteric communication was made the other day in Geneva at a scientific convention. A man waiting in a cafeteria lineup received a brief message, just a few words, and went into an ecstasy of delight. He broke from the line, danced a jig of joy, and beamed on all his neighbors.

He had just received word to the effect that a pi meson had been observed to decay directly into an electron and two neutrinos instead of going through the intermediate stage of a mu meson plus one neutrino.

If you heard that news would you jump for joy? It probably wouldn't mean a thing, and apart from a slight frown of wonderment you would pay no attention. But to this one man it meant a great deal.

It meant that his scientific theory on the nature of the fundamental particles of matter had been made complete; experiments which had been going on for years unsuccessfully had suddenly broken through and proved his point.

For the layman, of course, that point is still obscure. But a lot of folks would give the same reaction if someone whispered to them the cryptic words that Albatross had won in the third at Sussex Downs.

Sometimes it doesn't pay to receive these messages designed only for a few ears. There is, for instance, the old gag of the hard-boiled army sergeant who tells the squad of new recruits that he wants all college graduates to fall out. He may even mutter something about wanting a man to handle important papers.

With thoughts of avoiding a lot of parade ground drill and other unpleasantness the graduates step smartly forward—only to learn they are wanted to go around the parade ground and pick up all the waste paper.

Better in such a case to let the message go by, to remain anonymously among those to whom the message has no meaning.

Over His Head

Very often it is the wiser course to do that. The teacher's stern remark: "Whoever threw that chalk step up to the front of the room," is obviously addressed to only one pupil. For only one child in the classroom has it significance. But he is well advised to tune it out, to look innocent, perhaps even to glance around at his fellows in apparent quest of the culprit. It doesn't always pay to catch everything thrown your way.

In politics, of course, the opposite holds true. For every man for whom the nation calls, a dozen or more will be ready to answer, to consider that the call was addressed to them. Only the final word of the polls can weed them out and convince all but one of them that their hearing was too acute.

And the winner might find it expedient, having heard and answered the call, to become deaf to further calls—calls such as "why don't you do this," "why don't you do that," or "why don't you get out?"

LITTER-BUGS

The scattering of litter continues to be a major problem. It is true that there is far more litter to scatter in this age of hygienically wrapped goods when everything seems to have a remarkable weight of cardboard and paper surrounding it. What concerns me is the apparent lack of interest of the average Scouter and, in fact, some of them contribute to the scattering. This is one of those things where I feel the Scout Movement ought to set an example to the rest of the general public, and I hope that one day we will do that.

—John Thurman in "The Scouter"

DENNIS THE MENACE

"IMAGINE SOMEBODY WANTING TO TAKE AN AFTERNOON NAP?"

From Our Files

Sept. 12, 1896—Two passengers on the Columbian brought out what will probably be the last shipment of gold this season, and it will likely be in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Sept. 12, 1918—London: Russian peasants who revolted against the Bolshevik government a few days ago are reported to have entered Petrograd and severe fighting is proceeding in the streets.

Sept. 12, 1938—A drop from eight and nine cents on the standard 16-ounce loaf of bread to seven and eight cents was announced in Victoria today.

As Our Readers See It

Anomaly

Is justice really blind? She permits the "Great Powers" to allocate to themselves thousands of square miles of the high seas, wherever and whenever they choose to do so, giving all and sundry dire warnings not to pass an arbitrary specified boundary line—or else. No one must interfere while sea and air is being saturated by deadly radio-active substances.

On the other hand, when the smallest nation in the world claims the sole right over its coastal waters to the extent of 12 miles from shore, she is found guilty, and her little fishing fleet met with armed might. The one nation claiming the right to preserve its life in peace is guilty; other nations, spreading death, not guilty?

J. P. P.

Fine Them

It is encouraging to see that the city fathers have at long last awakened to the necessity of doing something about enforcing the by-laws.

Despite the appeal by the mayor, the filthy litter on the sidewalks and in the gutters continues.

Observation shows that the worst offenders in this respect are the "punk" type of individual who is too lazy to propel his carcass the few feet necessary to reach a rubbish container.

To this type of individual printed appeals are useless for the simple reason that most of them are too stupid or uninterested to read the papers, if they can read.

See them any evening parked in cars along the Yates Street curbs, throwing empty cigarette packages, etc., from the windows of the cars and, on occasion even emptying the ashtrays onto the sidewalk.

For this type there is only one thing they can understand and that is an appearance in the police court and a substantial fine.

The bus stops are also notoriously filthy although there are rubbish containers within a few feet.

The little tots are the least offenders, especially where their parents have enough pride to train them right.

SLEEPY VICTORIA.

Dismal Record

I agree that "The First Session" (editorial Sept. 6) revealed "the method, mind and character" of the Tory government. But what a revelation it was!

Mr. Diefenbaker ought to be a bit embarrassed. Never before did so little come from so much ballyhoo. The situation is a lot graver and much more serious than your editorial would have us believe. At a time when we need capable people running the country we have a field of second-raters.

This applies to external affairs just as much as to internal matters. It is time the voters took a good look at the Tory record. If we are going to accept the excuse that they are new at the game what case can ever be made for changing a government? The Diefenbaker team must be judged on its record. And it is a dismal record indeed. In my opinion they are ruining the country.

From my present status the most dismal failure of all was Labor Minister

Starr. On almost every occasion he was asked to speak he had to be bailed out by Mr. Diefenbaker. He has done absolutely nothing about the unemployment mess. When he does speak he is vague and ambiguous.

One day under question Mr. Starr had the gall to say to the Opposition that he hadn't heard any ideas from their side of the House on how to cope with the unemployment. How naive can the minister be? The minister responsible for national policy passing the buck to the Opposition!

No wonder the unemployment situation is looking grim. Mr. Starr, like some more of his distinguished colleagues, ought to thank his lucky stars that the former government pursued sound economics and fiscal policies which provided him with a fat fund from which to shell out UIC payments. After the fund is depleted what then?

Frankly it is time Mr. Pearson and the CCF put their heads together so as to make sure that after the next election we'll have a government at least capable of providing and maintaining full employment.

UNEMPLOYED.

Rail Workers' Pay

I have read your editorial "Crisis in the Railways" and "At some point this means that the Government must resist the wage demands of the unions."

"In practical politics," the editorial says, "such resistance would require the highest kind of courage."

I am a section foreman, a member of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, and my pay per hour is $1.60 decimal 6. Two of the section men who work here get the top line rate of $1.38 decimal 6 per hour. The other one gets $1.35 decimal 8 per hour.

I would appreciate hearing from anyone who gets smaller wages per hour than we do, also from any member of the 15 non-operating unions who gets anywhere near $10 per hour as imagined by Mr. Partridge.

CLARENCE A. EMERY.

Bubble Bursts

Another bubble burst! No mental hospital for the capital of B.C.

How do they expect to have trained personnel if they don't train them?

Many orderlies in the hospitals do as much for male patients as a nurse does for females, so why not give them the proper course the same as nurses?

It is always the same—promises like pie crust, made to be broken. If it had not been for the hard work and kind generosity of the people of Victoria, who wanted to see little limbs grow sturdy and strong, to play like other children, the hospital for the crippled children would not have been built. If it had not been for the hard work and careful planning of Mayor Percy Scurrish, Point Ellice Bridge would not have been built. Government House was burnt down 18 months ago. They don't know if it will be ready to occupy for Christmas.

So it goes—for the capital of B.C. a broad-beaming smile, a little honey talk with promises of all good things in time, friends, if you are patient long enough. "I'm for ever blowing bubbles."

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Entangling Alliance

IT has become clear that the military actions of Red China around Quemoy have limited objectives, that they are strictly controlled and carefully calculated. After a two-week bombardment, the Red Chinese had proved that they could blockade Quemoy. They had forced Chiang's government to admit that without American intervention Quemoy with its large garrison was surrounded and lost. As a result, the President had been faced with a decision he himself had hoped not to have to make, and all the world, our own people included, have been made to see that we might have to go to war for a fiction, for the pretense that the island of Quemoy is necessary to the defence of Formosa.

Having scored these points—which illustrated Chiang's weakness and the American entanglement—Chou En-lai turned off the military pressure for some two days while he proposed negotiating with the United States. The President jumped at this chance to put off the horrid possibility of having to fight for Quemoy.

No doubt it will be argued that what caused Chou En-lai to propose negotiation was the decision taken at Newport by Mr. Dulles to fight for Quemoy. But to argue this way is, I believe, to misunderstand the fundamental character of the Red Chinese policy in respect to Chiang and in respect to the United States as an ally of Chiang.

When Red China says, as it does on every occasion, that it will "liberate" Formosa, it does not mean that it can and that it will invade and conquer Formosa.

It means that there will be a revolution in Formosa against Chiang or against his successor, and that Formosa will be taken out of the American sphere of influence in much the same way as Iraq was recently taken out of the British sphere of influence in the Middle East.

We, on the other hand, having no answer to this kind of development, have concentrated all our attention on defending Formosa against what cannot and what will not happen—namely, the invasion and conquest of the island.

This is a military impossibility. The Formosa Strait is a hundred miles wide and the water is rough. Red China has no navy, the United States has a great navy, and the Chinese and Russian Communist leaders are no fools.

Why do we concentrate our attention on the fictitious problem of the defence of Formosa? Because the President has legal authority from Congress to defend Formosa, and everything Mr. Dulles wishes to do in the area—which is chiefly to keep up the morale of the Chiang regime—has to be justified as somehow related to the military defence of Formosa.

Thus, in Quemoy the real issue is not whether the Communists are to have the island as a stepping stone to the invasion of Formosa. Quemoy has nothing to do with the invasion of Formosa or with the defence of Formosa—except that Chiang has recklessly locked up a third of his army in Quemoy.

If he lost that army, the rest of his army, which is in Formosa itself, might overthrow him, and so Chiang has Mr. Dulles entangled in Quemoy. For if Quemoy is lost, the army is lost. If the army is lost, Formosa is lost. If Formosa is lost, southeast Asia is lost, etc., etc.

Without Truth

All this comes of founding a policy on untruths: on the untruth that the Red Chinese are planning the military conquest of Formosa, on the untruth that the offshore islands are related to Formosa, not to speak of the still bigger untruth that the real government of China is in Formosa, and that it will some day move back to the mainland.

American policy in eastern Asia has become a holding operation, a rear-guard action, centred upon Chiang's government in Formosa.

According to the official apologists, we have gotten ourselves into a fix where our influence and prestige in eastern Asia depend upon an old man who presides over a feeble government which has been driven off the mainland. So entangled are we that we are not allowed to consider among ourselves, much less to explore it publicly, what is to become of Formosa when Chiang departs.

The open discussion of such realistic possibilities, it is said, would demoralize Chiang's government. Thus our diplomacy in eastern Asia is paralyzed.

In the diplomatic contest with the Communist world Red China is able to act on the conviction that eventually Formosa will come to terms with the mainland. But we have no conviction about the future on which we can act.

Not Immortal

We are defending Chiang and we are depending on Chiang. But Chiang is not immortal. And Chiang will not let us talk about what might come after he goes. Thus we are unable to propose anything in the nature of a constructive policy. All we can do is to stand by Chiang until the day comes when there is no Chiang to stand by.

Our relations with Chiang are a classic example—the most far-reaching in our history—of an entangling alliance. Far from its being, as the official apologists say, indispensable to our prestige and influence, this entangling alliance is an enormous liability which, if it does not entangle us in war, is surely and steadily losing us the respect and confidence of our friends.

Time On My Feet

YEARS ago I counted among my close friends a young man who placed an almost Mexican valuation on time. To him its passage was that of a petal floating gently down a slow stream.

You'd make arrangements to meet him at a particular hour. He'd saunter along 30 minutes late, with a sheepish grin and an easy explanation for his delay.

He'd move quickly only when a five-eighths snapped the ball to him on the three-quarter line in a rugby game—or on those rare occasions when he tried to find out how fast he could bring a big Buick over the snow-covered Malahat.

Still he had the personality which made it worthwhile waiting for him.

Then he went to live in Toronto. A year or two later he came to Victoria on a visit and compared tempos of the two cities. Toronto he disliked particularly because he found it a centre of wrist-watch watchers.

"You see people meeting briefly on the street. They exchange greetings. And then they shoot their forearms below their sleeve cuffs, look at their watches and hurry off to an appointment. There's no leisureliness about the place," he explained.

Several years later he came to visit Victoria again, met me on the street, talked for a while, shot his arm below his sleeve cuff and explained he had to hurry on to an appointment. Time makes its changes even in time.

I was thinking about my friend and the Victoria tempo the other evening as I stood from 6.30 to 7.15 in the vestibule of an eating establishment waiting for a table reserved for 6.30.

There is a unique kind of irritation and misery in the process of waiting to eat when hunger assails you. But if my misery loves company, I had it that evening. I think my

UN CORRESPONDENCE

Danger In Numbers

NEW YORK—A recent UN report states that world population may grow from its present 2.7 billion to 6 or 7 billion by the end of the century. If the present rate continues for 600 years, there will be only one square metre of living space for every person, and this living space would include Arctic waste, deserts and mountain tops.

This information, reported in an earlier column, brought a list of questions from a reader in Victoria:

What will be the distribution of the population in 1988? By race? By geographic area? By the yardstick of the world's natural wealth?

Will technological developments offset some of the effects of population growth or will there be a levelling off of standards of living throughout the world?

Has anyone hazarded a guess as to who will hold the balance of power in 1988? What history will be written in the next 30 years as a direct result of population pressures?

And the Victoria reader concludes by saying "The answers to these questions should be the subject of headlines today and not 30 years from now. It seems useless to bury our heads like ostriches under a mound of wheat and expensive cars hoping somehow the storm will blow by..."

I put these questions to one of the principals of the UN report, who stared at the ceiling for a few moments and said frankly he didn't know most of the answers. However, he did have estimates and guesses.

On the proportionate distribution of the world's population, Asia is expected to rise 45-minute wait was a record for the day, but the runners-up were close behind.

There have been other occasions in Victoria when I've seriously questioned the statement that they also serve who only stand and wait. At one time I frequented a dentist's office twice a year and counted on time there sufficient to let me get through the continued stories in Saturday Evening Post back issues. There again the delay followed specific appointments.

I hope I'm reasonable enough to understand that emergencies arise when a person cannot expect to be attended to on the dot.

It seems to me, however, that this manana influence tends to flourish a little too luxuriantly in Victoria. We're rather pleased with our reputation of avoiding, to some degree, the rat-race of modern life. We like to pride ourselves on a leisurely pace.

We point to the beneficial results of taking our time and still getting the job done. We say it helps to keep us healthy, reduces tensions, makes life more agreeable.

A philosopher, no doubt, would have employed the 45 minutes I spent standing in the eating establishment vestibule to good purpose. He would have made his assessments of the people standing with him, drawn profound conclusions from their apparent idiosyncrasies and profited from an opportunity to give three-quarters of an hour to contemplation when he had not expected to have that three-quarters of an hour to spare.

Some of us, though, aren't that philosophical. We do not profit from such leisure. And as far as finding in it a health-encouraging idleness—well, I'd hate to have undergone a blood-pressure reading at the time.

There is, of course, a remedy for this irritation. All a person has to do is stay away from places where appointments have an elasticity beyond his appreciation.

Seems like a good idea. Think I'll try it. Then I can waste time the way I want to waste it.

HOME GARDEN By HILDA BEASTALL

Check These Flowering Perennials

Here are a few of the many flowering perennial plants which will add color and interest to a partially shaded area of the garden.

Descriptions are necessarily brief, but any plant encyclopedia or garden book will carry a more complete description.

Dicentra spectabilis (bleeding heart), rosy pink, spring, one to two feet tall. Dainty grey-green foliage.

Astilbe japonica (sometimes called spirea by old-time growers), white to red, feathery plumes and fern-like foliage, 18 to 24 ins.

Anemone hepatica (fall anemone), pink or white, fall, two to four feet.

Thalictrum dipterocarpum (nial candytuft), white, spring, nine inches.

LONG SPURS Aquilegia (columbine), various colors, long spurs and large, open flowers, early summer, two to three feet.

Artemisia lactiflora (almond-scented mugwort), creamy white, late summer, four to five feet, fragrant.

Trollius (globe-flower), yellow or orange, early summer, nine to 12 inches.

Polemonium caeruleum (Jacob's-ladder), lavender-blue flowers with prominent golden anthers, late spring through summer, three to four feet, foliage attractive.

Tradescantia virginiana (spiderwort), oddly interesting with horizontal leaves jutting out beneath triangular blue flowers, summer, one foot.

Hosta (sometimes still called funkies, or plantain-lily), in any of its varieties. Foliage is large and ornamental, either deep green, grey-green, or green with cream splashes, flowers summer, lilac or white.

Primulas in variety, P. polyanthus, and the primroses and auriculas, spring flowering.

Meconopsis in variety. The most commonly grown is M. baileyi, the blue Tibetan poppy, sky-blue with golden anthers, early summer, three feet.

Cimicifuga racemosa (bugbane or Virginia snake-root), small white feathery flowers closely packed on a slender stem, late summer and fall, four to six feet.

Well cultivated and composted soil, with adequate water supply during dry weather will suit all these flowering plants.

The Day YOU Were Born

Barry William Pearce lives at 3185 Tillicum. He plays soccer with the Heaney team and is also a hockey player. Barry is in grade eleven at Mount View High School, and perhaps in time might become the "son" on his father's contracting business.

On the day he was born: Stalingrad continued to beat off repeated Nazi assaults and fierce and bloody fighting marked this major battle of the war. Winter was approaching and the first snows fell in the Caucasus, where Nazi forces had got to within 50 miles of the oil fields.

Captain Emanuel Throup, last surviving pupil of Sooke's first schoolhouse, celebrated his 76th birthday. The bearded Emanuel advised: "Keep your head cool by temperance, your feet warm by exercise, rise early, go to bed soon; if you are inclined to get fat, keep your eyes open and your mouth shut." Capt. Throup invented a gold rocker and went out on prospecting trips around Sooke.

A postal censor thought he had stumbled onto a spy ring when he opened a letter of instructions in code: K1, P5, St, etc. Yes, his wife told him: knitting instructions.

Bruce Hutchison joined the Wartime Information Board, which was in process of reorganization.

Wendell Wilkie arrived in Baghdad on his special mission flying-tour of Middle East countries.

"How Green was my Valley" was showing at the York Theatre.

"Tillie the Toiler" now in uniform thinks of all the pretty clothes she has worn in the past and remembers the compliments she received; then declares that she is proudest of all of her uniform—which is by the way, very short and form-fitting.

The date? Saturday, September 12, 1942.

WHAT HAPPENED THE DAY YOU WERE BORN?

If your birthday occurs within the next four weeks, send your name, address, and birthdate to "Eventful Birthdays," c/o The Times. The first one received for any day will be featured.

U.S. to Get 'Protection' At Big Trade Conference

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commonwealth's biggest trade and economic conference since 1932 will tread gently in the field of trade making sure no steps are taken which would harm the United States.

Experts, reviewing some of the background of the Montreal meeting to open next Monday, emphasized also:

1. The conference will be held in an atmosphere of world recovery and not recession.

2. Self-interest may be a guiding principle of newer Commonwealth countries attending, rather than pro-Commonwealth emotionalism.

3. A critical issue is India's lack of development funds. A system of expanded aid and development loans may be the vehicle for expanded Commonwealth trade, one of the conference aims.

4. The Canadian government is anxious to see Britain dismantle her remaining restrictions against Canadian goods. There is a view in Canadian circles that Britain no longer has any valid currency exchange reason for maintaining what is regarded here as "discrimination."

5. No non-Commonwealth observers have been invited to the talks, expected to run to Sept. 26, but the U.S. would be kept "closely informed" of various developments.

PROTECT U.S.
The experts indicated the 11-country partnership, meeting to find ways of expanding trade, has agreed on a general approach that no steps would be taken to harm the U.S., now moving towards a firm policy of freer trade.

In that regard, the Montreal meeting would show more differences than similarities with the 1932 Ottawa conference, when the Commonwealth took action to widen tariff preferences within the Commonwealth.

Strong Plea Made For Ship Contracts

City Council Wants Ottawa to Act; Shipyards May Close, Says Ramsay

A strong plea for a naval ship contract for local shipyards will be sent to Ottawa, city council decided Thursday.

ALD. AUSTIN CURTIS

Aldermanic Tiff Ends As Mayor Blows Whistle

Mayor Percy Scourrah Thursday used all his diplomacy to prevent a minor tiff between two aldermen from breaking out into a serious quarrel.

Ald. A. I. Curtis rose on a point of privilege to inform council he had served on public works committee. He defended his course of action in suggesting streamlining of public works budgeting to enable quicker starts each year.

His statement referred to a recent comment by public works chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow that Ald. Curtis should have discussed his suggestion with committee before bringing it up in council.

At the time, Ald. Edgelow had said that he resented the committee being bypassed by an alderman who had not served on public works and did not know its problems.

Thursday, Ald. Edgelow said he had not meant to be unkind but repeated his contention that Ald. Curtis should have discussed the question with the committee first.

Ald. M. H. Mooney broke in to support Ald. Curtis' action in making his suggestion direct to council but Mayor Scourrah cut off further discussion of the point.

"This is not a serious enough matter for extended argument and I think we should drop it here," he said.

The Milk River flows from Montana north into Alberta, then east and south back to Montana.

The letter will point to the depressed state of the shipbuilding industry here and ask that Ottawa award, at least one of the contracts for its new line of submarine destroyers to a local shipyard.

Council left it to Ald. A. I. Curtis, who suggested the move, to select the exact wording. Ald. Hugh Ramsay and Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said the strongest possible wording should be used.

The action was taken after Ald. Ramsay said a letter from Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, promising full consideration to Victoria shipyards when bids for two provincial ferries are received, had no "impact."

"No action is not good enough," Ald. Ramsay said.

With 1,200 shipyard workers employed here, the yards may have to close which would be a "heavy blow to the city."

Mayor Percy Scourrah said he understood the provincial government would award the ferry contracts to a B.C. yard if the local bids were no higher than 10 per cent above eastern bids.

Ald. Ramsay said that was some help "but it's still a drop in the bucket." He said contracts from the federal government should be sought too.

TRADE UNIONS MEMBERSHIP DECLINING?

MONTREAL (CP)—A Princeton University professor of economics said here Thursday that trade union membership reached its peak in 1948 and now may be declining.

Professor Frederick Harbison, director of the university's industrial relations section, said that unions had not been successful in unionizing professional and technical people, nor had it done well with clerical workers.

Professional workers and scientists would tend to bargain for themselves, believing rather in the forces of the market, he said. They would have recourse to unions only if management fails to treat with them on an equitable basis.

Jail Term for Wild Driving

A young Victoria man who pleaded guilty to some of the worst driving described in Saanich police court was sentenced Thursday to one month in jail.

Kenneth James Scott, 3121 Yew, also pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of liquor and was fined $50 or 30 days, not concurrent.

His driver's licence was suspended by Magistrate H. C. Hall as added penalty for criminally negligent driving.

Scott led police on a harrowing, after-dark chase for five miles on main and side streets until his car went out of control, crashed into a pole, and was wrecked when it overturned.

Scott and a passenger were injured.

Prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie said it was "about as bad a description of this type of driving as I've ever heard in this court."

The chase started when Scott was checked for having three bottles of ale in his car and was asked to drive to Royal Oak police station.

Annual value of forest industries in British Columbia is more than $500,000,000.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Cherry Smith, aged 11, of Jackson, Miss., for her question:

Why Is It Cooler on Mountain Tops?

On a summer's day the snow-capped Rockies are visible from the scorching prairies. You can look up from the sweltering Mojave desert and see the frosty white crowns of mountains in southern California. And there are mountains on the equator that keep their snowcaps the year round. It would seem, then, that the temperature is hottest on the flat surface of the earth than higher up. And this is so.

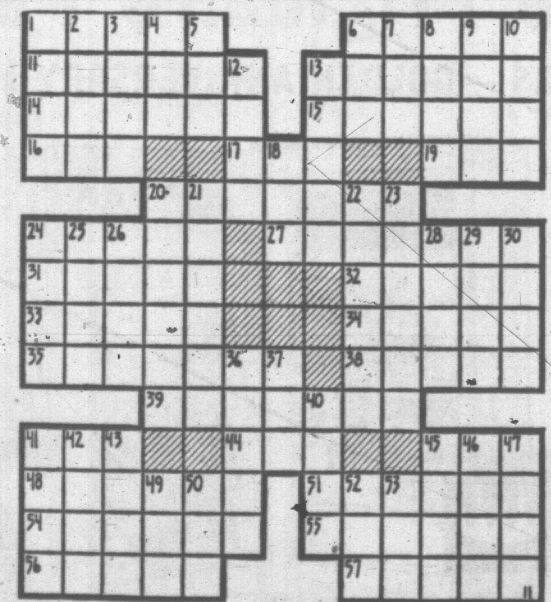

We are told that the centre of the earth is a seething core. Does this account for the ground being hotter than the cool air high above it? No, the hot centre of the earth hardly affects the surface at all. The earth gets just about all of its heat from the sun. This poses a puzzle, for high mountain peaks are surely closer to the sun than the sea and the flat plains. Why are they so much colder?

It is because of the strange behavior of the radiant energy that pours forth from the sun. This energy, part of which is sunlight, pulses through empty space at about 186,000 miles a second. It leaves the sun and reaches the earth, some 93 million miles away, about eight minutes later. When it strikes a solid object, some of this energy turns to heat. A surface of water also can absorb some of the radiant energy and turn it to heat.

Sun's Energy Reflected Off

About 43 per cent of the total sun's radiation which strikes the earth becomes heat. About 42 per cent is reflected back into space and is lost to us. The rest is taken up by clouds, dust and carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. If the earth could absorb all the sun's radiation temperatures would be twice as high, summer and winter.

Certain surfaces absorb more radiation than others. And more heat is absorbed at noon, when the sun's rays come from directly overhead. A thick forest can absorb 95 per cent of the sunlight and the sea at noon can absorb 96 per cent. The desert absorbs about 75 per cent of the sunlight but a snowy surface can absorb only 25 per cent.

No Reds to Be Heard

VANCOUVER (CP) — Communist and "Red-tinged" organizations will not be admitted to CCF-trade union conferences which open in B.C. Saturday.

The ban affects the Labor Progressive party, Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, United Fishermen's and Allied Workers Union.

It was reaffirmed Thursday on the heels of a mine-mill resolution passed in convention Wednesday recommending participation in union locals in the Canadian Labor Congress political action campaign.

B.C. Labor-Progressive party leader Nigel Morgan and the fishermen's union had suggested earlier they should participate.

Basis for the ban was a national CLC-CCF joint policy statement, released in Vancouver Thursday because the question of Communist participation had become urgent in B.C.

AGAINST POLICY
Signed by Stanley Knowles, chairman of the national committee, the statement said such participation would be contrary to both CLC and CCF policy.

"Both the CLC and CCF resolutions make abundantly clear that the political instrument envisioned by them is to be fully democratic in objectives, philosophy and structure," the national committee said.

Each day this month The Times honors one of its "Junior Merchant" carriers who have demonstrated qualities of leadership and application in their endeavors. Today's candidate is:

EARLE JOYCE

Earle, aged 15, lives at 2570 Blackwood and attends S. J. Willis Junior High School. His chief hobby is stamp collecting and he is keenly interested in baseball and basketball.

He is a Boy Scout and attends the Metropolitan Church in Victoria. His ambition is to be a druggist.

Earle has been a Times carrier for five months and has 48 satisfied subscribers. His father, Stephen Joyce, is a salesman interested in curling and bowling. He has three sisters, Glenda 11, Roberta 7 and Vera Lynn 2.

Four Die in Crash

PACHAUG, Conn. (AP) — A car slammed into a tree with terrific force Thursday night, taking the lives of four youths and injuring another critically. State police said the auto missed a curve in the middle of this eastern Connecticut village.

General Sets Record Tokyo to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay flew a KC-135 jet tanker to a Tokyo-Washington speed record today.

The vice-chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force flew the 7,100 miles in 12 hours and 28 minutes. This was about one hour and seven minutes faster than a previous record set last April by Brig.-Gen. William Eubank, a Strategic Air Command officer.

TRAPPED IN TRAFFIC

One of the cars pulled out to pass and was trapped in the heavy traffic heading east from the racetrack. It collided with the other vehicle, driving it back into a special racetrack bus.

Both cars were demolished. The heavily-loaded bus was slightly damaged but none of the passengers was injured.

Boat Burns, Man Escapes

The 20-foot motor cruiser "Joy" caught fire and burned late Thursday afternoon at Shoal Harbor near Sidney, and David Johnson, 21, of Saanichton was forced to swim to shore.

The $5,000 vessel belonged to W. A. Johnston, Cultura Avenue. It was insured.

David Johnson, a son, was bailing gas out of the bilge following a leak when a battery fell from a seat and sparks ignited gas fumes.

TRAFFIC TRAP

Tot Survives Crash Killing Both Parents

WINNIPEG (CP) — A two-year-old boy was sole survivor of a two-car collision Thursday night which killed his parents and a third person on the Trans-Canada Highway about seven miles west of Winnipeg.

The mishap occurred a mile east of the new Assiniboia Downs racetrack.

Dead are Charles T. Tolver, 31, of nearby Kirkfield Park; his wife, Marjorie, 23, and the driver and sole occupant of the second car, FO Arvo Urho Nasl, 28, of Garson, Ont., stationed at the RCAF base here.

He told a reporter that the jet tanker was helped by tail winds during the long flight, the wind adding an extra 60 or 70 miles an hour at times.

The average speed was 750 miles an hour.

Bionda With Cats?

Boston Allows Cougars to Deal With Defenceman

Jack Bionda with the Victoria Cougars?

One of the most colorful defencemen in the National Hockey League last year could well wind up with the Cougars this season.

There's one big "IF."

If manager-coach Pat Egan and Bionda can reach an agreement over contract terms.

Egan announced Thursday that the Western Hockey League team has received permission from Lynn Patrick, Boston Bruins manager, to talk with Bionda and make a deal with the rugged rearguard, if possible.

Boston would then assign or sell Bionda to Victoria.

MUST BE WAIVED

Bionda would have to be waived out of the National League before Boston could sell the rugged defenceman to the Cougars.

At any rate, his purchase would go a long way to filling a gap that was definitely evident last year.

Cougars are prepared to deal on either basis—cash or carry.

STARTED WITH LEAFS

He played last season with parent Boston Bruins. The 6-foot, 180-pound Intercity Lacrosse League scoring champion broke into professional hockey ranks with the Toronto Maple Leafs in 1955. After 13 games, he went to Pittsburgh of the American League, and the following season to Springfield.

The announcement helps to clarify rumors that Bionda said some time ago that he would not attend Boston training camp this season.

Another deal blew up on the Cougars this week when former Penitence defenceman George McAvoy was dealt to New Westminster Royals by Montreal Canadiens after two seasons with Providence Reds of the AHL.

Egan also said season ticket reservations will go on the open market Tuesday at 9 a.m. The deadline for renewals by last year's ticket-holders is 5 p.m. Monday.

Andy's Bargain Beauty Rates in Times' H'cap

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Every time Dos Domingo's name pops up in conversations, Andy Smithers, Jr., beams brightly.

Smithers' fine six-year-old is one of 11 nominated for the Times Handicap Saturday. The young trainer-owner can't help but smile when you want to talk about Dos Domingo, the "bargain beauty" in Smithers' stable.

The Times Handicap is the featured race when thoro-ughbreds open Vancouver Island's 14-day racing season at Sidney's Sandown Park Saturday. Post time for the first race Saturday is 1:45.

Dos Domingo faces stout opposition in the likes of Desert Fire, Glo Reign, Tui Lyke, Arlosso, Flashes First, Text, Declare, Eves Dream, Sleepy Star and Silver Su.

Smithers is one of the "young" trainers in B.C., but still ranks as a veteran, and Dos Domingo perhaps is the best example of his capabilities.

Claimed in California by Dave Diamond of Vancouver, Dos Domingo enjoyed considerable success in his first year on B.C. tracks. He was on the down grade when Smithers halted him for $1,000.

It turned out to be a good investment. Under Smithers' capable guidance, Dos Domingo regained its top form and has enjoyed a good year.

Dos Domingo won the formidable Handicap at Exhibition Park, his sixth straight success.

The longer distances are Dos Domingo's meat and it could be he'll be one to watch in the mile and one-sixteenth Times Handicap.

Smithers' smile may be even broader after Saturday.

Capt. 'Corny' Crew's Choice

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Corny Shields apparently is on again as skipper of Columbia, the U.S. yacht picked to defend the America's Cup against Britain's Sceptre.

Shields, a 63-year-old cardiac case, is credited with pulling the Columbia crew together for the final trials.

He was missing from the boat in the 12-second victory over Vim Thursday that convinced the selection committee it was time to name Columbia.

But today, the head of the Columbia syndicate made it clear that Corny will sail the yacht in the cup defence.

"I have not merely sounded out Corny," said Henry Sears, who is also navigator of Columbia. "I simply told him we couldn't do without him."

Corny's absence Thursday is said to have followed medical advice not to continue racing.

But it's going to be Corny at the wheel in the best-of-seven match opening Sept. 20, Sears insisted.

Furthermore, Sears said, "nobody will tell us who to put on this boat."

This was in reply to stories suggesting Vim's superb crew be allowed to sail Columbia in the 17th defence of the cup.

"There will be no outsiders," Sears said. "We have a top crew, a wonderful crew. They will sail for the cup. They have given up practically every day to sailing since I think last May 4."

Vim's crew took the news of Columbia's selection with a smile.

"Speaking for the crew and myself," said owner John N. Matthews of Oyster Bay, N.Y., "we feel it was a logical choice. We're very happy with it. We think Columbia will make the best possible defender."

Brampton Erupts in Finale; Third Game on Tap Tuesday

Brampton 12, Victoria 7

TRAIL—Brampton Excelsiors took a long step toward their second straight Canadian junior lacrosse championship Thursday night as they scored five unanswered goals in the last quarter to defeat Victoria Shamrocks 12-7 for a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series for the Minto Cup.

The favored Excelsiors had won 7-6 in the opening game Tuesday night.

The third game will be played in Victoria's Memorial Arena Tuesday evening.

Only 840 fans witnessed Thursday night's contest and the first was watched by only 700. The Canadian Lacrosse Association had set a 2,000 minimum for the first two games.

Doug Fletcher, in charge of the series, announced today the switch to Victoria. He said it had been sanctioned by Tom Gordon, secretary of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association.

Brampton won Thursday night with an explosive display of raw power in the fourth quarter. The teams were deadlocked, 7-7, going into the last 15 minutes of action. But the easterners scored five goals without a reply.

The Excelsiors ripped 38 shots at Victoria netminder Don Hamilton while their defence limited Shamrock marksmen to 25 attempts during the game.

John Ford led the Brampton drive with four goals and held the club together with his leadership. Jim McNeil was best man for Victoria, rifling home two goals.

Gord Thompson scored three goals for the winners and Gary Moore, leading scorer in Ontario junior lacrosse with St. Catharines during the regular season, tallied two. Dave Beatty, Bob Davidson and Jim McCure got one apiece.

Stu Smith, Tom Wyatt, Mike Gates, Tom English and Russ West were the other Victoria scorers.

Perfiliotis played a major part in the final quarter. Victoria defenceman Phil Willis got a charging penalty at 3:06 and seconds later Ford, Brampton's 210-pound defenceman, put his team ahead with what proved to be the winning goal. Moore put Brampton two up before Willis returned.

Last Canadian Bumped In U.S. Amateur Golf

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A rawhide-tough ex-champion, two surprised collegians and a virtual unknown today battled in the 36-hole semifinal round of the 58th U.S. Amateur golf championships.

The bracketing assured a college player in the final for the first time since 1951 as Dick Foote, a junior at UCLA, met Tom Aaron, a Florida senior, Texan Billy Maxwell won it that year.

In the other semi, two 34-year-olds duelled—Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, who won the title in 1949, and Roger Manus of Cincinnati.

This four survived from the original field of 200 who started over the Olympic Country Club's lake course Monday.

The last Canadian, Eric Hanson of Toronto, was eliminated in Thursday's fifth round by Dr. Frank Taylor of Pomona, Calif., 2 up.

Aaron, 21-year-old Southeastern Conference champion from Gainesville, Ga., ousted ex-titlist Dick Chapman and 1956 runner-up Chuck Kocis in Thursday's two rounds. Chapman went out 3 and 2 and Kocis 7 and 5.

GREAT TO BE POPULAR, BUT WHO'LL GET HIM?

Clare Wakshinski, 21-year-old forward who performed with Victoria Cougars at the tail-end of the 1957-58 Western Hockey League schedule, seems to be the most wanted player in the game.

He's either popular or good... or both.

Cougars, feeling they still have professional rights to his playing services, announced Tuesday that Wakshinski will attend Victoria's training camp. Their announcement was made despite a report from Kelowna a few days earlier that the forward would try out with the Okanagan team.

Seattle Totems of the WHL got into the act Thursday. A Seattle announcement said they have added his name to their cast.

Cougar officials were unavailable for comment at press time.

BATTING RACES TIGHT

Ted's Thumping Doesn't Aid Sox

By United Press International

Ted Williams and Richie Ashburn are making late bids to win the major league batting titles and give Boston and Philadelphia fans something to cheer about in otherwise drab seasons.

Williams, seeking his second straight crown and the sixth of his career, moved into a virtual tie with teammate Pete Runnels for the American League lead Thursday while Ashburn, trying for his second title, cut front-runner Stan Musial's National League lead to .003 points.

Williams went 2-for-4 in a 4-1 loss to the Chicago White Sox while Ashburn went 2-for-4 as Philadelphia Phillies rallied to beat Los Angeles Dodgers, 4-3.

Bob Cerv hit his 33rd homer of the season as Kansas City Athletics beat Baltimore Orioles, 7-1, and rookie John Romo's fine relief work earned Washington Senators a 7-6 triumph over Detroit Tigers in the only other major league activity.

Williams, with three hits in seven tries since he returned to the lineup, increased his average to .396. He is right behind Runnels' .320 figure, but is being pressed by Cerv, who has increased his average to .318.

Ashburn's two hits lifted his average to .335 compared to Musial's league-leading .338 mark.

Despite Williams' personal gain, it was a sad day for the Red Sox, who fell 3½ games behind the White Sox and lost virtually all chance of finishing second in the A.L. race.

Canada the Best? It's Possible (With Money)!

By IAN SMITH
Canada can produce swimmers who will beat the best in the world, but not right now. That is the expressed opinion of Jim McCague, back in Victoria after representing the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association in the British Empire Games at Cardiff, Wales, this summer.

McCague, vice-president of the B.C. section of the C.A.S.A. and president of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, came away from the Games with the impression that Canada, throwing its strongest ever team against the Commonwealth, still has to improve a great deal in order to beat Australia. It's taken for granted that when you can beat the swimmers from down under, you can beat anybody in the world. The record books bear this out. With only a few exceptions, persons who hold world marks are competing for Australia. At the Games, Aussies captured 11 gold medals. Canada, on the other hand, brought home four silver and four bronze tokens, but nothing with a golden look. The secret, McCague feels, is in the training.

"The Australians," he said, "got their whole team together five weeks prior to the Games and took them up to the northern part of the country (Queensland). When they got them all together they moulded them into a fine, well-rounded unit. They had the best swimming coaches in Australia there. They had no worries and everything—diet, meals and sleeping—was controlled. Then they flew the team to the Games and spared no expense. The result was that the Aussies could put any four people from their team into a relay and be sure of qualifying. This would save the best ones for the final. In Canada, on the other hand, the team was assembled at the last moment and then travelled by boat, affording little chance for training. However, there is hope for Canada. "Any country," McCague maintains, "could take 12 or 14 good swimmers and build them into a championship team." But it would need the best coaches, facilities and time, all of which requires money. The standard length of international competition-type pools is 55 yards. Canada has only two of this length, in Brantford, Ont., and Vancouver. (Victoria's Crystal Garden, in which backstroke star Bob Wheaton trained, is 50 yards long.) Most of the pools in Canada are closer to half that distance in length. But in Australia, they've got 26 international-type pools, in Sydney alone. And, to attain championship status, a swimmer must spend at least two hours every day at his sport. In Australia, a great sports-minded country, this is possible. But in Canada, school and work cuts deeply into even the good ones, like Wheaton (who finished third at the B.E.G.), start figuring their practice time by the week instead of by the day. Some of the Canadian swimmers spend less time in the water in seven days than the best Australians do in one. McCague feels, however, that when the money is available the talent will also be found. But until then, Canada will have to take a back seat to the smaller, more sports-minded nations like Australia.

FISHING REPORT

Best Areas Up-Island

After a month-long slack during which Lower Vancouver Island waters claimed the bulk of the fishing news, Up-Island areas are once again coming into prominence. Perhaps the best report comes from Campbell River. While the anglers in that area are presently experiencing a gradual decline in the tyee fishing as the season on the lunger springs draws to a close, big northern coho are moving in to fill the gap. Painter's Lodge, while expecting the big run of silvers between the 15th and 20th, reports that all boats are getting fish right now. They figure that the coho presently in the area, many between 12 and 14 pounds, are merely an advance group and just a sample of things to come.

Al Wilson at Qualicum Beach states that his on-again-off-again area has been excellent in the past few days. While he declares that last weekend was "horrible," in spite of all predictions, he reports that there are presently "all kinds" of big northern hook-nosed coho.

"We've been weighing them in up to 15½ pounds," he said. There is also a chance, apparently, of picking up the odd fair-sized spring as anglers continue to bring them in. But Port Alberni, as well, should be claiming a share of the piscatorial headlines by next week.

Alberni Boat House predicts that although action has been slow of late, the recent rain should allow enough old tyee to go upstream so that a new, hungry run will have room to move into the area.

Apparently the head of the Alberni Canal is teeming with tyee, but they aren't biting because they've been around for a good length of time waiting for the rivers to rise.

Farther down the canal, at Nahmint, the odd morning has been good but then catches tail off again for no known reason.

Closer to home, Cowichan Bay has tapered off considerably according to Bucky Kennett, but the coho are showing in increasing numbers although they remain hard to hook.

But the Up-Island areas are still losing a bit of their plaudits to Sooke and Pedder Bay waters.

After a slow period for the last few weeks, the Sooke waters are once again beginning to give up coho between eight and 12 pounds.

Springs are still coming in too, averaging about 20 pounds, according to the Juan de Fuca Auto Court.

Pedder Bay is even better. While the coho fishing has dropped off slightly big springs are again turning on the heat.

Joe Bryant, for instance, picked up a 35½-pounder Wednesday night and R. Curran captured a 22-pound, 10-ounce beauty. Thursday morning Bud Turner came in with a 23-pounder.

Off Esquimalt action is quite slack although the odd big coho to 16½ pounds is coming in.

Oak Bay is fair with the coho running between nine and 14 pounds, but it should improve by the weekend as the fishing is on the upswing.

Coho are also making an appearance around the end of Sidney Spit and in Deep Cove area. In Saanich Inlet the silvers have worked down as far as Brentwood Bay and, while a few are being taken at the Goldstream end of the Inlet, the main action there still centres around springs, down deep.

SAD NEWS FOR HUNTERS FROM LOGGING INTERESTS

Lower Vancouver Island deer hunters, hoping that logging companies would open some of the choicer shooting areas in time for the season opening Saturday, had their chances dashed today.

Woods have remained dry despite occasional sprinkles of rain. The logging firms, who usually open their woods to members of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association, feel that it would be safest if their claims remained closed for the time being.

New seasons opening Saturday in the interior include deer, ducks, willow grouse and big game. (Vancouver Island shooters will not be able to go after anything but deer, blue grouse and pigeons until Oct. 11.)

Len Impresses Red Wing Brass

(From CP Dispatches)

Len Lunde, a big centre who last year was one of Edmonton Flyers' top men, is opening a few eyes at the National Hockey League Detroit Red Wings' training camp.

One of his ardent admirers is Wings' general manager Jack Adams, who says if he "plays to his potential, he could be the NHL rookie of the year."

Some 40 hopefuls, including 13 holdovers, have started training at Niagara Falls with New York Rangers.

Rangers held their first workout Thursday, a two-hour skating and shooting drill, watched by Ranger coach Phil Watson and Bobby Kirk, coach of Buffalo Bisons in the American League.

On hand are four goaltenders, including Lorne (Gump) Worsley, last year's Ranger net-minder, Bruce Gamble, with Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario Junior League last year, will boost the figure to five in the near future.

VSIAA Staging Second Benefit

Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association will stage their second "benefit" salmon derby of the year Oct. 4 and 5.

The VSIAA, who earlier in the year raised a record total for the Queen Alexandra Solarium in the annual Solarium Derby, will help the children at the Cerebral Palsy Clinic this time with their annual coho derby.

The derby, which last year netted $3,800 for the clinic, will run from dawn on the Saturday to 2 p.m. Sunday.

Consolation prize, which will be drawn, is a fiberglass boat complete with outboard motor and trailer. The boat will be on display at various city establishments until derby day. There will be 44 fishing prizes. Tickets, priced at $1, may be obtained from VSIAA members, most city sporting goods stores and Saanich Inlet boat-houses.

Council Won't Order Police To Enforce Law

A motion instructing police commission to enforce Wednesday afternoon store closing was defeated by a tie vote in city council Thursday.

"For 10 years this by-law hasn't been enforced and now we're telling the merchants it will be the same thing," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow after the vote.

Ald. A. I. Curtis said the motion was "an impertinence." Police commission knew it had to enforce city by-laws.

A warm debate blew up after council was requested by the Six-Day Shopping Week to enforce closure when Wednesday afternoon closing returns next week.

Present regulations allow Wednesday afternoon opening 4½ months of the year. Last full Wednesday shopping for the summer occurred this week. Stores will have to close at 1 p.m. Wednesdays until December.

The merchant group's letter requested council to give a one-year trial to the six-day week. If not, it asked that the by-law shutting business down—tight Wednesday afternoons, except for a few products, be strictly enforced with illegal openings being prosecuted.

Ald. Edgelow suggested finance committee "was tardy" in leaving a questionnaire to be sent all merchants until this month. He said merchants' views should have been obtained before the summertime six-day week ran out.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, finance committee chairman, said he "admitted my committee may have been a little lax" in seeking merchants' views.

He suggested a two-week extension of the six-day shopping week to give time for receipt of replies to the questionnaire before a return to the 5½-day week. There was no second to his motion.

Ald. Edgelow then moved that police commission be instructed to enforce the by-law.

"There would be chaos in the city if this by-law is not carried out among all stores, instead of a few," he said.

Ald. Hugh Ramsay said the motion was superfluous.

"THEY MUST"

"It is not superfluous," retorted Ald. D. J. Proudfoot. "It means the police were not carrying out their duty properly before. We are now saying they must."

"Council itself is responsible for making sure its bylaws are enforced."

A tie vote automatically defeated the motion.

"Does that mean we are telling the merchants we will not enforce the by-law?" demanded Ald. Edgelow.

"No, it doesn't mean that," said Mayor Percy Scurrah who is chairman of the police commission. "The bylaw is there."

GOLDENBERG TO CONCILIATE LAKES STRIKE

MONTREAL (CP)—An effort to avert a threatened strike of Great Lakes shipping is expected to be made in the next few days by federal conciliator H. Carl Goldenberg.

His move will be aimed at arranging new meetings between Great Lakes shipowners and the Seafarers' International Union, which has been told by its 3,000 members to go ahead with a strike call if necessary.

Minor Fined $25 For Ale Bottles In Trunk of Car

Robert Thomas Fisher, 19, of 2632 Scott, was fined $25 in city police court Tuesday when he was found guilty of being a minor in possession of liquor. Police said two bottles of ale were in the trunk of Fisher's car when it was checked on Mt. Stephen at 10:50 p.m. Aug. 13.

Fisher, who pleaded not guilty, produced a witness who claimed ownership of the ale and also said Fisher had drunk a bottle from a full case prior to arrival of police.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said this constituted possession.

JAYCEE MAY SERVE ON ARENA BOARD

Council Backs New Rink

Approval in principle of construction of an ice rink by the Junior Chamber of Commerce on city-owned property was given Thursday by city council.

The rink will be located behind the Memorial Arena and will be turned over to the city when it is completed.

In return for the project, council promised to do everything in its power to obtain representation on the arena commission for a Jaycee appointment.

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady warned council to be careful with any arrangement that would see a third party erecting a large building on city-owned property unless a specific agreement was drawn up.

Otherwise, money might run out before the project was completed and the city could find itself with a partly constructed building and many liens on its hands.

Canadian Exports Dropped in July

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian exports in July were valued at $413,400,000, down from $438,000,000 a year ago, the bureau of statistics has reported. The decline reflected reduced shipments to the United States, Latin America and other non-Commonwealth countries. These were somewhat offset by moderately higher exports to the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth countries.

U.S. BILLS CHANGED

No 'Misprints' Here

A report that misprinted American dollar bills are floating around Victoria was quashed today by the president of the Victoria Numismatic Society.

Al Klenman said a report that the bills might be worth more than their face value was "off base."

A hotel clerk reported that an American, offered one in change, said, "You should hold on to this. It's a misprint 1957 series."

Printing on U.S. dollar bills was changed in 1957 to include the words "In God We Trust," said Mr. Klenman, which might have confused the tourist. Also, the U.S. government is now using British-made presses to print currency in the U.S., which might account for a slight variation from the older bills.

Victorians Show Tepid Interest in Bond Offer

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

The most important individual piece of financing undertaken in Canadian history—the federal government's $4.46 million Conversion Loan—hasn't met here with the particular enthusiasm expected, a leading Victoria investment house manager said today.

On the eve of the September 15 deadline, E. J. Kennedy, manager of James Richardson & Sons, says the conversion of the last five series of Victory Bonds is "a little below our expectations."

Reluctance of VB holders to take advantage of the government's "bold venture" frankly amazes Mr. Kennedy. The government's offer enables VB investors to convert their bonds for a cash adjustment ranging from $22.50 to $15 per $1,000 bond and receive a yield of from three per cent to four and one-half per cent.

This means that even if Victory Bonds are converted for the shortest term, seven years, they will receive the same three per cent interest as they would by holding them, plus the cash adjustment if the conversion is made before Sept. 15. Investors favoring the long term, 25-year loan, get four and one-half per cent interest.

Another point in favor of a conversion is that Conversion Loans can't be called in by the government. CL investors can sell at any time but the unusual "no call" feature of the new series is far more beneficial to bond holders than the "call" demand to sell—clause which is frequently involved in corporate bonds.

Kennedy attributes lack of knowledge of the benefits of conversion—"and I can't understand this after all the publicity they have been given"—and the difference to the reticence of some VB holders to take advantage of the new offer.

Most VB holders are going for long term Conversion Loans even though shorter term holdings offer more liquid security because the degree of risk is lessened. Since the bond market and the money market are in a manner of speaking allied, any upswing or depression is naturally less on short term holdings.

Five most active industrials on the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchange in August were: Massey-Ferguson, 103,709 shares; St. Lawrence Corp., 61,413 shares; Aluminium, 53,352 shares; Dom. Tar., 38,710; and A. V. Roe, 34,883. Five most active mines and oils in the same period were: Titan Petroleum, 594,954; Tache, 560,600; Alscop, 422,800; New Hesco, 357,200; and Barnat, 286,200.

A seat on the Canadian Stock Exchange sold for $9,000. Last sale was on July 10, at $8,500.

NEW GALLERY WING OPENS SATURDAY

Long Climb to Get Proud Civic Asset

By AUDREY JOHNSON

One of the finest, most beautifully designed fire-proof small art galleries in Canada, becomes the proud civic asset of British Columbia's capital.

Built out of Centennial funds provided by the province of B.C. and Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt as a combined centennial project, it is the culmination of a long-held dream.

A little over a decade ago at a meeting of the Canadian Artists' Federation presided over by the Hon. Mark Gearing, the first decision was taken to start a small art centre in Victoria. That decision led to the setting up of the Little Centre in a temporarily vacant automobile showroom on Yates Street.

Here Victorians saw their first imported and local exhibitions outside a department store gallery. These were of limited scope naturally, but the centre served to "bring together a variety of arts and skills and focus public interest in them."

At the end of the Second World War the exhibition space was once more required to show off shining masterpieces of automobile design, and with no other available premises, the Little Centre was forced into suspension.

Rescued by Generous Sara Spencer

After some months, its next home was a narrow store near the Royal Theatre, and from there it was rescued through the generous gift to the community by Sara Spencer, of her old family home at 1040 Moss Street.

This was the beginning—the first practical and major assistance directed toward establishing a proper art gallery on Vancouver Island.

A second stroke of good fortune came when the city having finally accepted the gift and turned over management to the Art Centre group, the services of Colin Graham as curator were obtained.

Under Mr. Graham's direction and inspired by his enthusiasm and expertise, progress at the gallery has been unceasing and vital.

One thing, however, bulked large as a barrier to any major expansion of the gallery program—lack of a fireproof wing where important art treasures could be shown and stored.

This meant that only second-class circulating exhibitions were available and no costly art gifts could be made or accepted.

THEY HOARDED

Curator Graham and the gallery committee never lost sight of their aim and continued to hoard monetary contributions toward the day when a fireproof wing might become a reality.

Then in 1955 the Rotary Club of Victoria gave the dream impetus by sponsoring an architectural competition open to all Vancouver Island architects, for the design of such a building together with rough plans for future expansion.

And now, at last, concrete and steel, glass and wood have materialized the dream and on Saturday morning the doors of the Centennial fireproof gallery will open to the public for the first time.

MORE TO COME

But this is still not the end of the story. Next on the schedule of expansion is a glass-fronted gallery to house the permanent collection which has now, since the new building was started, reached impressive proportions.

In the future it is planned to provide more studio space for arts and crafts, a small auditorium and other facilities.

These plans are already on the drawing board and with so much accomplished in little more than 10 years, the future cannot seem so far away.

Servant Drowned

Identical Bids Called Farce; Probe Possible

A possible complaint to the federal anti-trusts department loomed in city council Thursday.

Aldermen referred four rejected tenders to a committee for a report from city solicitor T. P. O'Grady on what action could be taken on the bids.

The tenders, submitted by four national electrical companies for supply of 130 street lights, all quoted the identical price of $6,792.50.

'FARCE'

"I think it is a farce when they get together and decide on a figure," said Ald. Elmer McEwen, accusing the bidders of price fixing. "It hurts the taxpayers and makes a monkey of us."

"It wouldn't be so bad if there was a nickel difference, but the bids were right down to the same penny. The Criminal Code clearly says it is against the law to fix a price."

All This and Money Too!

'MADONNA OF THE CEDARS' ... the winner

Royal Roads Sculptor Wins at UBC

An associate professor of economics at Royal Roads Canadian Services College, Alfred Carlsen, 48, has won a $600 prize for his red cedar sculpture, "Madonna of the Cedars"—and he didn't even know there was money involved in the competition!

He was asked by the B.C. Sculptural Association to place an entry in the recent University of British Columbia outdoor sculpture display.

He won, but only after five weeks of deadlock between his submission and "Birdies," a 23-inch-high abstract in lead by Vancouver artist Robert Clothier.

Mr. Clothier won the prize two years ago.

NO REASON

The tussle in artistic values was given up by the judges involved, so the university committee on art made the final decision. They gave no reason.

Professor Carlsen, a self-admitted "sculpture hobbyist for 10 years," said he felt "some sympathy" for his opponent's work, but that he was not too keen on ultimate abstract.

He took one week to do his 50-inch-high piece, working four hours a day. It is the first piece he has sold though he has exhibited before in the Pacific Northwest.

NICE BALANCE

Born in Bella Coola, B.C., he is a UBC graduate, was a YMCA supervisor overseas, and has been at Royal Roads seven years. He is leaving soon for University of Toronto to complete his PhD in economics.

HE HID IN BUSH

Hit-and-Run Driver Pays Fine of $75

Charles Edward Mowbray, 588 Whiteside, was fined $75 and his driver's licence was suspended in Saanich police court Thursday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Police said his car was involved in an accident with an oncoming car near the intersection of Douglas and Saanich, causing between $900 and $1,000 damage.

Mowbray's car was chased down two sideroads and abandoned and the driver was found hiding in the bush, police said.

Dakar in French West Africa, most western point of Africa, is about 1,800 miles east of Brazil.

'Can't Stop All Strikes'

City council Thursday beat off a drive by Ald. M. H. Mooney and Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow to put the city on record as favoring compulsory arbitration to prevent strikes.

Ald. Mooney said Labor Minister Lyle Wicks had stated recently that "labor problems might have to be brought under control through government supervision."

"We should support the minister," he said.

He said strikers were creating a "dictatorship of the highest kind when a few individuals can hurt all the people."

Ald. Edgelow said municipal representatives should lead the way in arriving at a method of ending strikes.

But, Ald. D. J. Proudfoot argued:

"You can't just stop all strikes, that's stupid. Labor has a right to strike if it wants to. That's the law of this country—providing freedom of action for unions."

"If they abuse it, then you can do something. But you can't just ban the right to strike."

Other aldermen backed him up in his contention that labor legislation was not the proper concern of a municipal council.

Ald. Mooney's motion to write the provincial government that it supported compulsory arbitration was defeated.

Biarritz in southwest France, historic resort area, was a favorite spot for Napoleon III and Empress Eugenie.

SURVIVAL WAR MILITIA ROLE

LAC-BEAUPORT, Que. (CP)—Defence Minister Pearek said Thursday that in the event of a nuclear attack on the North American continent the role of the militia will be that of winning the battle of survival.

Mr. Pearek's statement was issued by the Canadian Infantry Association's president, Lt.-Col. W. F. Hadley, after the minister delivered a talk privately to 50 delegates attending the meeting.

NO FORMULA WORKED OUT

River Talks Said 'Premature'

A government spokesman Thursday described as "premature" a proposal that the Governors of Washington, Oregon and Idaho should meet in conference with Premier Bennett on the use of water of the Columbia River basin. The spokesman pointed out that the whole Columbia River problem is still under study by an international joint commission comprising representatives of Canada and the United States. "Engineering studies have not yet been completed and until some sort of formula has been worked out it would seem premature to hold a conference of the kind suggested."

Old Man's Tragic Death Sparks Drive for Chinese Hospital Addition

By JOHN MIKA
Doy Lum was buried by the Chinese community today but his pitiful last days on earth in a desperately sick and starving condition were not forgotten.

Eric Joe, president of the Victoria Chinatown Lions Club, said his organization will seek ways and means of promoting construction of an addition to the city-owned Chinese Hospital on Herald.

Lum, 71-year-old pensioner, collapsed Tuesday outside 546 1/2 Herald where he had a room, and died less than 24 hours later in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Immediate cause of death was a stroke, the attending physician said today.

"But malnutrition was certainly a contributing factor," Lum weighed only 60 pounds when he was rushed to hospital by police.

Funeral service, arranged by the Dart Coon Club, was held at the Thomson Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. today. Burial followed in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Despite offers of assistance, Lum refused to accept any help and would not go to hospital or have anything to do with Occidental doctors.

MONTE ROBERTS

Cleaning out the in basket

A note from a "constant reader" signed "Weary Me" apparently not weary from constant reading, but from constant listening to a barking dog. I quote: "What would you do if you had a NICE neighbor with a constantly (almost) barking dog? . . . those last-minute naps in the morning; the siesta at 2 p.m. for the old folk; worst of all, the baying at the moon in time to awaken us from those first delicious hours of sleep?"

I think what I would do is have a nice talk with the nice neighbor, who might be nice enough to co-operate in a nice way, such as undertaking a training course for his no-doubt nice dog.

A match folder put out by the Eddy people, left for me by Al Markle (first free gift from Mr. M. since I gave him even money on the beastly Lions) . . . folder is one of a series saluting the nations of the world . . . this one is dedicated to Canada, and is illustrated with a caricature of an Eskimo . . . watch your blood pressure, George Warren . . .

A note from a constituent who wishes to know why I have not commented on the current TV quiz show fracas . . . I am ignoring it, hoping it will go away . . . next thing you know, my faith will be completely shattered when someone tells me Texas Rasin' is rigged or there is no Santa Claus.

A pair of notes from people who have cats living at their house with somewhat unusual palates . . . one cat favors cantaloupe, the other curried shrimp . . . my research is now ended . . . it is perfectly normal for a cat to be abnormal . . .

A communication from one whose every wish is my command . . . as follows: "Young friend of mine was telling me the other night the story of the young pilot fish, who was caught swimming all alone.

"As you know, pilot fish usually swim in company with whales.

"So another small fish came along, and said to the pilot fish 'Why aren't you swimming with your usual school of whales?"

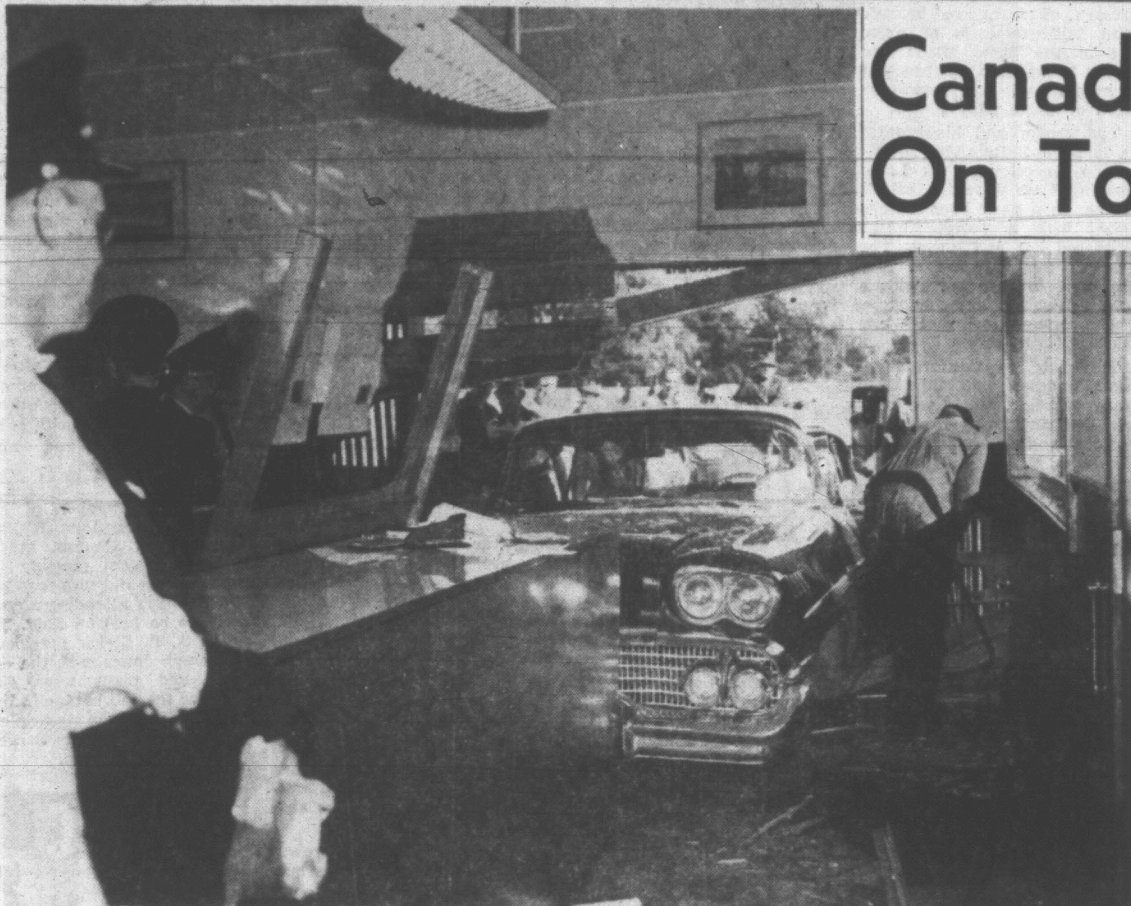

"To which the pilot fish replied, 'Am I my blubber's kipper?"

And also, I regret to report, from the same source, this note:

"Then there was the ardent Eskimo who protested to his love: 'I travelled across 21 miles of snow and ice just to be with you."

To which she replied: 'Aw, that's just a lot of mush."

Next time, shall we try cleaning up the out basket?

NEW WAY OF GOING THROUGH CUSTOMS

Waging Peace Aim of Group Forming Here

A drive to interest Victoria residents in "working for peace" is gaining momentum with two meetings slated this month, sponsored by a volunteer group that believes in "waging peace" as opposed to "waging war."

Letters have been sent churches, service clubs and trade unions to determine what community groups wish to join the movement. A conference is planned for interested groups Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. in the Health and Welfare Centre, 1947 Cook.

The "peace by peaceful means" committee is sponsoring a speaker Sept. 18 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Hall. He is Dr. Ralph Victor, a Seattle physician who has just completed two years in a Quaker village project in India.

FORMING FOUR GROUPS
In the meantime, a nucleus of four "think and do" groups is being organized.

One of the prime movers in the project, Richard Broughton, 1041 Craigdarroch, said "if the majority of thinking Canadians feel that peace can be obtained by military bases and alliances, then we must have them. But if we don't, then let us let the government know it."

Another group member, Mrs. Rosemary Hamilton, 4660 Patricia Bay Highway, pointed out that with nuclear age war considered unthinkable and intolerable, then it was logic to know that preparation for war fits into the same category.

It urged:

1. That the Trade Unions Act be repealed or amended to abolish special privileges granted to unions and not accorded to other individuals and organizations.

2. Proper legislation should be enacted to ensure that trade unions shall be subject to the rule of law as administered in the courts.

3. The Labor Relations Act should be amended to provide that agreements which deny or terminate employment because of an individual not being or remaining a member of a trade union shall be prohibited.

The brief added that it did not request prohibition of agreements which require all employees in a bargaining unit to pay

Six persons, including three customs men, escaped serious injury Thursday afternoon when a U.S. car with three persons in it ran down the CFR ramp and crashed into the customs office.

Driver of the late model car was identified as Mrs. Louise Bailey, Monterey, Calif. A passenger, Joseph Lovrich, Palo Alto, Calif., said "we would have gone off the pier if I hadn't shouted to her to 'turn left and brake.'" He and his wife were sitting beside the driver when the car went out of control. He could give no reason.

Thomas S. Floyd in the customs office with Reginald Etheridge and William Gelling said "something hit me in the solar plexus, shoulder and arm." He was knocked to the floor. The car stopped only eight inches away.

The wall of the customs office was knocked in while a file cabinet and partition were knocked to the floor.

The B.C. government today was asked to review the present tax structure with a view to reducing taxation on industry "so that its competitive position in domestic and world markets may be improved."

The request was contained in a brief presented to the Cabinet by a B.C. Chamber of Commerce delegation headed by its president, G. F. Dunn of Victoria.

The delegates also recommended the repeal of income tax levied against the logging and mining industries, and the tax on ore in the ground.

PROPER BALANCE
The delegation stated that good industrial relations cannot be created by legislation. But to the extent that legislation is necessary, it advocated "a proper balance of rights and responsibilities of employers on the one hand and of employees on the other with due regard to the public interest."

It urged:

1. That the Trade Unions Act be repealed or amended to abolish special privileges granted to unions and not accorded to other individuals and organizations.

2. Proper legislation should be enacted to ensure that trade unions shall be subject to the rule of law as administered in the courts.

3. The Labor Relations Act should be amended to provide that agreements which deny or terminate employment because of an individual not being or remaining a member of a trade union shall be prohibited.

The brief added that it did not request prohibition of agreements which require all employees in a bargaining unit to pay

Canadians to Turn On Tories—Coldwell

Leader Predicts Trend To CCF in Next 4 Years

Canadians will turn from Conservative rule "in disillusionment" over the next four years, CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell predicted in an interview in Victoria today.

Mr. Coldwell, defeated in the last federal election after 23 years in the House of Commons, gave a non-political talk to the Men's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel this afternoon.

Mr. Coldwell said he has no intention of running again either as candidate in the provincial or federal field.

"But I shall continue to lead the CCF party as long as I am wanted."

The Conservative landslide victory at the last election was simply "a manifestation" of the people's determination to get rid of the Liberal government, he told The Times.

TOWARDS CCF

"Over the next four years there will be a similar reaction against the Tories and it will be towards the CCF. After all," he smiled, "you have to admit the general trend throughout the world today is towards a larger measure of social ownership and control."

"I am confident Canadians will ultimately vote for a mixed economy such as we advocate. If we do not form the next federal government we will certainly gain a tremendous increase in representation."

FEELS BETTER

Mr. Coldwell said he is feeling "much better in health" since he gave up the strain of leading the CCF in the House. He recently returned from a visit to his native England.

The Conservative party there is implementing many measures which were introduced by the former Labor government, he said.

"They are doing what any Tory government would do in the circumstances—they know they cannot put the clock back."

The CCF leader said Canada's national health scheme is a step in the right direction but does not go nearly far enough.

MERCHANTS CAN ASSIST ANTI-LITTER CAMPAIGN

Chamber of Commerce president Hugh Stephen and Ald. Arthur Dowell combined today to appeal to city merchants to join the anti-litter campaign.

Ald. Dowell pointed out some of the city's street-cleaning problems were caused by merchants who swept litter in front of their stores on to the street.

"I would appeal to all merchants, whether chamber members or not, to co-operate by sweeping up litter and putting it into trash cans," said Mr. Stephen.

"A clean downtown area is the finest piece of advertising any business section can have," he said.

"Merchants who sweep litter on to the street are not only hurting themselves, but hurting their business neighbors, too."

Mr. Stephen said the chamber several times has emphasized the need for clean streets.

Before he retires from the president's post next week, he said he would recommend to the chamber's retail group that it bring the point home to members again.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

Nevertheless, we were duty-bound to carry the Finlayson denial and thus I was repudiated, and made to appear a chump, on the front page of my own paper—not a very pleasant experience.

I hope this will help set the record straight. Wholly apart from the letter, what I said Tuesday night was that two good men were running for the Tory leadership and that I felt, on the record, Finlayson was entitled to the honor.

One other thing: over the years, I have suffered the complaint of many politicians that newspapers "distort" their statements.

Just let me say that no journalist in the country could do as elegant a job of twisting my statement as have the supporters of Dr. Kidd in this affair.

Museum Role Urged For 'Buildings'

One of Canada's most scholarly and fighting Catholic priests today advocated turning the whole of the Legislative Buildings into a Provincial Museum and making it the largest and finest in Canada.

"I know the idea sounds fantastic," said Capt. J. S. McGivern, MBE, CD, padre at Camp Chilliwack, "but it is my personal opinion that it would be practical and feasible."

He started B.C.'s first military museum at Camp Chilliwack.

INADEQUATE

He said both the Provincial Museum and Maritime Museum in Esquimalt were inadequate for preserving and exhibiting the province's art and historical treasures.

"I would like to see the Legislative Buildings made into a museum and new government buildings constructed," he said.

There were sufficient relics and exhibits available at present, he said, to fill every room in the Buildings. Forestry and biological exhibits alone would take a large amount of floor space.

"It could be made into the finest museum in Canada," he said.

That Mysterious Letter

It is flattering—but nonetheless a bit of a shock—to find that a few innocent observations on the current Tory leadership race, enunciated in this space Tuesday night, have become a live issue at the convention in Vancouver.

In the course of a general commentary, I wrote:

"One of my better spies informs me that no less a personage than John Diefenbaker wrote Finlayson a letter, telling him he was solid, it was unnecessary, why did he do it, etc., etc."

This statement I believe to be true. It was told to me by a Tory of long-standing and impeccable honesty, who is privy to top-level party deliberations.

You will note that I used the word "wrote"—past tense. The letter was written last May, when Finlayson first called the convention, and long before "Cap" Kidd entered the leadership race.

At that time, I doubt if the prime minister had ever heard of "Cap" Kidd.

Now what happened when this column appeared? Kidd's supporters picked it up and twisted it, to try and make it appear that I had said Mr. Diefenbaker endorsed Finlayson in the current leadership fight.

They challenged Finlayson to produce such a letter.

Naden Dunkers Get Break To Give Break to 'Chest'

About 1,650 officers and men of HMCS Naden, the RCN shore establishment at Esquimalt, held a coffee break this morning which was a break for the Community Chest.

As a kick-off for the naval service chest drive, coffee and doughnuts were offered at all messes, free of charge, but with one stipulation:

Each "dunker" was required to show his Red Feather, to prove he had made his contribution to the chest.

Cooks hit the deck at 2 a.m., lit galley fires to prepare nearly 3,000 doughnuts; the band of

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Natural increase in Victoria's population is on the upswing, Victoria-Esquimalt union board of health reported today.

A quarterly statement showed there were 890 births during April, May and June and only 393 deaths. Corresponding figures for last year showed 835 births and 400 deaths.

Chief cause of death was heart disease which claimed 91 lives. Cancer was second, causing 43 deaths.

The Dickens Fellowship Victoria branch will hold its first meeting of the fall season at the home of its president, E. F. Wetherston, 565 Marfield, next Monday at 8 p.m.

Horace Herbert Hannam, Millstream Road, was sentenced in Colwood RCMP court Thursday to seven days in jail for driving while under suspension, plus $35 or seven days consecutive, for careless driving.

Harold Lloyd Hall, RCN, was fined $250 in Colwood RCMP court Thursday for impaired driving, plus $25 for driving without a licence and $25 for using another person's driver's licence.

Preparatory services for the new minister of Gorge Presbyterian Church, Rev. T. K. Amis, will be held tonight at 6:30 in the church. A reception in the church hall will follow the ceremony.

First fall meeting of the Greater Victoria Parent-Teachers Council will be held Friday, Sept. 26, at 8 p.m. in North Ward School.

The Margaret Jenkins and Bank Street School PTA will meet Monday, September 15, at 8 p.m., in the Margaret Jenkins auditorium.

The speaker will be Mrs. Gwen Downes.

Ronald C. Mayled, 1790 Denman Street, was sentenced in Esquimalt police court today to 21 days in jail for impaired driving.

It was his second similar conviction so he was given no option of a fine.

Kelsey Plums on Market
Do Some Preserving Now!

By PENNY SAVER

Plum jam and plum chutney... Just the idea makes me hungry! It's time, now the children are back at school and you are on a regular routine again, to get into step and do some preserving.

Sweet Kelsey plums are in season and ripe enough for canning, preserving or eating now... so buy a few pounds at 25 cents a pound.

Mmm! I've got a sweet tooth! And you can blame me, when I stand outside this bakery shop window and see all the scrumptious dainties. Who thinks of calories then?

I spied ginger tarts, mocha logs, cherry tarts, chocolate eclairs, marzipan and a host of other dainties.

I wasn't the only one standing there, either. Half Victoria's citizens were right along with me eyeing those delectable eats priced at nine cents each and up.

Danish squash tops my menu ideas for this weekend. What could be tastier and more nutritious than baked or steamed squash? This vegetable is seven cents a pound.

I've had calls lately from readers asking me where egg plant can be found. Well, now I know, so phone me again. It's priced at 35 cents a pound.

Next down my menu list is broccoli. Creamed, steamed and perfectly yum is this vitamin-high and calorie-low vegetable that's priced at 25 cents a pound.

Why not go shopping where the prices are low? Phone me at 2-3131, I'll tell you the spots.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Guests who won't come to dinner! Please help me out of a dilemma. We have been entertained by a certain couple, so I have twice invited them to parties at our home.

The first time they were leaving on a vacation; the second time they were going to a concert. Have I repaid my debt to them, or must I keep on inviting them until they are able to accept?

Louise Davis answers: You have shown your intention of repaying your debt but the debt isn't yet fulfilled. Try again. These friends had legitimate excuses each time. If they liked you enough to invite you to their home, I should think you would equally enjoy their company at yours, especially if you wish to continue the friendship. I hope that inviting them isn't to pay an obligation but rather to mutually enjoy each other's good company. When you call again, try to set the date well in advance. If they continue to turn down your invitations, I suggest letting it ride for a while.

Pat gets a pat on the back: I was terribly embarrassed when I went to a buffet supper wearing a flowered silk print cocktail dress and found all the other women in cotton sport dresses, including the hostess.

Louise Davis answers: It was announced at meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Veterans' Hospital that broken jewelry and beads were needed for use in the arts and crafts department.

Reports were given as follows: Mrs. G. Ree and Mrs. H. F. Jarvis, summer visiting; Mrs. O'Leary, library books; Mrs. G. F. Holmes, conversion of Victory Bonds; Mrs. Ree and Mrs. G. E. Lane, picnic for veterans.

It was announced that a record player had been given to the auxiliary for use of blind patients.

Mrs. Eric Young was named to represent the auxiliary at the 14th annual meeting of the British Columbia Hospital Association, auxiliaries division, in Vancouver.

Card Social—Plans for a card social to be held Sept. 22 were made by Canadian Daughters League Assembly No. 5, meeting at Newstead Hall with Mrs. H. F. Ballantyne presiding. Plans were also discussed for a fall bazaar in late October, Mrs. L. E. Harkin convening. Mrs. J. C. F. Blowey gave a reading on Canadians in other countries, and was later presented with her service jewel for work as corresponding secretary.

Fall Plans—A bingo party in October and a bazaar in December were projects discussed by Florence Nightingale Chapter, IOOE, at a recent meeting. Money was voted for Municipal Chapter's bursary, and for a library at the new adopted school on Saturna Island.

Dinner Meeting—Dr. R. M. McKenzie spoke on "Dentistry in Alaska" at a dinner meeting of Victoria Dental Assistants' Association at the Strathcona Hotel Tuesday. President Miss Donna Butcher presided. Certification course was discussed and lectures will begin in October. Mrs. D. Anderson, who is leaving the association, was presented with a gift.

Powell River Wedding Vows

The wedding was solemnized recently at Powell River between Orilla Maria Moretto, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Moretto of Powell River and David James Alld Williams, youngest son of Capt. and Mrs. F. E. Williams of View Royal, Victoria.

Given in marriage by her brother the bride wore a gown of chalk white peau de sole. The princess bodice had a stiffened collar rolling slightly to a deep V back and front. The very full skirt fell into a semi-train. Her chapel veil was held with a rolled diadem and her bouquet was of pink and white rapture roses.

Mrs. Myfanwy Coombes, sister of the groom, was matron of honor; Miss Roma Roraghan, bridesmaid, and Miss Louise Moretto, junior bridesmaid. All wore sheath dresses of turquoise brocade with full overskirts of nylon net in the same shade and gloves to match. Their crescent bouquets and hair bandeaux were of white baby mums.

The groom had his brother as best man. Receiving guests at the reception at the Lawn Bowling Club were the bride's mother in a navy French crepe gown with a powder blue feathered hat and gloves. The groom's mother wore a grey and rose brocade suit with a rose velvet hat and fur stole. Their corsages were of white feathered carnations.

Travelling to California on their wedding trip the bride wore a beige silk linen suit with hat and shoes, in tone, a red coat and an orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are making their home in Kimberley, where the groom is employed with the Bank of Montreal.

Miss Ruth Rogers, hostess and fashion consultant was in Victoria for a few hours Thursday and was an honor guest at an early evening party attended by local travel agents. Miss Rogers divides her times between serving as hostess and adviser to women passengers on the S. S. Lailani during its cruises to Hawaii and in travelling through the Pacific Northwest giving talks on attractive cruise wardrobes. Her motto is "you need not spend a fortune to acquire an attractive cruise wardrobe."

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here's a Stand-Up Hip And Abdominal Exercise

Q. "I would like to have a mild hip and abdominal exercise which is firming and which I can take standing up. I must have one which does not take up too much space since my apartment is very small."

A. Do this one. Stand tall with your left side toward the wall and your left hand on the wall. Swing the right leg forward and backward as far as you can. Make the swing smooth and rhythmic and keep both knees stiff. After a while turn the right side toward the wall and swing the left leg.

Q. "My brows and lashes are very light. I am a blonde but my brows and brows look peroxide."

A. Use a light brown eyebrow pencil on your brows. Use light feathery strokes and then blend with an eyebrow brush. You can use brown mascara on the lashes or you may even find that black mascara is more flattering.

Q. "Is it all right to use peroxide to bleach the fine hair on my upper lip?"

A. Yes.

Q. "I want to give myself a hot oil shampoo but do not know how to do it."

A. Part the hair at intervals, progressively, until you have covered the entire head. When you make a part rub warm oil along the part. You can use cotton for this. After this wrap a wet, hot, towel about the head. Leave it on until it cools. Repeat this several times. If you can do so, leave the oil on all night.

Q. "Should I use an astringent on my neck? Will it tighten the skin?"

A. If the skin of your neck is dry I would not use one. Instead do firming exercises and use circulation creams and oily lubricating creams.

Q. "I have unattractive brown pigmentation on my arms. What causes this and what can I do about it?"

A. So far as I know no one knows what causes this. You can cover it up with make-up.

Q. "How do you use eye pads?"

A. I suppose you mean the little cotton pads which you dip in ice water and then place on top of the closed eyes. This is most restful when the eyes are tired or in hot weather or after a hard day.

Q. "I am 50 years old. Is it too late to learn to dance? I always wanted to but never learned how and believe it or not I have a beau who loves to dance."

A. Heavens no, it is not too late! Take lessons.

In Metropolitan United Church recently, Rev. G. L. Gillard heard marriage vows of Kathleen Iola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gordon, Pembroke Street, and Robert Stanley Floyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Floyd, Oscar Street.

Mrs. Sheldon McCullough, cousin of the bride, was soloist, and E. Boothroyd was organist at the ceremony, for which the church was decorated with tall baskets of vari-colored flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a portrait gown featuring a beruffled pleated bodice, and very full skirt made of tiers of Chantilly lace. Her chapel veil was edged in matching lace, and misted from a tiara of glistening iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses with white begonias and stephanotis.

As maid of honor, Miss Joan Walsh wore a waltz-length gown of rose taffeta, featuring scooped neckline, short sleeves and full skirt. Miss Noreen Gordon and Miss Betty Ann Sadler, bridesmaids, wore similarly styled dresses in pale blue. They carried colonial bouquets of Rapture roses and feathered carnations, and wore matching headresses.

Three little sisters, Vicki, Patricia and Georgette Watson, were in identical pale yellow dresses. They carried bouquets of yellow Marguerites with blue feathered carnations, and wore flowers in their hair.

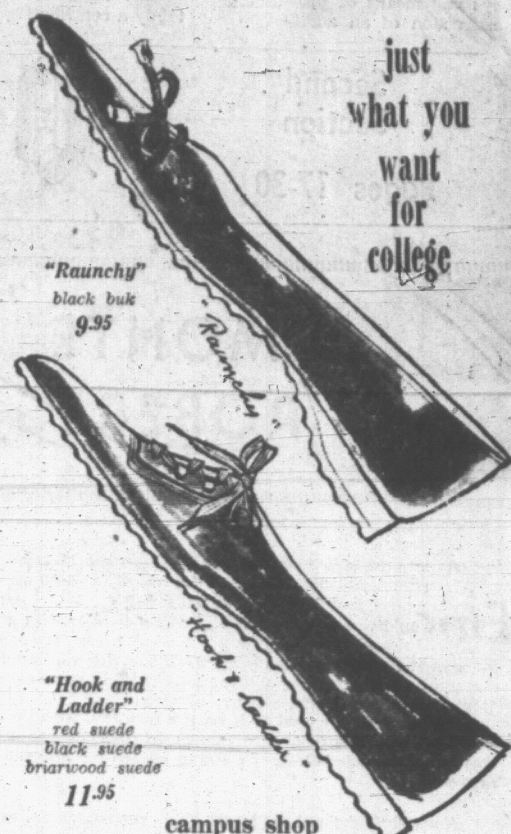

CGIT Meals—Members of the Women's Association, Metropolitan United Church, made plans at a recent meeting to serve luncheon and supper to all CGIT members attending a conference to be held on Sept. 27. Mrs. G. A. R. Stelck presided; Mrs. Joseph Jones took the devotions and plans were discussed for the fall bazaar at the church hall at the beginning of November. Tea was served by the Servimus group.

Francis W. Reed was best man. Brothers of the groom, Pat Floyd and F. O. W. T. Floyd, ushered with A. W. Fairbairn and Norman Helgesen. David Armstrong proposed the toast at a reception for 200 guests at Holyrood House.

'Emancipated Womanhood' Receives Support in Face of Criticism

By MAUREEN DUFFUS

According to a Canadian Press story from Toronto, management consultant Moorhead Wright thinks that "emancipated womanhood is a major contribution to the disturbances which daily make life unpleasant for hard-working males."

Miserable man. He admits this is his own experience with women, but according to a scientific-type survey of Victoria men conducted by the Times women's department, he's talking utter nonsense.

With one dissenting voice (and a couple of fence-sitters), our men have come right out and said they think we're wonderful.

"Are Canadian women making life unpleasant for the menfolk," was the question asked. These are the answers:

Dr. R. H. Trythall, dentist and commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club: "I don't think so. I think life would be (censored) ... unpleasant without females around. Let some of these men do their own cooking and housework for awhile and see what they think of that!"

Rev. William Hills: "You may quote me on this. The parson at Cadboro Bay gives a firm vote of confidence in Canadian women. They are more free than most from inherited conventions, but they are not too forward, and they have a wide range of interests. I reserve my compliments only from the battalions who appear in every community scene."

Tony Molliet, scientist and police commissioner, had some qualifications: "What a fantastic question. Perhaps some women haven't got used to their freedom as rapidly as one could wish, but then men don't always know how to handle freedom either. I think capabilities of both are essentially the same, but I do feel results are better if the wife stays home to look after house and children rather than exercising her rights of equality to go out to work."

But this faint disapproval of emancipated working wives was counteracted by a newcomer from South Africa, Brian Roberts, wine company manager and world traveller:

"Canadian wives are tops. This is no reflection on my wife, who has turned into as good a Canadian wife as any. As a student of form I consider there is a much higher percentage of attractive women in Canada than anywhere else, but more than that they manage to be wife, mother, housekeeper and often breadwinner as well (Denise Roberts teaches ballet) without making life in the least unpleasant for husbands. Canadian women are just out of this world!"

Love that man! Kay Jefferies, wife and mother, and women's editor at a local broadcasting station, also has an answer for the men who disapprove of working wives:

"If you want to be satisfied with the role of hermit, then stay a hermit."

"With the higher cost of living, especially education, and the higher standard of living to which we are becoming accustomed I think that the dual role of homemaker and wage earner gives the husband an easier acceptance of items otherwise beyond the budget. And it widens the scope of everyone in the family."

Another remark of the management consultant, who was talking to an advertising and sales club on—of all things—"The Development of Men," was that "women are probably confused and bewildered by their comparatively new-found freedom ... women students at colleges ... did not know why they were being educated."

We spoke to Professor Robert Wallace at Victoria College.

"They know why they are there. Many feel that without academic opportunities they won't have the challenge and stimulation they need. The bright person, even a woman, wants more than a lifetime of watching television. There was a day when preserving and keeping a step ahead of the children was stimulation enough, but now they need intellectual stimulation as well."

"Are Canadian women making life unpleasant for the menfolk? I think it's a ridiculous question," said Professor Wallace with glorious contempt. "I am constantly surrounded by women who make my job more pleasant."

Dr. W. H. Gaddes, clinical psychologist, took a nice psychological line to re-inforce the above opinions: "Statements like this are interesting but not necessarily psychologically valid. It is impossible to generalize about groups of people. There is no way to prove or disprove such a statement, which might possibly be true in individual cases, or at least be a contributing factor to unpleasantness. Sociological surveys on the subject would be extremely difficult."

Well, the Times women's department has tried to do its bit. It may not be a valid scientific survey, but it certainly got a lot of men talking.

Oh yes, the one dissenting voice, Photographer Irving Strickland, was asked if women made life unpleasant. I suppose we should quote his answer.

Excitingly New Fashions Share Interest With Classic Favorites

Old favorites in classic styles still keep their place in the fashion picture this fall, along with the year's exciting new models—the high-waisted directoire silhouette, shorter skirts and the softly rounded styles.

The fashion story is told this week at the Hudson's Bay Company Douglas Room, where women's groups are sponsoring shows today, at 11 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 this evening. Showings tomorrow are at 11 a.m. and 2:30 in the afternoon.

Yesterday's showings began with the new fall coats, including a fudge-brown model with wide collar, the new seychelle back that curves to the hem, and a distinctive belt, all in chambray lined wool and cashmere.

Suits with shorter jackets were featured, exemplified by a ruby-toned suede finish wool, with wide collar ruffled with black fox fur, and blouson effect at the back, drawn into a notched peplum and worn over a slim skirt.

Ultra smart sportswear includes the skirt and sweater look, exemplified by a fleecy cardigan fastened with gold cluding a mist-green pure-silk buttons, worn with a slim all-wool skirt in cinnamon-stick brown with pleats at the front.

Then there's the chemise jumper in the New Century tartan, styled in the long, lithe line, and caught just below the hip by a tie belt held in place by four buttoned loops—woven, crafted and styled in British Columbia.

A creation of Norman Hartnell is the bowed and buttoned teal blue jersey trapeze top, poised over a slim skirt. Back is a bloused are controlled by an elasticized band, skirt is fully lined and carries out the button-bow motif of its match mate.

For dressing up for cocktails there's a lot to choose from, in cocktail frock, with interest focused on the bloused-back; or a sapphire blue, also of pure silk, with slim skirt underscoring a draped and folded bodice, deeply rounded neckline and tiny sleeves.

Sophistication for the mature figure is found in a sheath of smooth, flattering Barathea, gently contoured to give a perfect fit, with draped Empire bodice, in autumn-leaf green.

Formals show contrasting trends, the sheathed and the bouffant. Turquoise silk taffeta is fashioned into a fitted bodice and puffed skirt curving high in the front and sweeping into a train at the back, under a net-lined, petal-pointed overskirt curving from a bow centred at the waist. Classic sophistication is exemplified by a gown of rich turquoise satin, a beautiful column featuring a floating panel back, slightly en train, and a decollete neckline.

Commentary at the shows is by Adele Gault, and Irene Warren is hostess. Models are Mary Rawnsley, Kathie Matheson, Ricki Nickells, Doris Usher, June Charlton and Mrs. Ida Collis. Organ interludes are played by Mrs. T. B. O'Neill.

Wedding Guests

Out-of-town guests for Hackwell-Mellings wedding recently in St. Saviour's Anglican Church, included Mr. and Mrs. R. Miller and Mrs. E. Baston of Campbell River and Mr. and Mrs. D. Banks of Chemainus.

Of Personal Interest

Alberta Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gordon Fulmer announce the engagement of their only daughter, Janet Margaret, to Wayne Arthur Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stock of Lacombe, Alta. The wedding is to take place in St. Andrew's Church, Lacombe, next Friday at 3 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Fulmer are leaving Sunday for Lacombe to attend the wedding.

Christening

Janice Lynn were names given the seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Adams at her christening in Esquimalt United Church. Rev. G. H. Turpin officiated. Present at the ceremony, which took place on her mother's birthday, were the baby's great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Adams, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Adams, Royal Oak, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Sisco, Moose Jaw, Sask. The baby wore a sterling silver locket, gift of her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kirker. A tea was held at the home of the baby's parents after the ceremony.

Take me to your Admiral dealer

...we hear that Admiral TV for '59 is out of this world

Take a look at Admiral TV for '59 and you'll be saying the same thing. It's like watching TV for the very first time... discovering that wonderful things have been happening since TV first came into your life. It's finding that Admiral gives you a picture so clear and bright and realistic that it's almost 3-dimensional... that Admiral sound is High Fidelity sound... that Admiral controls have done away with all the little irritations you've been putting up with for years. It's the enjoyment of having TV that's an attractive piece of modern furniture... as Admiral TV for '59 introduces "decorator approved" originals that are even slimmer than the first Admiral slimline models.

Take one look inside Admiral TV for '59, and you'll see some of the things that have made these advances possible. There's the 110" picture tube... the shorter tube that has banished the old-style "bustle" in the back that once marred the appearance of your TV. There's the horizontal chassis that reduces operating temperature, lengthens the effective life of components, helps to make possible that slimmer-than-ever cabinet. There's the power transformer that delivers more consistent power, steps-up voltage delivered to the picture tube.

There are so many new Admiral features in the '59 line. But they all add up to viewing that's away ahead of anything you've yet experienced. So if you want to get the most out of viewing, see your Admiral dealer... let him show you just what we mean. Then believe your eyes... if you can... and enter your own new world of TV entertainment with Admiral TV for '59.

PILL TO KILL WORMS CLAIMED

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Eli Lilly and Company said Thursday it has developed a pill to kill intestinal worms which infect an estimated 400,000,000 people in the world.

Lilly claims close to 100 per cent effectiveness against pinworms, the main type of parasite in the United States and Canada.

Council Rejects Union Shop Plan

Tie Vote Kills No-Strike Pact; 'Freedom Undercut'—Proudfoot

A draft bylaw which would have barred strikes by City Hall "inside" staff was defeated in a tie vote by city council Thursday when half the aldermen refused to accept a union shop clause.

The bylaw was submitted to ratify a five-year agreement suggested by the City Hall Employees' Association. The agreement had been approved by the union.

The agreement would have provided: automatic and binding arbitration of all disputes by a County Court judge; a union shop under which all employees would be required to join the union after three months' probationary employment.

Following the vote, council referred to a committee the problem of working out some contract with the union. Present contract expires Feb. 28 but must be renegotiated by Dec. 31.

'NUMBERS ONLY'

The union shop requirement was attacked by Ald. D. J. Proudfoot as undercutting freedom.

"There's no freedom of any kind now, just restrictions and restrictions forcing a man to become a number," he said.

Aldermen Geoffrey Edgelow, Arthur Dowell and Elmer McEwen voted with him against the bylaw.

Voting for it were Aldermen Hugh Ramsay, M. H. Mooney and A. I. Curtis. Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson was absent. Mayor Percy Scurrell's tie vote failed to carry the bylaw to approval.

URGED BY WYATT

Ald. McEwen said several employees had told him they were against the union shop.

City Manager C. C. Wyatt, who recommended the agreement as being in the best interests of the city, said he understood a majority of the union had approved the agreement.

He added that 93 per cent of the 178 inside employees were members of the union. The police, firemen and outside staff unions had union shop clauses.

Answering a question by the mayor, Mr. Wyatt said passage of the by-law would mean that the 7 per cent of employees not members of the union would have to join or lose their jobs.

EXEMPTIONS?

Ald. Ramsay suggested that the by-law be laid on the table, so that council could determine from the union whether present employees could be exempted from the provision requiring membership in the union.

Ald. Ramsay said he was not in favor of compulsory union membership, but in this case having "a single union under a single roof would be an advantage to the city, avoiding bargaining with several outside unions to the hardship of the taxpayer."

Leave Here United Green Tells Tories

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER (CP) — A veteran campaigner Thursday buoyed Progressive Conservative hopes of making a comeback in British Columbia provincial politics.

Howard Green, 62-year-old federal minister of public works and MP for Vancouver-Quadra, told 600 delegates to the B.C. leadership convention:

DISILLUSIONED

"The people of British Columbia are disillusioned with the present Social Credit government but are not looking for a CCF government and I don't think anyone would suggest they are looking for a Liberal government.

HOWARD GREEN
... "This is a challenge"

"This is a challenge and a challenge for this convention," he said. "So do your best. Remember that governments and political parties are servants of the people."

STANDING OVATION

"Above all leave the convention a united team, dedicated to giving the people of British Columbia better government."

Mr. Green was given a standing ovation following his address.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

Tories Throw Out Proposal To Abolish $28 Tax Rebate

By PETE LOUDON
Times Political Reporter
VANCOUVER — A motion that the Progressive Conservative Association favor abolition of the $28 homeowners' grant, introduced by the Bennett government in 1957, was thrown out by a convention resolutions committee Thursday.

Although the credentials committee of the convention has still to recommend whether or not a number of Esquimalt delegates should be seated, it was generally expected Thursday night they would be given full voting powers.

About eight of 12 delegates named at an Aug. 12 meeting in Esquimalt have since been objected to by petitioners to the provincial executive.

The petitioners claim the delegates, although all good Conservatives, do not have membership in the Esquimalt riding association, hence are disqualified. Most observers feel the credentials committee will decide to let the delegates be seated as they all have residence within the riding.

Credentials chairman, A. H. Ainsworth said he had received no instructions concerning the Esquimalt people.

Use of public money for Social Credit "politicizing" was charged to Premier W. A. C. Bennett Thursday by provincial Conservative leadership candidate Dr. D. F. Kidd.

Dr. Kidd said: "The premier and his cabinet are politicizing with public money by holding cabinet meetings all over the province."

Premier Bennett said earlier the new policy of taking the cabinet to the hinterlands was a Centennial year venture. So far this year, the cabinet has met at Prince Rupert, Nanaimo and Trail.

Normally, the cabinet meets twice each week in Victoria.

Far too many people realize the centre of B.C. lies north of the Jasper-Prince Rupert railway connection, Dr. Kidd told reporters. "We've got to get access into the North. We've got to get into the country before we can undertake serious development."

Dean Finlayson said he felt the proposed "marriage" of the CCF and the Canadian labor movement (the Canadian Labor Congress) means the CCF will lose ground in the next election.

"Labor has lost the good part of its greatest asset—public sympathy and goodwill... If the bride is popular and the bridegroom is not, it makes the situation less attractive. Reaction against the labor movement will also react against the CCF."

First victory in the preliminary bouts in the leadership battle went to Deane Finlayson Thursday when Kelowna lawyer, Mrs. Dorothy Harrison-Smith, was named president of the party's women's organization.

Mrs. Harrison-Smith is a Finlayson supporter.

She succeeds Mrs. Maxine Dewdney of Trail, wife of Peter Dewdney who had himself intended challenging the Finlayson leadership. Mrs. Dewdney did not stand for re-election and Mrs. Harrison-Smith was placed in office by acclamation.

Is federal Justice Minister Davie Fulton in the Kidd camp? Some observers at the Conservative convention have been asking this question after meeting George McLean, spokesman for the Kidd-for-leader campaign. Mr. McLean toured with Mr. Fulton as a campaign worker in the last federal election. He hails from Niagara Falls and says he came out to help Dr. Kidd, purely as a volunteer.

Dr. Kidd, who earlier had left it to his committeemen to say unkind things about his adversary in the B.C. Conservative political leadership race, Thursday afternoon doffed his "Kidd gloves."

"I've got nothing against Finlayson, but he's had his chance. He's had six years. There was an excuse for four years perhaps, but in the past two years he hasn't generated the confidence of the public. You can't get jam out of an empty can."

"Federally, we got nowhere for many years until we had a change of leaders," he added. "Deane had to have his chance, he's failed it."

A three-year ban on strikes and walkouts in B.C.—aimed at stabilizing the provincial economy—will be proposed to the convention.

But observers feel the motion is doomed—both leadership candidates have expressed opinions in opposition to the scheme.

Both Deane Finlayson and Dr. Kidd have agreed in pre-convention press conferences that the present labor laws need revision.

But both felt industrial peace could be attained through labor-management planning under government leadership—without compulsion.

The three-year ban on strikes and lockouts was proposed by North Vancouver constituents.

Both Finlayson and Dr. Kidd gave unity top priority as they strongly criticized the policies of Premier Bennett's Social Credit government.

Both said at separate press conferences that no matter who wins the race, the forces of the other would be behind the winner.

The convention practically took over the Vancouver Hotel, where the massive main ball room will serve as the convention hall.

Dr. Kidd leadership committee workers were busy in the lobbies handing out "Win With Kidd" ribbons and literature. But there was little such activity evident on behalf of Finlayson.

omy—will be proposed to the convention.

But both felt industrial peace could be attained through labor-management planning under government leadership—without compulsion.

The three-year ban on strikes and lockouts was proposed by North Vancouver constituents.

Both Finlayson and Dr. Kidd gave unity top priority as they strongly criticized the policies of Premier Bennett's Social Credit government.

Both said at separate press conferences that no matter who wins the race, the forces of the other would be behind the winner.

The convention practically took over the Vancouver Hotel, where the massive main ball room will serve as the convention hall.

Dr. Kidd leadership committee workers were busy in the lobbies handing out "Win With Kidd" ribbons and literature. But there was little such activity evident on behalf of Finlayson.

COURTROOM DRAMA

Accused Freed, Ruled Unable To Stand Trial

NANAIMO—The second case of the fall assize here ended suddenly Thursday following a stay-of-proceedings order by the attorney-general's department.

Robert Emmanuel Steele, 25, Port Alberni, was acquitted on a criminal negligence charge, on grounds he was not physically able to proceed.

Steele was charged in the traffic death, January 13, of passenger Murray Ainslie Bethune, 26, Port Alberni.

Steele passed out in the prisoner's box during cross-examination of Crown witness Dr. David Melvin Smith. An RCMP sergeant caught the unconscious man's collar as he slipped, ashen-faced, to the floor. He was immediately attended by Dr. Smith and resumed the stand in about 10 minutes.

Steele suffered severe head injuries in the late-January smash-up about four miles north of Duncan. Also killed when the late-model car smashed into a chipper truck was Benjamin Bodnar, 30, of Alberni.

It is understood the accused suffered from amnesia after the crash and was kept in hospital for nearly a month.

Dismissal of the case was announced by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane following a hurried call to Victoria by Crown counsel D. M. Cunliffe of this city.

Only one witness, Dr. Smith, had been called when Steele slumped to the floor.

Dr. Smith said Bethune died from shock, following severe head and internal injuries in the accident.

Sherwood Rites Held

DUNCAN (CP)—Funeral services were held here Thursday for Mrs. Barbara Sherwood, 86, who died Monday at her home in Chemainus.

She had been a resident of Chemainus for the past 11 years. Previous to that she had resided here and at Extension, near Nanaimo.

Mrs. Sherwood was born in Earsdon Village, Northumberland, England.

Survivors include three sons, Robert, in Extension; John, in Chemainus; and Henry, at Canmore, Alta.; two daughters, Mrs. Marie Sketchley and Mrs. F. Gibbons, both in Chemainus; 10 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren, and one brother, Jack Mather, in England.

DIEFENBAKER 'ENCOURAGED'

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said of President Eisenhower's Far East statement he takes "encouragement from the fact that direct talks between the United States and Communist representatives are expected to begin soon in Warsaw."

"I earnestly hope that the Chinese Communists will respond to the president's suggestion for peaceful settlement, for it would be catastrophic if they would frustrate them by further aggressive action."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday night told Communist China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight.

Immediate congressional reaction to his White House address was strongly favorable. Nationalist China, which the United States has sworn to defend, was certain to applaud.

But it remained to be seen whether China and Russia—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand-in-hand"—would accept his warning.

Peiping Thursday unleashed the heaviest artillery barrage yet, on the blockaded offshore island of Quemoy. Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a rally of 100,000 cheering Russians at Stalingrad Thursday night that any attack on Red China would be considered an attack on Russia.

Eisenhower interrupted his vacation to make the speech, perhaps the strongest of his career. He arranged to fly back early today to Newport, R.I. In his radio-TV address, beamed in 40 languages by the Voice of America, Eisenhower deplored the bombardment of Quemoy. He called it "a tragic affair" which already has killed or wounded 1,000 persons—mostly civilians.

No Fighting 'Just for Quemoy'

But the issue, he said, is not the defence of the tiny islands. He pledged: "No American boy will ever be asked by me to fight just for Quemoy."

The issue, he said, is: "Shall we take the position that, submitting to threat, it is better to surrender pieces of free territory in the hope that this will satisfy the appetite of the aggressor and we shall have peace?"

"Containing the answer is no, the president said the free world must fight if necessary for that principle.

The democracies tried appeasement at Munich and failed to prevent—in fact brought on—the Second World War, he said, and "I never want to see that history repeated."

He said the Reds are probing, testing, and their bluff must be called or "tragedy after tragedy would befall us."

Eisenhower coupled this warning to the Communists with a bid for negotiation—between the United States and China or, if that fails, in the United Nations.

"There is not going to be any appeasement," he said. "I believe that there is not going to be any war."

"Two-thirds of the radio-TV reports to the American people" was on the theme, "no appeasement . . . no Munich . . . no retreat in the face of armed aggression."

Negotiation 'Far Better Way'

The final third was conciliatory, a plea for Communist agreement to "a far better way than resort to force to settle these differences . . . the way of negotiation."

In rejecting "appeasement" and proposing negotiation Eisenhower went farther than State Secretary Dulles has in previous statements on both counts.

Eisenhower seemed very close to saying "yes" to the big question—would the United States

U.K. Backs U.S. Stand

LONDON (CP)—President Eisenhower's Far East statement won generally favorable reaction throughout the world today, and Russia, while reiterating its contention that the American policy is one of "military blackmail," was comparatively mild in its comment.

Britain said it supports Eisenhower's "no appeasement" declaration but stressed that it has given no promise to go to war over the offshore Chinese island of Quemoy.

A Soviet comment said the American president was obviously trying to calm public opinion at home, which was "deeply worried over the military provocation" against Red China.

Eisenhower met some unfavorable reaction at home from Democrat Wayne Morse (Ore.) who said Chiang Kai-shek is dragging the United States into war. (See Page 3).

Britain's statement amounted to an expression of unreserved moral support for the American position while leaving itself the right to decide whether to go to the aid of the U.S. in the event of fighting with Red China.

The foreign office spokesman told correspondents here that Britain supported Eisenhower's view that no use of force should be made to alter the status of Quemoy and its neighbor Matsui.

MRS. ANN MERAW
... heartbreaking secret

SPECIAL GOAL

Swim Feat To Bring Son Back

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Ann Meraw had a special goal in her epic conquest of Okanagan Lake this summer.

No athletic determination drove the 39-year-old Vancouver woman to complete the arduous, 55-mile swim.

Her boy, 17-year-old Billy Meraw, vanished May 6. He has never been reported again.

"We hoped publicity from the swim would bring him to contact us—if he could," Mrs. Meraw said today.

"That was our one big hope. But we heard nothing."

"I had tried to keep the thought from my mind. But now I'm sure that something must have happened to him."

Neither the Meraws nor Billy's friends believe the tall, wavy-haired youth simply ran away from home.

He was happy, well-liked by his schoolmates, a good student, and had never been missing before.

But he made a distinction between the status of the islands and the question of whether force should be used to alter that status.

The spokesman told his daily press conference:

"The immediate question is not the present or future status of the offshore islands."

"It is whether a dispute of this nature should be settled by

'Women? We Love 'Em' Chorus Victoria Men

Wonderful, wonderful, just plain wonderful.

Supreme Court's Order Unanimous

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ordered the Little Rock school board today to proceed "immediately" with racial integration of Central High School.

The unanimous decision put the next move squarely up to Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas.

He was given emergency powers by the state legislature to close any school ordered to integrate by a federal court.

Faubus said in Little Rock Thursday that he expected the high court to order immediate integration and that he "very likely" would try to use the new law to close down the school. But he did not say flatly that he would.

The court's decision was set forth in a three-paragraph order, limited strictly to legal aspects of the case.

It upheld the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in setting aside a 2½-year delay granted the school board by Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley on June 21.

COURTROOM TENSE
The order, read by Chief Justice Earl Warren in a tense courtroom, said the views of the nine justices elaborating the decision would be issued "in due course."

In these later opinions the court may elaborate on what it meant by its 1955 doctrine that integration throughout the south should proceed "with all deliberate speed." But its order today made clear that in Little Rock's Central High School at least "all deliberate speed" means right now.

The decision was another victory for Thurgood Marshall, lanky counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored Peoples.

He said that he "assumed" and "expected" the seven Negro children would go to Central High School on Monday. He said he expected no violence "unless somebody provokes it."

LAW NOW CLEAR
He said now that the Supreme Court has made the law "crystal clear" he would not expect "a governor or anybody" to violate it.

Attorney Richard C. Butler, who argued the case for the school board, voiced disappointment with the decision. But he said, however, the board "will continue to try to adjust conditions in Little Rock . . . to the law of the land. So far as it is able."

The court's brief opinion said the justices felt that it was "important to make prompt announcement" of its decision—obviously referring to Central High's scheduled opening on Monday.

Little Rock Girds For Crisis

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Top department of justice attorneys and a swarm of deputy U.S. marshals swung into action today to enforce the Supreme Court's decision that Central High School must admit negro students and to forestall any possible violence.

"That was not unexpected," Gov. Orval E. Faubus commented tersely when he heard the news.

He was in a meeting of the state elections commission, which he declined to stop. He said he will have no further comment until later this afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, head of the NAACP in Arkansas, was jubilant.

"It is our hope," she said, "that this decision will make it crystal clear to the Little Rock School Board that it can no longer deny children the right to a decent high school education because of race or color."

Snow, Frost, Heat Waves—Normal Here

The weather is "topic A" across the North American continent where Calgary racked up an all time 83 mark Thursday, snow fell on Labrador and northeastern Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick had frost, Saskatchewan looked for continuing autumn heat waves, and the New England States got a foretaste of winter with 24-degree temperatures.

But here in Victoria — of course — we are enjoying a normally mild September — of course.

Hardly worth mentioning are daytime temperatures in the high sixties, lots of sunshine varied with cream-puff clouds and occasional showers.

Russian Guns Shell Jap Fishing Fleet

TOKYO (Reuters)—A small northern Japanese fishing fleet today radioed an urgent message for help after reporting it was being shelled and attacked by Soviet patrol vessels near Habomai Island, north of Japan.

Habomai Island was occupied by Soviet forces at the end of the Pacific war.

A radio report received in Tokyo this evening from Kishiro port, northern Japan, said three fishing vessels of the fleet had run aground near Suisho Island, a few miles off Habomai Island.

A coastguard spokesman in Tokyo said one of the vessels, the 30-ton Waksahio Maru, had sent a final message saying she was being boarded by Russian troops. The message asked for immediate aid.

Japanese patrol boats have left Kishiro port to investigate the attack.

HOCKEY STAR FINED $1,000, NO JAIL TERM

VANCOUVER (CP)—Nathan (Bert) Olmstead was sentenced today to a $1,000 fine or three months in jail for assault causing bodily harm.

The fine was substituted by the court of appeal for the six-month sentence the 32-year-old hockey player was given by Magistrate N. J. Bartman when he was found guilty in police court of an attack June 28, on Ralph Rooney, a West Vancouver businessman.

Olmstead paid the fine immediately.

Tryin' t' integrate th' U.S. schools c'd disintegrate th' country.

Navy Denies Shelling B.C. Village

After a check Thursday, the RCN Pacific Command states it is convinced shells reported falling Tuesday at or near Roberts Creek could not have been from naval guns.

The sound of three shells, one a mile inland of the village which lies between Sechart and Gibson's Landing, the others not far offshore, was reported by residents.

Units of the Second Canadian Escort Squadron were carrying out firing exercises in Georgia Strait on Tuesday.

CAREFUL CHECK

An official statement from the RCN Pacific command issued Thursday states that a careful check of the charts and gunnery records covering the ships' movement on that day has been completed.

The statement continues: "HMCS ships Skeena and Athabasca carried out a surface shoot in the designated firing area 'NF' in the Straits of Georgia from 9.30 to 11.30 Tuesday. HMCS Cayuga had detached from the division and did not take part in this shoot.

"The two ships were in a position 257 degrees true bearing, 5.25 nautical miles from Roberts Creek. Throughout the exercise the ships were firing to the west, in a direction away from Roberts Creek. There is, therefore, no possibility that any shells fell in the area of Roberts Creek, ashore or in the water within well over five miles, during the morning.

"In the afternoon, HMCS Cayuga had rejoined the group. The three ships were operating in a position 255 degrees true bearing, 7 1/2 to 8 nautical miles from Roberts Creek. There is a possibility that, on the final run, between 2.50 and 2.52 p.m., a shell could have landed in the sea off Roberts Creek, still within the designated firing area and at a distance of not less than 2 nautical miles south-westwards of Roberts Creek.

Island Ratepayers Hit Freight Boost

Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association today sent a telegram to the federal transport board in Ottawa protesting any increase in railway rates.

The telegram, signed by George Bonner, president; Russell Rice, treasurer; and Herb Watson, secretary, reads:

"Dear Sirs:—Do not forget that the Canadian National Railway was built and an election won in 1905 for the sole purpose of competition with the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. "Therefore any joint appeal by these railways for increased rates is beyond the power of the transport board to deal with."

Mr. Bonner recalled that the 1905 election was won by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Liberal party. "On election day, I travelled by dog sleigh from Melville to force, and upon that point we strongly support the American position."

Asked whether Britain considers the use of American convoys to protect Nationalist Chinese ships as the use of force, the spokesman said: "I should have thought that force was when you made things go bang."

The spokesman, answering a further question, said no guarantee of U.S. support in the event of an attack on Hong Kong had been "sought or given."

On Formosa, Nationalist Foreign Minister Huang Shao Ku, said he was "deeply impressed" by Eisenhower's "far-sighted declaration" the real issue facing the world is "pre-meditated aggression engineered by both Soviet Russians and Chinese Communists."

RED CHINA SILENT

No official reaction came immediately from Communist China but the party newspaper Peiping People's Daily said today the United States should ease the dangerous situation in the Formosa Straits with "deeds not words."

In Japan, the opposition Socialist party called for the withdrawal of Nationalist troops from Matsuo and Quemoy and objected to "military intervention" by the United States.

In Paris, the ring-wing L'Aurore said that Eisenhower "deemed it necessary to address the American people because he felt perfectly well that United States policy in the 'strait crisis' gave rise to serious objections and contradictory debates."

Doukhobors Ignore Forms

NELSON (CP)—Sons of Freedom Doukhobors are showing little indication they intend to sign the provincial and federal governments' forms which could lead to their migration to Russia. No forms have yet been turned in to the government agent at Nelson.

Despite discussions which sect leaders held with provincial government authorities at Victoria and the two-day meeting which they had with members of the Russian embassy in Ottawa, no signs have yet been forthcoming to show that the group really intends to migrate.

Drug Suspect Nabbed

MONTREAL (CP)—Two RCMP officers left Montreal by air today for Vancouver where a man wanted since 1955 on a charge of trafficking in narcotics is being held. Vancouver police said William James Lucky Caney, alias Billy Manor was arrested for failing to pay a $5 parking fine.

CPR Denies Seattle Workers Facing Layoff

A CPR spokesman today denied reports that two-weeks notice had been given all company dock employees at Seattle, indicating cancellation of service.

He said no such notice had been given.

He added that winter schedules on the Victoria-Seattle-Vancouver run had not yet been drawn up.

The winter service usually starts with the change-back to Standard Time, this year on Sept. 27.

Forgery Suspect To Higher Court

Government cheque forgery suspect William Black, 32, of Vancouver, was committed for trial before a judge and jury at completion of a preliminary hearing in Saanich police court Thursday.

The sitting was the last of three which began Aug. 28 and included the hearing of 42 Crown witnesses and admission of 77 exhibits.

The accused made no statement at the hearing and called no witnesses.

LATE OCTOBER

Prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie said the trial would not likely begin before late October since the Fall Assizes beginning Oct. 9 already has a lengthy list, including a murder trial.

Black is charged with attempting to deal with a forged document, a government of Canada income tax refund cheque for $263.15, at the Saanich branch of the Bank of Montreal, 3450 Quadra, July 24.

He was arrested about 3.30 p.m. that day on the Malahat near Shawinigan Lake cutoff driving a car witnesses said was driven from near the bank after the cheque was presented.

Police said two men made a whirlwind tour of 15 Victoria area banks in about 3 1/2 hours July 24, cashing $4,478.55 in phony government cheques and trying for a total $4,736.00 before banks were tipped off.

IDENTICAL

They turned into a service station and watched from behind a gas pump, he said, and the car came past at a distance of 30-40 yards. He said he got a good look at the driver.

He pointed out Black in the court room as being the same man.

Police were called and meanwhile bank manager Melvin George Genge came up in his car and both men gave chase in it down Cloverdale towards Douglas.

At the first sitting the manager said his car followed at speeds around 90 miles an hour but did not catch up with the fleeing auto.

PICKED BLACK

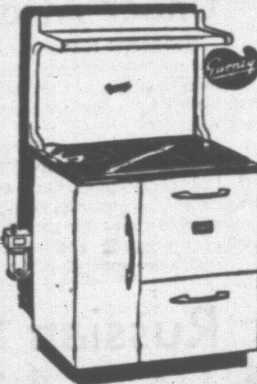

About 3.30 p.m. that day the accountant said Det-Sgt. Joseph Armstrong of Saanich police picked him up and took him to Colwood RCMP detachment where he picked Black from among four or five men.

Thow denied a suggestion by defence counsel James Proudfoot that Det-Sgt. Armstrong had pointed out Black to him.

At the hearing's first session

fight for the offshore Nationalist islands—when he declared: "It is as certain as can be that the shooting which the Chinese, Communists started on Aug. 23 has as its purpose not just the taking of the island of Quemoy. It is part of what is indeed an ambitious plan of armed conquest."

"This plan would liquidate all of the free world positions in the Western Pacific area and bring them under captive governments which would be hostile to the United States and to the free world."

"Thus the Chinese and Russian-Communists would come to dominate at least the western half of the now friendly Pacific Ocean..."

"I must say to you very frankly and soberly, my friends, the United States cannot accept the result that the Communists seek. Neither can we show, now, a weakness of purpose—a timidity..."

But almost in the next breath Eisenhower emphasized he feels duty-bound "not to make advance commitments, but to use my judgment according to the circumstances of the time."

Victorians Show Rapid Interest In Bond Offer

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

The most important individual piece of financing undertaken in Canadian history—the federal government's $4.46 million Conversion Loan—hasn't met here with the particular enthusiasm expected, a leading Victoria investment house manager said today.

On the eve of the September 15 deadline, E. J. Kennedy, manager of James Richardson & Sons, says the conversion of the last five series of Victory Bonds is "a little below our expectations."

Reluctance of VB holders to take advantage of the government's "bold venture" amazes Mr. Kennedy. The government's offer enables VB investors to convert their bonds for a cash adjustment ranging from $2.50 to $15 per $1,000 bond and receive a yield of from three per cent to four and one-half per cent.

This means that even if Victory Bonds are converted for the shortest term, seven years, they will receive the same three per cent interest as they would by holding them, plus the cash adjustment if the conversion is made before Sept. 15. Investors favoring the long term, 25-year loan, get four and one-half per cent interest.

Another point in favor of a conversion is that Conversion Loans can't be called in by the government. CL investors can sell at any time but the unusual "no call" feature of the new series is far more beneficial to bond holders than the "call" demand to sell—clause which is frequently involved in corporation bonds.

Kennedy attributes lack of knowledge of the benefits of conversion—"and I can't understand this after all the publicity they have been given"—and indifference to the reticence of some VB holders to take advantage of the new offer.

Most VB holders are going for long term Conversion Loans even though shorter term holdings offer more liquid security because the degree of risk is lessened. Since the bond market and the money market are in a manner of speaking allied, any upswing or depression is naturally less on short term holdings.

Five most active industrials on the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchange in August were: Massey-Ferguson, 103,709 shares; St. Lawrence Corp., 61,413 shares; Aluminium, 53,352 Dom. Tr., 38,710; and A. V. Roe, 34,683. Five most active mines and oils in the same period were: Titan Petroleum, 594,954; Tache, 560,600; Alscope, 422,600; New Hosco, 357,200; and Barnat, 286,200.

A seat on the Canadian Stock Exchange sold for $9,000. Last sale was on July 10, at $8,500.

Long Climb to Get Proud Civic Asset

By AUDREY JOHNSON

COLIN GRAHAM
... inspired leadership

One of the finest, most beautifully designed fire-proof small art galleries in Canada, becomes the proud civic asset of British Columbia's capital.

Built out of Centennial funds provided by the province of B.C. and Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt as a combined centennial project, it is the culmination of a long-held dream.

A little over a decade ago at a meeting of the Canadian Artists' Federation presided over by the Hon. Mark Gearing, the first decision was taken to start a small art centre in Victoria. That decision led to the setting up of the Little Centre in a temporarily vacant automobile showroom on Yates Street.

Here Victorians saw their first imported and local exhibitions outside a department store gallery. These were of limited scope naturally, but the centre served to bring together a variety of arts and skills and focus public interest in them.

At the end of the Second World War the exhibition space was once more required to show off shining masterpieces of automobile design, and with no other available premises, the Little Centre was forced into suspension.

Rescued by Generous Sara Spencer

After some months, its next home was a narrow store near the Royal Theatre, and from there it was rescued through the generous gift to the community by Sara Spencer, of her old family home at 1040 Moss Street.

This was the beginning—the first practical and major assistance directed toward establishing a proper art gallery on Vancouver Island.

A second stroke of good fortune came when, the city having finally accepted the gift and turned over management to the Art Centre group, the services of Colin Graham as curator were obtained.

Under Mr. Graham's direction and inspired by his enthusiasm and expertise, progress at the gallery has been unceasing and vital.

One thing, however, bulked large as a barrier to any major expansion of the gallery program—lack of a fireproof wing where important art treasures could be shown and stored.

This meant that only second-class circulating exhibitions were available and no costly art gifts could be made or accepted.

THEY HOARDED

Curator Graham and the gallery committee never lost sight of their aim and continued to hoard monetary contributions toward the day when a fireproof wing might become a reality.

Then in 1955 the Rotary Club of Victoria gave the dream impetus by sponsoring an architectural competition open to all Vancouver Island architects, for the design of such a building together with rough plans for future expansion.

And now, at last, concrete and steel, glass and wood have materialized the dream and on Saturday morning the doors of the Centennial fireproof gallery will open to the public for the first time.

MORE TO COME

But this is still not the end of the story. Next on the schedule of expansion is a glass-fronted gallery to house the permanent collection which has now, since the new building was started, reached impressive proportions.

In the future it is planned to provide more studio space for arts and crafts, a small auditorium and other facilities.

These plans are already on the drawing board and with so much accomplished in little more than 10 years, the future cannot seem so far away.

Servant Drowned

Identical Bids Called Farce; Probe Possible

A possible complaint to the federal anti-combines department loomed in city council Thursday.

Aldermen referred four rejected tenders to a committee for a report from city solicitor T. P. O'Grady on what action could be taken on the bids.

The tenders, submitted by four national electrical companies for supply of 130 street lights, all quoted the identical price of $6,792.50.

'FARCE'

"I think it is a farce when they get together and decide on a figure," said Ald. Elmer McEwen, accusing the bidders of price fixing. "It hurts the taxpayers and makes a monkey of us."

"It wouldn't be so bad if there was a nickel difference, but the bids were right down to the same penny. The Criminal Code clearly says it is against the law to fix a price."

Efficient Lighting New Wing Feature

Missing from too many Canadian public buildings dealing with graphic and lively arts is efficient, properly designed lighting.

And it is in this particular aspect that the new Centennial Wing of the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria will stand out as singular and fortunate.

Especially planned by architects Clark, Clayton and Pickstone and their lighting consultant, John Morrison, extreme flexibility is obtained through the design of a steel grid suspended from the concrete ceilings of the exhibition rooms.

ADJUSTMENTS

This grid contains lighting fixtures which permit light to be focussed on any part of the exhibition space. Through this, illumination may be adjusted to the best proportions of incandescent to fluorescent light in the interests of good color balance.

In addition, the grid serves to anchor struts supporting temporary partitions and display screens, thus providing for flexible exhibition installations adaptable to the needs of each individual show.

Natural light adds its share of beauty to the building design, particularly through a glass-covered link which connects the new building with the old, and which leads to a large entrance patio.

GLASS MOSAIC

Here a unique glass mosaic is the featured decorative note.

Former B.C. Publisher's Wife Dies

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. M. E. Nichols, wife of the former publisher and managing director of The Province, died suddenly Tuesday in the private ward pavilion of Vancouver General Hospital.

Mrs. Nichols was the second daughter of the late Lieutenant-Governor Wood of New Brunswick.

She is survived by her husband and three sons: Thomas Edgar, publisher of the Hamilton Spectator; Graham, a public relations executive with the CPR; and Charles Trueman, of the Toronto Telegram.

All This and Money Too!

Royal Roads Sculptor Wins at UBC

An associate professor of economics at Royal Roads Canadian Services College, Alfred Carlsen, 48, has won a $600 prize for his red cedar sculpture, "Madonna of the Cedars"—and he didn't even know there was money involved in the competition!

He was asked by the B.C. Sculptural Association to place an entry in the recent University of British Columbia outdoor sculpture display.

He won, but only after five weeks of deadlock between his submission and "Birdies," a 23-inch-high abstract in lead by Vancouver artist Robert Clothier.

Mr. Clothier won the prize two years ago.

NO REASON

The tussle in artistic values was given up by the judges involved, so the university committee on art made the final decision. They gave no reason. "Professor Carlsen, a self-admitted 'sculpture hobbyist' for 10 years," said he felt "some sympathy" for his opponent's work, but that he was not too keen on ultimate abstract.

He took one week to do his 50-inch-high piece, working four hours a day. It is the first piece he has sold though he has exhibited before in the Pacific Northwest.

NICE BALANCE

Born in Bella Coola, B.C., he is a UBC graduate, was a YMCA supervisor overseas, and has been at Royal Roads seven years. He is leaving soon for University of Toronto to complete his PhD in economics.

'BIRDIES' ... second best

Old Man's Tragic Death Sparks Drive for Chinese Hospital Addition

By JOHN MIKA
Doy Lum was buried by the Chinese community today but his pitiful last days on earth in a desperately sick and starving condition were not forgotten.
Eric Joe, president of the Victoria Chinatown Lions Club, said his organization will seek ways and means of promoting construction of an addition to the city-owned Chinese Hospital on Herald.

Lum, 71-year-old pensioner, collapsed Tuesday outside 546 1/2 Herald where he had a room, and died less than 24 hours later in St. Joseph's Hospital.
Immediate cause of death was a stroke, the attending physician said today.
"But malnutrition was certainly a contributing factor."

Lum weighed only 60 pounds when he was rushed to hospital by police.
Funeral service, arranged by the Dart Coon Club, was held at Thomson Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. today. Burial followed in Royal Oak Burial Park.
Despite offers of assistance, Lum refused to accept any help and would not go to hospital or have anything to do with Occidental doctors.

Mr. Joe said the cramped 24-bed Chinese Hospital was the only place where many elderly Chinese would consent to go when ill.
"They feel at home there," he said. "They're lost in a white hospital."
Civic authorities have said a new wing for the Chinese Hospital is needed desperately to overcome the problem.

Meanwhile, Mayor Percy Scurrell said he was certain Lum's death was an isolated case. The mayor made a personal investigation in Chinatown to find out what happened.
"His room was completely cleaned out when I saw it," said the mayor. "But the building is neat and clean and in a satisfactory condition."

"People offered him assistance but he refused to co-operate. There may be other cases like Lum's but I didn't see them. I visited other buildings and they were neat and tidy too."
"I can only conclude that this was an isolated case and there are no measures I can see that the city could take to prevent a repetition."

However, city council Thursday asked health and welfare department heads to turn in a report in case there is anything council could do to prevent a similar tragedy.
Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, said he had not been officially notified of the death so there will be no inquest.

Cleaning out the in basket . . .

A note from a "constant reader" signed "Weary Me" . . . apparently not weary from constant reading, but from constant listening to a barking dog . . . I quote: "What would you do if you had a NICE neighbor with a constantly (almost) barking dog? . . . those last-minute naps in the morning; the siesta at 2 p.m. for the old folk; worst of all, the baying at the moon in time to awaken us from those first delicious hours of sleep?"
I think what I would do is have a nice talk with the nice neighbor, who might be nice enough to co-operate in a nice way, such as undertaking a training course for his no-doubt nice dog.

A match folder put out by the Eddy people, left for me by Al Markle (first free gift from Mr. M. since I gave him even money on the beastly Lions) . . . folder is one of a series saluting the nations of the world . . . this one is dedicated to Canada, and is illustrated with a caricature of an Eskimo . . . watch your blood pressure, George Warren . . .

A note from a constituent who wishes to know why I have not commented on the current TV quiz show fracas . . . I am ignoring it, hoping it will go away . . . next thing you know, my faith will be completely shattered when someone tells me Texas Rassin' is rigged or there is no Santa Claus.

A pair of notes from people who have cats living at their house with somewhat unusual palates . . . one cat favors cantaloupe, the other curried shrimp . . . my research is now ended . . . it is perfectly normal for a cat to be abnormal . . .

A communication from one whose every wish is my command . . . as follows: "Young friend of mine was telling me the other night the story of the young pilot fish, who was caught swimming all alone."
"As you know, pilot fish usually swim in company with whales."

"So another small fish came along, and said to the pilot fish 'Why aren't you swimming with your usual school of whales?'"

"To which the pilot fish replied, 'Am I my blubber's kipper?'"

And also, I regret to report, from the same source, this note:

"Then there was the ardent Eskimo who protested to his love: 'I travelled across 21 miles of snow and ice just to be with you.'"

To which she replied: 'Aw, that's just a lot of mush.'"

Next time, shall we try cleaning up the out basket?

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Natural increase in Victoria's population is on the upswing, Victoria-Esquamalt union board of health reported today.

A quarterly statement showed there were 890 births during April, May and June and only 393 deaths. Corresponding figures for last year showed 835 births and 400 deaths.

Chief cause of death was heart disease which claimed 91 lives. Cancer was second, causing 43 deaths.

The Dickens Fellowship Victoria branch will hold its first meeting of the fall season at the home of its president, E. F. Wetherston, 565 Marfield, next Monday at 8 p.m.

Horace Herbert Hannam, Millstream Road, was sentenced in Colwood RCMP court Thursday to seven days in jail for driving while under suspension, plus $35 or seven days consecutive, for careless driving.

Harold Lloyd Hall, RCN, was fined $250 in Colwood RCMP court Thursday for impaired driving, plus $25 for driving without a licence and $25 for using another person's driver's licence.

Preparatory services for the new minister of Gorge Presbyterian Church, Rev. T. K. Amis, will be held tonight at 6:30 in the church. A reception in the church hall will follow the ceremony.

First fall meeting of the Greater Victoria Parent-Teachers Council will be held Friday, Sept. 26, at 8 p.m. in North Ward School.

The Margaret Jenkins and Bank Street School PTA will meet Monday, September 15, at 8 p.m., in the Margaret Jenkins auditorium.

The speaker will be Mrs. Gwen Downes.
Ronald C. Mayled, 1790 Denman Street, was sentenced in Esquimalt police court today to 21 days in jail for impaired driving.
It was his second similar conviction so he was given no option of a fine.

Kerry Richard MacDonald, 20, 1400 Fairfield, was fined $50 in city police court today for being a minor in possession of liquor and $35 on a charge of careless driving.

Court was told McDonald went through at least one red light, and when pursued by police turned out his own car lights. Two cases of beer were found in the car.

Danver O. Bouman, HMCS Ontario, was fined $50 for consuming liquor in a public place. The offence took place on Yates Street where the accused was seen drinking a bottle of beer.

A meeting of the B.C. Society of Model Engineers will be held Sunday afternoon at Williams Road, Langley Prairie, B.C., when live steam model locomotives of all gauges will be featured on over 450 feet of track and coal, oil and water will be supplied to those bringing their own models.

The public meeting will also feature a demonstration of model power boats.

Anthony Frederick Carlson, 527 Rithet, previously fined for careless driving was restricted to business driving only for one month when he appeared in Saanich police court Thursday.

Carlson pleaded guilty to the charge after the car he was driving skidded for 95 feet, three times turning broadside, then knocked a bus stop sign 85 feet on Gorge Road.

Naden Dunkers Get Break To Give Break to 'Chest'

About 1,650 officers and men of HMCS Naden, the RCN shore establishment at Esquimalt, held a coffee break this morning which was a break for the Community Chest.

As a kick-off for the naval service chest drive, coffee and doughnuts were offered at all messes, free of charge, but with one stipulation:
Each "dunker" was required to show his Red Feather, to prove he had made his contribution to the chest.

Waging Peace Aim of Group Forming Here

A drive to interest Victoria residents in "working for peace" is gaining momentum with two meetings slated this month, sponsored by a volunteer group that believes in "waging peace" as opposed to "waging war."

Letters have been sent churches, service clubs and trade unions to determine what community groups wish to join the movement. A conference is planned for interested groups Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. in the Health and Welfare Centre, 1947 Cook.

The "peace by peaceful means" committee is sponsoring a speaker Sept. 18 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Hall. He is Dr. Ralph Victor, a Seattle physician who has just completed two years in a Quaker village project in India.

FORMING FOUR GROUPS
In the meantime, a nucleus of four "think and do" groups is being organized.

One of the prime movers in the project, Richard Broughton, 1041 Craigdarroch, said "if the majority of thinking Canadians feel that peace can be obtained by military bases and alliances, then we must have them. But if we don't, then let us let the government know it."

Another group member, Mrs. Rosemary Hamilton, 4660 Patricia Bay Highway, pointed out that with nuclear age war considered unthinkable and intolerable, then it was logic to know that preparation for war fits into the same category.

NEW WAY OF GOING THROUGH CUSTOMS

Six persons, including three customs men, escaped serious injury Thursday afternoon when a U.S. car with three persons in it ran down the CPR ramp and crashed into the customs office.

Driver of the late model car was identified as Mrs. Louise Bailey, Monterey, Calif. A passenger, Joseph Lovrich, Palo Alto, Calif., said "we would have gone off the pier if I hadn't shouted to her to 'turn left and brake.'" He and his wife were sitting beside the driver when the car went out of control. He could give no reason.

Thomas S. Floyd in the customs office with Reginald Etheridge and William Gelling said "something hit me in the solar plexus, shoulder and arm." He was knocked to the floor. The car stopped only eight inches away.

Tax Relief Sought For B.C. Industry

The B.C. government today was asked to review the present tax structure with a view to reducing taxation on industry "so that its competitive position in domestic and world markets may be improved."

The request was contained in a brief presented to the Cabinet by a B.C. Chamber of Commerce delegation headed by its president, G. F. Dunn of Victoria.

The delegates also recommended the repeal of income tax levied against the logging and mining industries, and the tax on ore in the ground.

PROPER BALANCE
The delegation stated that good industrial relations cannot be created by legislation. But to the extent that legislation is necessary, it advocated "a proper balance of rights and responsibilities of employers on the one hand and of employees on the other with due regard to the public interest."

It urged:
1. That the Trade Unions Act be repealed or amended to grant to unions and not accorded to other individuals and organizations.

2. Proper legislation should be enacted to ensure that trade unions shall be subject to the rule of law as administered in the courts.

3. The Labor Relations Act should be amended to provide that agreements which deny or terminate employment because of an individual not being or remaining a member of a trade union shall be prohibited.

The brief added that it did not request prohibition of agreements which require all employees in a bargaining unit to pay regular dues to a union which is certified as a bargaining unit.

The chamber urged that conciliation procedures be altered to strengthen the value of negotiations in the early stages of a dispute by eliminating conciliation boards and/or their reports, or by providing that a vote in favor of strike or lockout shall be null and void after 21 days unless implemented by strike or lockout action.

The provincial cabinet should be empowered to refer any specific labor dispute to compulsory binding arbitration where a strike or lockout might endanger the health and safety of the general public.

Canadians to Turn On Tories—Coldwell

Leader Predicts Trend To CCF in Next 4 Years

Canadians will turn from Conservative rule "in disillusionment" over the next four years, CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell predicted in an interview in Victoria today.

Mr. Coldwell, defeated in the last federal election after 23 years in the House of Commons, gave a non-political talk to the Men's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel this afternoon.

Mr. Coldwell said he has no intention of running again either as candidate in the provincial or federal field.

"But I shall continue to lead the CCF party as long as I am wanted."

The Conservative landslide victory at the last election was simply "a manifestation" of the people's determination to get rid of the Liberal government, he told The Times.

TOWARDS CCF
"Over the next four years there will be a similar reaction against the Tories and it will be towards the CCF. After all," he smiled, "you have to admit the general trend throughout the world today is towards a larger measure of social ownership and control."

"I am confident Canadians will ultimately vote for a mixed economy such as we advocate. If we do not form the next federal government we will certainly gain a tremendous increase in representation."

FEELS BETTER
Mr. Coldwell said he is feeling "much better in health" since he gave up the strain of leading the CCF in the House. He recently returned from a visit to his native England.

The Conservative party there is implementing many measures which were introduced by the former Labor government, he said.

"They are doing what any Tory government would do in the circumstances—they know they cannot put the clock back."

PEACEMAKER
Mr. Coldwell sees Canada's role in world affairs as that of a peacemaker and as a go-between Britain and the United States.

MERCHANTS CAN ASSIST ANTI-LITTER CAMPAIGN

Chamber of Commerce president Hugh Stephen and Ald. Arthur Dowell combined today to appeal to city merchants to join the anti-litter campaign.

Ald. Dowell pointed out some of the city's street-cleaning problems were caused by merchants who swept litter in front of their stores on to the street.

"I would appeal to all merchants, whether chamber members or not, to co-operate by sweeping up litter and putting it into trash cans," said Mr. Stephen.

"A clean downtown area is the finest piece of advertising any business section can have," he said.

"Merchants who sweep litter on to the street are not only hurting themselves, but hurting their business neighbors, too."

Mr. Stephen said the chamber several times has circulated its members emphasizing the need for clean streets.

Before he retires from the president's post next week, he said he would recommend to the board of directors that it bring the point home to members again.

ASK The TIMES
Q.—Could you please tell me if a person living in B.C. can take part in a contest for home views on an American TV program?—K.G.

A.—In many cases, yes, but to learn exactly the policy of the program you may have in mind, write directly to the program sponsors.

Q.—How many university students have we in this country?—L.P.

A.—About 87,000.
Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, Questions and answers will be published daily.
All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve controversies or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

Museum Role Urged For 'Buildings'

One of Canada's most scholarly and fighting Catholic priests today advocated turning the whole of the Legislative Buildings into a Provincial Museum and making it the largest and finest in Canada.

"I know the idea sounds fantastic," said Capt. J. S. McGivern, MBE, CD, padre at Camp Chilliwack, "but its my personal opinion that it would be practical and feasible."

He started B.C.'s first military museum at Camp Chilliwack.

He said both the Provincial Museum and Maritime Museum in Esquimalt were inadequate for preserving and exhibiting the province's art and historical treasures.

"I would like to see the Legislative Buildings made into a museum and new government buildings constructed," he said.

There were sufficient relics and exhibits available at present, he said, to fill every room in the Buildings. Forestry and biological exhibits alone would take a large amount of floor space.

"It could be made into the finest museum in Canada," he said.

PUBLISHER'S NOTEBOOK

That Mysterious Letter

It is flattering—but nonetheless a bit of a shock—to find that a few innocent observations on the current Tory leadership have been enunciated in this space Tuesday night, have become a live issue at the convention in Vancouver.

In the course of a general commentary, I wrote:

"One of my better spies informs me that no less a personage than John Diefenbaker wrote Finlayson a letter, telling him he was solid. It was unnecessary, why did he do it, etc., etc."

This statement I believe to be true. It was told to me by a Tory of long-standing and impeccable honesty, who is privy to top-level party deliberations.

You will note that I used the letter was written last May, when Finlayson first called the convention, and long before "Cap" Kidd entered the leadership race.

At that time, I doubt if the prime minister had ever heard of "Cap" Kidd.

Now what happened when this column appeared? Kidd's supporters picked it up and twisted it, to try and make it appear that I had said Mr. Diefenbaker endorsed Finlayson in the current leadership fight.

They challenged Finlayson to produce such a letter.

He, quite properly, said there was no such letter.

This denial was carried by The Canadian Press, which further confused the issue by reporting that I had said the letter "predicted" the British Columbia leader would be re-elected.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

Nevertheless, we were duty-bound to carry the Finlayson denial and thus I was repudiated, and made to appear a chump, on the front page of my own paper—not a very pleasant experience.

I hope this will help set the record straight. Wholly apart from the letter, what I said Tuesday night was that two good men were running for the Tory leadership and that I felt, on the record, Finlayson was entitled to the honor.

One other thing: over the years, I have suffered the complaint of many politicians that newspapers "distort" their statements.

Just let me say that no journalist in the country could do as elegant a job of twisting my statement as have the supporters of Dr. Kidd in this affair.

Kelsey Plums on Market Do Some Preserving Now!

By PENNY SAVER

Plum jam and plum chutney... just the idea makes me hungry! It's time, now the children are back at school and you are on a regular routine again, to get into step and do some preserving.

Sweet Kelsey plums are in season and ripe enough for canning, preserving or eating now... so buy a few pounds at 25 cents a pound.

Mm-m! I've got a sweet tooth! And you can blame me, when I stand outside this bakery shop window and see all the scrumptious dainties. Who thinks of calories then? I spied ginger tarts, mocha logs, cherry tarts, chocolate eclairs, marzipan and a host of other dainties.

I wasn't the only one standing there, either. Half Victoria's citizens were right along with me eyeing those delectable eats priced at nine cents each and up.

Danish squash tops my menu ideas for this weekend. What could be tastier and more nutritious than baked or steamed squash? This vegetable is seven cents a pound.

I've had calls lately from readers asking me where egg plant can be found. Well, now I know, so phone me again. It's priced at 35 cents a pound.

Next down my menu list is broccoli. Creamed, steamed and perfectly yum is this vitamin-high and calorie-low vegetable that's priced at 25 cents a pound.

Why not go shopping where the prices are low? Phone me at 2-3131, I'll tell you the spots.

On Etiquette

Guests who won't come to dinner! Please help me out of a dilemma. We have been entertained by a certain couple, so I have twice invited them to parties at our home.

The first time they were leaving on a vacation; the second time they were going to a concert. Have I repaid my debt to them, or must I keep on inviting them until they are able to accept?

LOUISE DAVIS answers: You have shown your intention of repaying your debt but the debt isn't yet fulfilled. Try again. These friends had legitimate excuses each time. If they liked you enough to invite you to their home, I should think you would equally enjoy their company at yours, especially if you wish to continue the friendship. I hope that inviting them isn't to pay an obligation but rather to mutually enjoy each other's good company. When you call again, try to set the date well in advance. If they continue to turn down your invitations, I suggest letting it ride for a while.

Pat gets a pat on the back: I was terribly embarrassed when I went to a buffet supper wearing a flowered silk print cocktail dress and found all the other women in cotton sport dresses, including the hostess.

Powell River Wedding Vows

The wedding was solemnized recently at Powell River between Orfila Maria Moretto, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Moretto of Powell River and David James Aled Williams, youngest son of Capt. and Mrs. F. E. Williams of View Royal, Victoria.

Given in marriage by her brother the bride wore a gown of chalk white peau de sole. The princess bodice had a stiffened collar rolling slightly to a deep V back and front. The very full skirt fell into a semi-train. Her chapel veil was held with a rolled diadem and her bouquet was of pink and white rapture roses.

Mrs. Myfanwy Coombes, sister of the groom, was matron of honor; Miss Roma Roraghan, bridesmaid, and Miss Louise Moretto, junior bridesmaid. All wore sheath dresses of turquoise brocade with full overskirts of nylon net in the same shade and gloves to match. Their crescent bouquets and hair bandeaux were of white baby mums.

The groom had his brother as best man. Receiving guests at the reception at the Lawn Bowling Club were the bride's mother in a navy French crepe gown with a powder blue feathered hat and gloves. The groom's mother wore a grey and rose brocade suit with a rose velvet hat and fur stole. Their corsages were of white feathered carnations.

Travelling to California on their wedding trip the bride wore a beige silk linen suit with hat and shoes en tone, a red coat and an orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are making their home in Kimberley, where the groom is employed with the Bank of Montreal.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here's a Stand-Up Hip And Abdominal Exercise

Q. "I would like to have a mild hip and abdominal exercise which is firming and which I can take standing up. I must have one which does not take up too much space since my apartment is very small."

A. Do this one. Stand tall with your left side toward the wall and your right hand on the wall. Swing the right leg forward and backward as far as you can. Make the swing smooth and rhythmic and keep both knees stiff. After a while turn the right side toward the wall and swing the left leg.

Q. "My brows and lashes are very light. I am a blonde but my lashes and brows look peroxidized."

A. Use a light brown eyebrow pencil on your brows. Use light feathery strokes and then blend with an eyebrow brush. You can use brown mascara on the lashes or you may even find that black mascara is more flattering.

Q. "Is it all right to use peroxide to bleach the fine hair on my upper lip?"

A. Yes. Q. "I want to give myself a hot oil shampoo but do not know how to do it."

A. Part the hair at intervals, progressively, until you have covered the entire head. When you make a part rub warm oil along the part. You can use cotton for this. After this wrap a wet, hot, towel about the head. Leave it on until it cools. Repeat this several times. If you can do so, leave the oil on all night.

Q. "Should I use an astringent on my neck? Will it tighten the skin?"

A. If the skin of your neck is dry I would not use one. Instead do firming exercises and use circulation creams and oily lubricating creams.

Q. "I have unattractive brown pigmentation on my arms. What causes this and what can I do about it?"

A. So far as I know no one knows what causes this. You can cover it up with make-up.

Q. "How do you use eye pads?"

A. I suppose you mean the little cotton pads which you dip in ice water and then place on top of the closed eyes. This is most restful when the eyes are tired or in hot weather or after a hard day.

Q. "I am 50 years old. Is it too late to learn to dance? I always wanted to but never learned how and believe it or not I have a beau who loves to dance."

A. Heavens no, it is not too late! Take lessons.

Iola Gordon and Robert Floyd Married In Metropolitan Church

In Metropolitan United Church recently, Rev. G. L. Gillard heard marriage vows of Kathleen Iola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gordon, Pembroke Street, and Robert Stanley Floyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Floyd, Oscar Street.

Mrs. Sheldon McCullough, cousin of the bride, was soloist, and E. Boothroyd was organist at the ceremony, for which the church was decorated with tall baskets of vari-colored flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a portrait gown featuring a beruffled pleated bodice, and very full skirt made of tiers of Chantilly lace. Her chapel veil was edged in matching lace, and misted from a tiara of glistening iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses with white begonias and stephanotis.

As maid of honor, Miss Joan Walsh wore a waltz-length gown of rose taffeta, featuring scooped neckline, short sleeves and full skirt. Miss Noreen Gordon and Miss Betty Ann Sadler, bridesmaids, wore similarly styled dresses in pale blue. They carried colonial bouquets of Rapture roses and feathered carnations, and wore matching headresses.

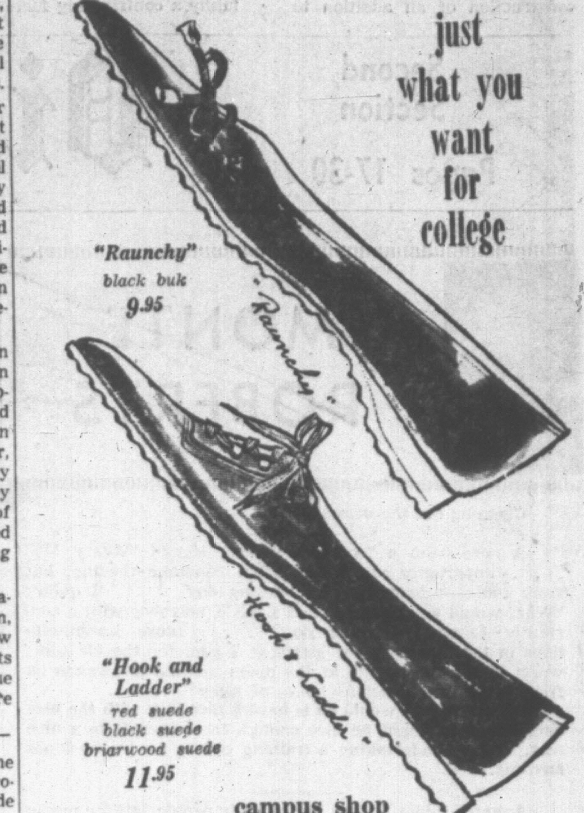

Three little sisters, Vicki, Patricia and Georgette Watson, were in identical pale yellow dresses. They carried bouquets of yellow Marguerites with blue feathered carnations, and wore flowers in their hair.

CGIT Meals—Members of the Women's Association, Metropolitan United Church, made plans at a recent meeting to serve luncheon and supper to all CGIT members attending a conference to be held on Sept. 27. Mrs. G. A. R. Stelck presided; Mrs. Joseph Jones took the devotions and plans were discussed for the fall bazaar in the church hall at the beginning of November. Tea was served by the Servimus group.

Francis W. Reed was best man. Brothers of the groom, Pat Floyd and F. W. T. Floyd, ushered with A. W. Fairbairn and Norman Helgesen. David Armstrong proposed the toast at a reception for 200 guests at Holyrood House.

'Emancipated Womanhood' Receives Support in Face of Criticism

By MAUREEN DUFFUS

According to a Canadian Press story from Toronto, management consultant Moorhead Wright thinks that "emancipated womanhood is a major contribution to the disturbances which daily make life unpleasant for hard-working males."

Miserable man. He admits this is his own experience with women, but according to a scientific-type survey of Victoria men conducted by the Times women's department, he's talking utter nonsense.

With one dissenting voice (and a couple of fence-sitters), our men have come right out and said they think we're wonderful.

"Are Canadian women making life unpleasant for the menfolk," was the question asked. These are the answers:

Dr. R. H. Trythall, dentist and commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club: "I don't think so. I think life would be... (censored)... unpleasant without females around. Let some of these men do their own cooking and housework for awhile and see what they think of that!"

Rev. William Hills: "You may quote me on this. The parson at Cadboro Bay gives a firm vote of confidence in Canadian women. They are more free than most from inherited conventions, but they are not too forward, and they have a wide range of interests. I reserve my compliments only from the battleaxes who appear in every community scene."

Tony Mollet, scientist and police commissioner, had some qualifications: "What a fantastic question. Perhaps some women haven't got used to their freedom as rapidly as one could wish, but then men don't always know how to handle freedom either. I think capabilities of both are essentially the same, but I do feel results are better if the wife stays home to look after house and children rather than exercising her rights of equality to go out to work."

But this faint disapproval of emancipated working wives was counteracted by a newcomer from South Africa, Brian Roberts, wine company manager and world traveller:

"Canadian wives are tops. This is no reflection on my wife, who has turned into as good a Canadian wife as any. As a student of form I consider there is a much higher percentage of attractive women in Canada than anywhere else, but more than that they manage to be wife, mother, housekeeper and often breadwinner as well (Denise Roberts teaches ballet) without making life in the least unpleasant for husbands. Canadian women are just out of this world!"

Love that man! Kay Jefferies, wife and mother, and women's editor at a local broadcasting station, also has an answer for the men who disapprove of working wives:

"If you want to be satisfied with the role of hermit, then stay a hermit."

"With the higher cost of living, especially education, and the higher standard of living to which we are becoming accustomed I think that the dual role of homemaker and wage earner gives the husband an easier acceptance of items otherwise beyond the budget. And it widens the scope of everyone in the family."

Another remark of the management consultant, who was talking to an advertising and sales club on—of all things—"The Development of Men," was that "women are probably confused and bewildered by their comparatively new-found freedom... women students at colleges... did not know why they were being educated."

We spoke to Professor Robert Wallace at Victoria College.

"They know why they are there. Many feel that without academic opportunities they won't have the challenge and stimulation they need. The bright person, even a woman, wants more than a lifetime of watching television. There was a day when preserving and keeping a step ahead of the children was stimulation enough, but now they need intellectual stimulation as well."

"Are Canadian women making life unpleasant for the menfolk? I think it's a ridiculous question," said Professor Wallace with glorious contempt. "I am constantly surrounded by women who make my job more pleasant."

Dr. W. H. Gaddes, clinical psychologist, took a nice psychological line to reinforce the above opinions: "Statements like this are interesting but not necessarily psychologically valid. It is impossible to generalize about groups of people. There is no way to prove or disprove such a statement, which might possibly be true in individual cases, or at least be a contributing factor to unpleasantness. Sociological surveys on the subject would be extremely difficult."

Well, the Times women's department has tried to do its bit. It may not be a valid scientific survey, but it certainly got a lot of men talking.

Oh yes, the one dissenting voice. Photographer Irving Strickland was asked if women made life unpleasant. I suppose we should quote his answer.

"Yes."

Excitingly New Fashions Share Interest With Classic Favorites

Old favorites in classic styles still keep their place in the fashion picture this fall, along with the year's exciting new models—the high-waisted, directoire silhouette, shorter skirts and the softly rounded styles.

The fashion story is told this week at the Hudson's Bay Company Douglas Room, where women's groups are sponsoring shows today, at 11 a.m., 2.30 p.m. and 7.30 this evening. Showings tomorrow are at 11 a.m. and 2.30 in the afternoon.

Yesterday's showings began with the new fall coats, including a fudge-brown model with wide collar, the new scythe back that curves to the hem, and a distinctive belt, all in chamois lined wool and cashmere.

Suits with shorter jackets were featured, exemplified by a ruby-toned suede finish wool, with wide collar ruffled with black fox fur, and blouson effect at the back, drawn into a notched peplum and worn over a slim skirt.

Ultra smart sportswear includes the skirt and sweater look, exemplified by a fleecy cardigan fastened with gold cluding a mist-green pure-silk buttons, worn with a slim all-wool skirt in cinnamon-stick brown with pleats at the front.

Then there's the chemise jumper in the New Century tartan, styled in the long, lithe line, and caught just below the hip by a tie belt held in place

by four buttoned loops—woven, crafted and styled in British Columbia.

A creation of Norman Hartnell is the bowed and buttoned teal blue jersey trapeze top, poised over a slim skirt. Back is a bloused arc controlled by an elasticized band, skirt is fully lined and carries out the button-bow motif of its match mate.

For dressing up for cocktails there's a lot to choose from, in cocktail frock, with interest focused on the bloused back; or a sapphire blue, also of pure silk, with slim skirt underscoring a draped and folded bodice, deeply rounded neckline and tiny sleeves.

Sophistication for the mature figure is found in a sheath of smooth, flattering Barathean, gently contoured to give a perfect fit, with draped Empire bodice, in autumn-leaf green.

Formals show contrasting trends, the sheathed and the bouffant. Turquoise silk taffeta is fashioned into a fitted bodice and poufed skirt curving high in the front and sweeping into a train at the back, under a net-lined, petal-pointed overskirt curving from a bow centred at the waist. Classic sophistication is exemplified by a gown of rich turquoise satin, a beautiful column featuring a floating panel back, slightly en train, and a decollete neckline.

Commentary at the shows is by Adele Gault, and Irene Warren is hostess. Models are Mary Rawnsley, Kathie Matheson, Ricki Nickells, Doris Usher, June Charlton and Mrs. Ida Collis. Organ interludes are played by Mrs. T. B. O'Neill.

Wedding Guests

Out-of-town guests for Hackwell-Mellings wedding recently in St. Saviour's Anglican Church, included Mr. and Mrs. R. Miller and Mrs. E. Baston of Campbell River and Mr. and Mrs. D. Banks of Chemainus.

Of Personal Interest

Alberta Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gordon Fulmer announce the engagement of their only daughter, Janet Margaret, to Wayne Arthur Stock, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stock of Lacombe, Alta. The wedding is to take place in St. Andrew's Church, Lacombe, next Friday at 3 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Fulmer are leaving Sunday for Lacombe to attend the wedding.

Christening

Janice Lynn were names given the seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Adams at her christening in Esquimalt United Church. Rev. G. H. Turpin officiated. Present at the ceremony, which took place on her mother's birthday, were the baby's great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Adams, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Adams, Royal Oak, and Mr. and Mrs. G. Sisco, Moose Jaw, Sask. The baby wore a sterling silver locket, gift of her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kirker. ...we hear that Admiral TV for '59 is out of this world

Take a look at Admiral TV for '59 and you'll be saying the same thing. It's like watching TV for the very first time... discovering that wonderful things have been happening since TV first came into your life. It's finding that Admiral gives you a picture so clear and bright and realistic that it's almost 3-dimensional... that Admiral sound is High Fidelity sound... that Admiral controls have done away with all the little irritations you've been putting up with for years. It's the enjoyment of having TV that's an attractive piece of modern furniture... as Admiral TV for '59 introduces "decorator approved" originals that are even slimmer than the first Admiral slimline models.

Take one look inside Admiral TV for '59, and you'll see some of the things that have made these advances possible. There's the 110" picture tube... the shorter tube that has banished the old-style "bustle" in the back that once marred the appearance of your TV. There's the horizontal chassis that reduces operating temperature, lengthens the effective life of components, helps to make possible that slimmer-than-ever cabinet. There's the power transformer that delivers more consistent power, steps-up voltage delivered to the picture tube.

There are so many new Admiral features in the '59 line. But they all add up to viewing that's away ahead of anything you've yet experienced. So if you want to get the most out of viewing, see your Admiral dealer... let him show you just what we mean. Then believe your eyes... if you can... and enter your own new world of TV entertainment with Admiral TV for '59.

Tie Vote Kills No-Strike Pact; 'Freedom Undercut'—Proudfoot

A draft bylaw which would have barred strikes by City Hall "inside" staff was defeated in a tie vote by city council Thursday when half the aldermen refused to accept a union shop clause.

The bylaw was submitted to ratify a five-year agreement suggested by the City Hall Employees' Association. The agreement had been approved by the union. The agreement would have provided: automatic and binding arbitration of all disputes by a County Court judge; a union shop under which all employees would be required to join the union after three months' probationary employment.

Following the vote, council referred to a committee the problem of working out some contract with the union. Present contract expires Feb. 23 but must be renegotiated by Dec. 31.

'NUMBERS ONLY'

The union shop requirement was attacked by Ald. D. J. Proudfoot as undercutting freedom.

"There's no freedom of any kind now, just restrictions and restrictions forcing a man to become a number," he said.

Aldermen Geoffrey Edgelow, Arthur Dowell and Elmer McEwen voted with him against the bylaw.

Voting for it were Aldermen Hugh Ramsay, M. H. Mooney and A. I. Curtis. Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson was absent. Mayor Percy Scurrell's tie vote failed to carry the bylaw to approval.

URGED BY WYATT

Ald. McEwen said several employees had told him they were against the union shop.

City Manager C. C. Wyatt, who recommended the agreement as being in the best interests of the city, said he understood a majority of the union had approved the agreement.

He added that 93 per cent of the 178 inside employees were members of the union. The police, firemen and outside staff unions had union shop clauses.

Answering a question by the mayor, Mr. Wyatt said passage of the by-law would mean that the 7 per cent of employees not members of the union would have to join or lose their jobs.

EXEMPTIONS?

Ald. Ramsay suggested that the by-law be laid on the table, so that council could determine from the union whether present employees could be exempted from the provision requiring membership in the union.

Ald. Ramsay said he was not in favor of compulsory union membership, but in this case having "a single union under a single roof would be an advantage to the city, avoiding bargaining with several outside unions to the hardship of the taxpayer."

Tories Propose
To 'Marry'
Party FactionsBy PETE LOUDON, Times Political Reporter
(See also, Page 29)

VANCOUVER—A six-point reorganization scheme which would marry the provincial and federal divisions of the Progressive Conservative Party in B.C. was proposed here today.

But most delegates to the provincial convention had their minds only on the leadership race between incumbent Deane Finlayson and challenger Dr. D. F. Kidd.

Only 70 of an estimated 600 delegates turned out to hear organization chairman Alan F. Hackett outline the unification scheme.

The six points in the proposal are:
1. A single central office for

SPECIAL GOAL

Swim Feat
To Bring Son Back

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Ann Meraw had a special goal in her epic conquest of Okanagan Lake this summer.

No athletic determination drove the 39-year-old Vancouver woman to complete the arduous, 55-mile swim.

Her boy, 17-year-old Billy Meraw, vanished May 6. He has never been reported again.

"We hoped publicity from the swim would bring him to contact us—if he could," Mrs. Meraw said today.

"That was our one big hope. But we heard nothing."

"I had tried to keep the thought from my mind. But now I'm sure that something must have happened to him."

Neither the Meraws nor Billy's friends believe the tall, wavy-haired youth simply ran away from home.

He was happy, well-liked by his schoolmates, a good student, and had never been missing before.

NEW WING APPROVED AT CHINESE HOSPITAL

Chinese Hospital Board has given approval in principle to a plan of constructing a new wing, which would cost $30,000 to $40,000. It would house 16 patients, board chairman Rev. M. F. Leung and secretary Peter Wong announced today.

A capital fund raising drive in the Chinese community will be considered along with availability of government grants.

Step was prompted by the tragic death this week of Doy Lum, elderly Chinese, who died from neglect.

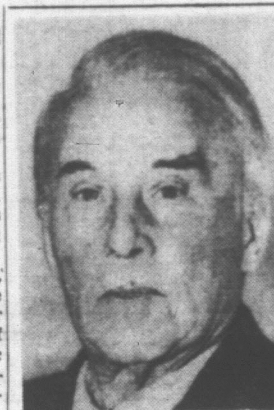

'Stop Your Pushing'
Ike Warns China

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday night told Communist China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight.

Immediate congressional reaction to his White House address was strongly favorable. Nationalist China, which the United States has sworn to defend, was certain to applaud.

But it remained to be seen whether China and Russia—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand-in-hand"—would accept his warning.

'ENCOURAGED'

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said of President Eisenhower's Far East statement he takes "encouragement from the fact that direct talks between the United States and Communist representatives are expected to begin soon in Warsaw."

"I earnestly hope that the Chinese Communists will respond to the president's suggestion for peaceful settlement, for it would be catastrophic if they would frustrate them by further aggressive action."

Eisenhower seemed very close to saying "yes" to the big question—would the United States

Negotiation 'Far Better Way'

The final third was conciliatory, a plea for Communist agreement to "a far better way than resort to force to settle these differences... the way of negotiation."

In rejecting "appeasement" and proposing negotiation Eisenhower was trying to calm public opinion at home, which was "deeply worried over the military provocation" against Red China.

Eisenhower met some unfavorable reaction at home from Democrat Wayne Morse (Ore.) who said Chiang Kai-shek is dragging the United States into war. (See Page 3).

Britain's statement amounted to an expression of unreserved moral support for the American position while leaving itself the right to decide whether to go to the aid of the U.S. in the event of fighting with Red China.

The foreign office spokesman told correspondents here that Britain supported Eisenhower's view that no use of force should be made to alter the status of Quemoy and its neighbor Matsuo.

But he made a distinction between the status of the islands and the question of whether force should be used to alter that status.

The spokesman told his daily press conference:

"The immediate question is

Integrate Schools
Now, High Court
Orders Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Top Department of Justice attorneys and a swarm of deputy U.S. marshals swung into action today to enforce the Supreme Court's decision that Central High School must admit Negro students and to forestall any possible violence.

"That was not unexpected," Gov. Orval E. Faubus commented tersely when he heard the news.

He was in a meeting of the state elections commission, which he declined to stop. He said he will have no further comment until later this afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, head of the NAACP in Arkansas, was jubilant.

"It is our hope," she said, "that this decision will make it crystal clear to the Little Rock School Board that it can no longer deny children the right to a decent high school education because of race or color."

In a special statement, the president warned that anarchy would result "if an individual, a community or a state is going continuously and successfully to defy the rulings of the courts."

EISENHOWER
IN APPEAL

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today appealed to the "sense of civic responsibility" of Little Rock residents "to avoid defiance" of the Supreme Court order that the school board there proceed with integration of Central High School.

In a special statement, the president warned that anarchy would result "if an individual, a community or a state is going continuously and successfully to defy the rulings of the courts."

He said now that the Supreme Court has made the law "crystal clear" he would not expect "a governor or anybody" to violate it.

Attorney Richard C. Butler, who argued the case for the school board, voiced disappointment with the decision. But he said, however, the board "will continue to try to adjust conditions in Little Rock... to the law of the land. So far as it is able."

The court's brief opinion said the justices felt that it was "important to make prompt announcement" of its decision—obviously referring to Central High's scheduled opening on Monday.

The court's decision was set forth in a three-paragraph order, limited strictly to legal aspects of the case.

It upheld the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals in setting aside a 2½-year delay granted the school board by Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley on June 21.

The order, read by Chief Justice Earl Warren in a tense courtroom, said the views of the nine justices elaborating the decision would be issued "in due course."

In these later opinions the court may elaborate on what it meant by its 1955 doctrine that integration throughout the south should proceed "with all deliberate speed." But its order today made clear that in Little Rock's Central High School at least "all deliberate speed" means right now.

The decision was another victory for Thurgood Marshall, lanky counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored Peoples.

He said that he "assumed" and "expected" the seven Negro children would go to Central High School on Monday. He said he expected no violence "unless somebody provokes it."

FINAL

Gagliardi Asks Ottawa for Wharves

VANCOUVER (CP)—Highways Minister Gagliardi today asked the federal government to provide wharves and an estimated $2,000,000 for the proposed provincial government ferry service between Vancouver Island and the lower mainland.

The minister made his request in a talk with Works Minister Green, who is here for the B.C. Progressive Conservative convention.

Canadian Seamen Pickets Held in U.S.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Squads of policemen today arrested more than 60 of the 300 or more pickets who officers said were blocking traffic outside a Baltimore shipyard.

Police said the pickets were unemployed seamen hired by the Seafarers' International Union of North America, Canadian district, to protest work being performed here on the Ciudad de la Havana, one of eight ships sold by Canadian National Steamships to Cuban interests.

$100 Million Contracts Threatened

TORONTO (CP)—Construction projects worth $100,000,000 will be threatened if picket lines of the striking Cement Masons' Union continues to spread today.

The Operative Plasterers' and Cement Masons' Union called 450 men off the job Thursday to back demands for a change in shift work premiums.

Bomb Hoax at Integrated School

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Newly-integrated Pride Elementary School was cleared of students today after the principal received a telephone call saying a bomb had been planted in the building.

A 25-minute search failed to uncover any explosives, and classes were resumed.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM ALL OVER WORLD

Churchills Wed 50 Years

The half-century of married life was being marked by a small and intimate gathering that included the Churchills' journalist son Randolph, and Randolph's eight-year-old daughter, Arabella.

Gifts from friends and well-wishers ranged from tokens of goodwill in gold to such flamboyant offerings as a massive cigar in chocolate from Sweden, a crate of champagne from France and a gigantic bottle of brandy from a Riviera restaurant the wartime prime minister sometimes frequents.

Churchill, rose-cheeked and sporting a big Mexican sombrero, spent an hour on the beach of nearby Monte Carlo Thursday.

WELCOME GIFT
BY RACEHORSE

Sir Winston Churchill's horse, Welsh Abbot, led all the way today to win the big sprint of the Doncaster race course, the Portland Handicap.

Welsh Abbot was a 100-to-9 chance.

Forgery Suspect To Higher Court

Government cheque forgery suspect William Black, 32, of Vancouver, was committed for trial before a judge and jury at completion of a preliminary hearing in Saanich police court Thursday.

The sitting was the last of three which began Aug. 28 and included the hearing of 42 Crown witnesses and admission of 77 exhibits.

The accused made no statement at the hearing and called no witnesses.

LATE OCTOBER

Prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie said the trial would not likely begin before late October since the Fall Assizes beginning Oct. 9 already has a lengthy list, including a murder trial.

Black is charged with attempting to deal with a forged document, a government of Canada income tax refund cheque for $263.15, at the Saanich branch of the Bank of Montreal, 3450-Quadra, July 24.

He was arrested about 3:30 p.m. that day on the Malahat near Shawinigan Lake cut-off driving a car witnesses said was driven from near the bank after the cheque was presented.

Police said two men made a whirlwind tour of 18 Victoria area banks in about 3½ hours July 24, cashing $4,473.55 in phony government cheques and trying for a total $4,736.00 before banks were tipped off.

IDENTICAL

All cheques presented in the concentrated attack were identical, police said.

Among the pile of evidence presented were tiny fragments of cardboard lining material found in Black's Vancouver apartment with other material picked up in a bundled blanket below tidemark on the Fraser River.

There were 1,855 cheques entered as evidence found on the river bank, 499 of them made out to a value of $132,177.05, and the others in varying degrees of completion.

Snow, Frost, Heat Waves—Normal Here

The weather is "topic A" across the North American continent where Calgary racked up an all time 83 mark Thursday, snow fell on Labrador and northeastern Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick had frost, Saskatchewan looked for continuing autumn heat waves, and the New England States got a foretaste of winter with 24-degree temperatures.

But here in Victoria — of course — we are enjoying a normally mild September — of course.

Hardly worth mentioning are daytime temperatures in the high sixties, lots of sunshine varied with cream-puff clouds and occasional showers.

Russian Guns Shell Jap Fishing Fleet

TOKYO (Reuters)—A small northern Japanese fishing fleet today radioed an urgent message for help after reporting it was being shelled and attacked by Soviet patrol vessels near Habomai Island, north of Japan.

Habomai Island was occupied by Soviet forces at the end of the Pacific war.

A radio report received in Tokyo this evening from Kuchino port, northern Japan, said three fishing vessels of the fleet had run aground near Suisho Island, a few miles off Habomai Island.

A coastguard spokesman in Tokyo said one of the vessels,

Food Monopoly Under Attack

TORONTO (CP)—A co-operative manager charged today that food handling in Canada is controlled by a few large monopolies.

C. M. Haapanen of the Consumers Co-operative Society Ltd. at Timmins, Ont., told the royal commission on price spreads that "this concentrating of processing and distribution restricts competition."

HOCKEY STAR FINED $1,000, NO JAIL TERM

VANCOUVER (CP)—National Hockey League star Murray (Bert) Olmstead was sentenced today to a $1,000 fine or three months in jail for assault causing bodily harm.

The fine was substituted by the court of appeal for the six-month sentence the 32-year-old hockey player was given by Magistrate N. J. Bartman when he was found guilty in police court of an attack June 28, on Ralph Rooney, a West Vancouver businessman.

Olmstead paid the fine immediately.

FICTITIOUS

It was in the name of Richard Marshall, with an Oak Bay address, 2502 Brighton. There is no 2500 block on Brighton, and Mr. McKenzie said evidence would prove the address fictitious.

At the hearing's first session evidence was called to the effect that the cashed cheques and the cheque presented at the Saanich bank were in the name of Richard Marshall, 2502 Brighton.

Lynn Christie Thow, of Vernon, former teller at the Saanich Bank of Montreal, told the hearing he was at his desk at about 2:15 p.m. July 24 when a man of about 30 tried to cash a cheque at the teller's wicket.

RAN FAST

After about three minutes he walked out and Thow followed him to the door, the hearing was told. When the man was outside he began running fast, north on Quadra toward Cloverdale.

The accountant said the would-be cheque casher was headed toward a car parked in front of a meat store. It was a white 1957 Consul, with a bent licence plate, number 353-609. It had a leaking gas tank.

There was another man three-quarters out of the driver's seat who got in the car as the other man ran around and got in the passenger side of the front seat.

GOOD LOOK

Thow turned into a service station and watched from behind a gas pump, he said, and the car came past at a distance of 30-40 yards. He said he got a good look at the driver.

He pointed out Black in the court room as being the same man.

Police were called and meanwhile bank manager Melvin George Genge came up in his car and both men gave chase in it down Cloverdale towards Douglas.

At the first sitting the manager said his car followed at speeds around 90 miles an hour but did not catch up with the fleeing auto.

PICKED BLACK

About 3:30 p.m. that day the accountant said Det. Sgt. Joseph Armstrong of Saanich police picked him up and took him to Colwood RCMP detachment where he picked Black from among four or five men. He later identified the car.

Thow denied a suggestion by defence counsel James Proudfoot that Det. Sgt. Armstrong had pointed out Black to him.

Air Drop Considered For Quemoy

TAIPEI (AP)—Nationalist Chinese commanders today wrote off as ineffective American-escorted convoys to besieged Quemoy.

The continued success of Communist China's mainland artillery in driving away the Nationalist supply ships before they could unload raised the possibility of air drops to the off-shore islands.

Speculation also rose that the Nationalists would make air attacks on the Red siege guns.

The biggest barrage so far of the war in the Formosa Strait — 57,746 Communist shells in 5½ hours — Thursday forced two Nationalist supply ships off Quemoy beach before they could unload more than a small part of their cargo. Reporters on the scene reported at least 40 Nationalist soldiers were wounded.

Thirteen ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet which had escorted the convoy from the Pescadore Islands remained three to 12 miles off the beach, in line with U.S. policy not to incur the risk of a shooting duel with the Communists.

Hope Wanes

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—Fear that two-year-old Cindy Lou MacLane may have been carried off by a bear was heightened as the search for the little girl entered its fourth day today. Hope for the girl's safety waned.

5. Hiring of a professional public relations expert and possibly an organizer for the women's groups;

6. Inclusion of additional members from outlying districts on the provincial executive.

The proposal is designed to return to the federal fold the rebel provincial ring which broke away years ago by cutting relations with former national leader George Drew.

Mr. Hackett said 30 new PC associations have been created in the province since April giving the party representation in all 42 provincial ridings now.

The session elected Mrs. R. Campbell, a Victoria delegate, as one of six vice-presidents of the B.C. Women's Progressive Conservative Association.

However, most delegates skipped the business session as campaigning between Finlayson and Kidd waxed strong. Delegates' bets still are evenly divided on who will be the next leader.

In all the excited fanfare accompanying the campaign, credentials officials are struggling with the mighty problem of ascertaining the qualifications of 550 of the 600 who turned out.

A total of 760 ballots, including proxies, are expected to be cast in the leadership election Saturday.

CPR Denies Seattle Workers Facing Layoff

A CPR spokesman today denied reports that two-weeks notice had been given all company dock employees at Seattle, indicating cancellation of service.

He said no such notice had been given.

He added that winter schedules on the Victoria-Seattle-Vancouver run had not yet been drawn up.

The winter service usually starts with the change-back to Standard Time, this year on Sept. 27.

Island Ratepayers Hit Freight Boost

Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association today sent a telegram to the federal transport board in Ottawa protesting any increase in railway rates.

The telegram signed by George Bonner, president; Russell Rice, treasurer, and Herb Watson, secretary, reads:

"Dear Sirs—Do not forget that the Canadian National Railways was built and an election won in 1905 for the sole purpose of competition with the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. Therefore any joint appeal by these railways for increased rates is beyond the power of the transport board to deal with."

Mr. Bonner recalled that the 1905 election was won by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Liberal party. "On election day I travelled by dog sleigh from Melville to

Doukhobors Ignore Forms

NELSON (CP)—Sons of Freedom Doukhobors are showing little indication they intend to sign the provincial and federal governments' forms which could lead to their migration to Russia. No forms have yet been turned in to the government agent at Nelson.

Despite discussions which sect leaders held with provincial government authorities at Victoria and the two-day meeting which they had with members of the Russian embassy at Ottawa, no signs have yet been forthcoming to show that the group really intends to migrate.

Drug Suspect Nabbed

MONTREAL (CP)—Two RCMP officers left Montreal by air today for Vancouver where a man wanted since 1955 on a charge of trafficking in narcotics is being held. Vancouver police said William James Lucky Caney, alias Billy Manor was arrested for failing to pay a $5 parking fine.

Grenfell, Sask., through a blinding blizzard to cast my vote," Mr. Bonner said. "I can therefore claim to know what this election was about."

force, and upon that point we strongly support the American position."

Asked whether Britain considers the use of American convoys to protect Nationalist Chinese ships as the use of force, the spokesman said: "I should have thought that force was when you made things go bang."

The spokesman, answering a further question, said no guarantee of U.S. support in the event of an attack on Hong Kong had been "sought or given."

On Formosa, Nationalist Foreign Minister Huang Shao Ku, said he was "deeply impressed" by Eisenhower's "far-sighted declaration" the real issue facing the world is "premeditated aggression engineered by both Soviet Russians and Chinese Communists."

RED CHINA SILENT

No official reaction came immediately from Communist China but the party newspaper Peiping People's Daily said today the United States should ease the dangerous situation in the Formosa Straits with "deeds not words."

In Japan, the opposition Socialist party called for the withdrawal of Nationalist troops from Matsu and Quemoy and objected to "military intervention" by the United States.

In Paris, the ring-wing L'Aurore said Eisenhower "deemed it necessary to address the American people because he felt perfectly well that United States policy in the 'strait crisis' gave rise to serious objections and contradictory debates."

fight for the offshore Nationalist islands—when he declared: "It is as certain as can be that the shooting which the Chinese Communists started on Aug. 23 has as its purpose not just the taking of the island of Quemoy. It is part of what is indeed an ambitious plan of armed conquest."

"This plan would liquidate all of the free world positions in the Western Pacific area and bring them under captive governments which would be hostile to the United States and to the free world."

"Thus the Chinese and Russian Communists would come to dominate at least the western half of the now friendly Pacific Ocean."

"I must say to you very frankly and soberly, my friends, the United States cannot accept the result that the Communists seek. Neither can we show, now, a weakness of purpose—a timidity."

But almost in the next breath Eisenhower emphasized he feels duty-bound "not to make absolute advance commitments, but to use my judgment according to the circumstances of the time."

NEGRO YOUTH HELD IN MURDER CASE

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 18-year-old Negro has been picked up in Farmville, Va., for questioning in the killing of Dr. Melvin Nimer and his wife, Lou Jean, the New York World-Telegram and Sun reported today.

The couple's eight-year-old son, Melvin Dean, is under psychiatric examination after allegedly telling police that he killed his parents in their bed with a kitchen knife.
